DRY REVOLT ON, SENATORS TOLD

Today

Radio Can't Answer, Big Brain, But Unwise, Japan in South America, Imagine Her Surprise.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE President appeals to the nation, by radio, to support the World Court. This is, in part, a reply to the State of Illinois, which, with 200,000 votes to spare, nominated Mrs. Ruth McCormick for the Senate. Her campaign was an attack on the World Court. Her opponent, Mr. Deneen, favored it.

THE radio gives you no answer. Talk as earnestly as he may, the President cannot know what his hearers think. If "listeners-in" would write to "President Hoover, Washington, D. C., I do not want the United States in the League Court" (or "I do want the United States in the League Court"), that would be enlightening.

RUSSIA laments its "best poet," Vladimir Mayakovsky, who killed himself recently, leaving his brain to the "Soviet Institute of Brains." It was dissected, studied, found to weigh 1,700 grammes, and put away with the brains of Lenin and others.

It was a big brain, heavier by 400 grammes than the average, but not wise enough to keep the poet from killing himself.

THE poet's farewell letter requests the "Comrade Government" to take care of his mother, and sister, also "Lily Brik and Veronika Polonskaya."

The last two ladies both loved him, at least he thought so, and he killed himself because he couldn't decide which of the two he liked better.

All poets are more or less queer, Russian poets probably the queerest.

JAPAN'S plan for extensive colonizing in Brazil is proceeding energetically. Hashiro Fukuhara, who organized and manages the "Japanese Colonization Company of Plantations in Brazil," has secured 2,500,000 acres.

Hundreds of thousands of Japanese can live and grow properous on that fertile soil.

The crops will include cotton, rice, tobacco, and the cocoa bean.

INTELLIGENTLY managed, Brazil's Japanese colony will sell supplies to its members below usual prices. Three million cocoa trees will be planted in the next two years.

The development of cotton lands will, of course, influence world price established in Europe. Coupled with energetic British development of cotton in Africa, this interests American cotton growers.

HASHIRO FUKUHARA'S idea interests North and South America.

There are fertile lands and opportunity for tens of millions of Japanese in Brazil. There may also be some problems in the Asiatic settlement.

But it is Brazil's problem and business, not ours.

THE French have a saying: "Nul ne pent se dire heureux, avant son dernier jour" ("No man can call himself happy until his last day").

In the German poem one man says to the tyrant of Samos "Dich kann mein mund night gleucklich sprechen, so lang des feindes auge wacht." ("My mouth cannot call thee happy as long as the enemy's eye is open.")

In other words "he hath put down the mighty from their seats," and done it often.

CROESUS, who bragged of his gold and power, found himself later on top of Cyrus' bonfire. A few days ago Grand Duchess Marie, member of the royal house of Russia, now in New York, earning a living, was told by a friend where interesting books in Russian might be bought. One that she bought was a book of Russian fairy stories that her father had read to her when she was a child. It had his name and book mark in it.

VERY valuable and interesting would be the books of old Voltaire, with margins of pages covered with notes in his fine handwriting.

The grand duchess says those books, bought by Catherine II when Voltaire died, are all carefully preserved by the Soviet government.

AFTER Germany launched the great steamship Bremen, it was said that British and Americans could not afford a 50,000-ton ship. It would cost more to build and run than it could earn. But launching of the German supership Europa has stirred up the old Cunard line and it will build two passenger ships of 70,000 tons each, faster than any passenger ship on the ocean.

The first one will be ready in 1933.

The British do not mean to lose control of ocean traffic.

THE wise Germans announce a merger of the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd lines. The two big companies will "retain their identities," while cutting off needless overhead expenses.

Right to Use Arms Defended By Anti-Prohibition Head Comparing 1776 Tyranny

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The citizens of the United States have as much right to revolt, armed or otherwise, against the Eighteenth Amendment as they had to rise in the days of 1776, Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, told the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee today.

He declared the wets of the nation were in "revolt" against the prohibition amendment and that "five sovereign states" had joined in the revolt. He asserted that the wets had a right to use armed force to uphold their views, but he hoped the time would never come when the prohibition law would provoke bloodshed.

ARMED REVOLT VIEW

"Would you take up arms against it?" he was asked.

"I think that the rights of mankind should be defended in any way," Curran replied. "I hope the time will never come when we will have to resort to arms in this revolt. If it ever does, we will cross the bridge when we come to it."

Curran predicted, when he first took the stand, that the Eighteenth Amendment will be repealed within five years."

"Already five sovereign states are in open revolt and three out of four people want the amendment repealed," he declared.

In a hearing replete with outbreaks by the drys on the committee against the leader of the wets, the New Yorker remained calm, cool and smiling.

LIKE 1776 TYRANNY

The dramatic suggestion came at the conclusion of the hearing, when Caraway asked Curran if he believed that the people's rights had been interfered with as much

MISSING CHOIR SINGER FOUND

Miss Elizabeth Hanzel, 22, of 241 Lafayette avenue, who disappeared April 1, was home today. She was found in Huntington, W. Va., yesterday and returned on request of her parents. No cause was given to explain her mysterious disappearance.

A choir singer and assistant department manager of a downtown store, Miss Hanzel vanished on the evening of April 1 on her way home from work.

The only clue police had was that she had called a girl friend, Miss Ruth Kemmler, of 1745 Cowley street, at 9 o'clock the same night, and invited her to a party, according to the Kemmler girl's statement to police.

On April 10, the parents of Miss Hanzel had offered a $200 reward for information leading to the finding of the girl.

Rain and Cooler Weather Predicted

Rain and slightly lower temperatures were predicted for today in the forecast of Observer W. S. Brotzman, who said the rain would extend throughout the tri-state district and that the lowest temperature would be between 45 and 50 degrees. The cooler weather prevailing here is general. Over Canada the temperatures are below freezing.

QUITS MOTHER, LOSES FORTUNE

CINCINNATI, O., April 16.—(AP.)—The court fight between Mrs. Henry Bethell, wife of a wealthy general in the British army stationed in India and her mother, Mrs. Marie Hanke, for guardianship of Mrs. Bethell's daughter, Miss Marjorie Schiele, 17, apeared near an end today after Mrs. Bethell said she would disinherit her daughter.

Mrs. Bethell's disinheritance statement, made today, followed statements made almost daily by Miss Schiele, for the last two weeks that she wanted to remain in America under her grandmother's guardianship rather than go to India with her mother.

Mrs. Bethell left India several weeks ago for Cincinnati to be present at the seventeenth birthday party of her daughter. Upon arrival in this country, she learned that Mrs. Hanke had been appointed guardian for Miss Schiele and that grandmother and granddaughter had fled from Cincinnati to escape seeing Mrs. Bethell. The latter, however, located them in a Philadelphia hotel.

REGISTERING RUSHED ON LAST DAY

Residents of Newly-Annexed Areas Will Lose Vote by Not Qualifying Tonight

Hundreds of residents of territory recently annexed by the city of Pittsburgh face disfranchisement unless they register today.

Electors of Overbrook and a portion of Ross Township, recently annexed, have been accustomed to having the borough assessor register them for the elections. Now they are residents of the city, where personal registration is required.

Many of the residents of the newly-annexed sections did not realize their peril until today, and city political leaders hurriedly visited the districts, urging them to register to insure their right to vote at the May primaries.

Today is the only registration day in Pittsburgh before the spring primaries. Registrars were at the polling places from 7 to 10 a. m. and will sit again from 4 to 10 p. m.

Pittsburgh residents who registered last fall need not register today unless they have moved.

April 30 will be registration day in the three other cities of the county, McKeesport, Clairton and Duquesne. The registration books in Pittsburgh contain the names of 188,362 residents eligible to vote.

MITCHELL ASKS PRISON RELIEF

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—Attorney General Mitchell has told the Senate Judiciary Committee that, because of prison congestion, "further stimulating activities of prosecution under any law will get us into difficulties."

The Senate Judiciary Committee is working on a federal prison relief progoram and legislation is expected to be presented within a short time.

Detailing law enforcement conditions to the committee, he reported that federal prisoners had increased by 6,277 in the last nine months.

The testimony was made public today and in it the attorney general declared himself opposed to a proposed Senate investigation of dry enforcement on the ground that it would paralyze enforcement activities during the inquiry.

Of the increase in federal prison population during the last nine months, Mr. Mitchell reported that 1,811 of the 1,999 new prisoners were prohibition violators. He named the Dyer Auto Theft Act and the Mann Act as the other principal causes of increased prison congestion.

Action of the Bachmann bill for additional federal judges was postponed for two weeks today after a meeting of the House Judiciary Committee.

The measure was proposed as a substitute for the bills embodying recommendations by the Hoover Law Enforcement Commission.

BROWN ISSUES PLATFORM

Pennsylvania's primary battle roared along all fronts today with these developments:

1—Francis Shunk Brown made public his platform, or "declaration of principles," in his campaign for governor.

2—Francis H. Bohlen, for senator, and Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., for governor, announced wet ticket platform.

3—Senator Grundy's candidacy for re-election indorsed by Council of Associated Building Trades of Philadelphia.

4—Former Mayor J. Hampton Moore named Philadelphia manager of Davis-Brown campaign.

5—Former Gov. Pinchot and Bohlen replied to questionnaire of American Federation of Labor of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—(INS.)—Reaffirming his recent declaration on prohibition and voicing his opposition to "interference with states rights" as the refusal of the U. S. Senate to seat William S. Vare, Francis Shunk Brown issued his platform, or as he prefers to call it, his statement of principles today.

The statement is a lengthy document covering 12 t written pages and gives Brown's stand on

John J. Burke Hurt When Auto Skids

John Jay Burke, city office manager of the Allegheny County Bureau of Parks, and Frank Petrolia, of 9 Sycamore street, proprietor of a restaurant at the Schenley Park golf clubhouse, were injured today when their automobile skidded in the Boulevard of the Allies at Brady street. Neither wts injured seriously.

The accident occurred when Burke swerved his car to avoid hitting a parked machine owned by A. E. Gascott, of 3703 Fleming avenue. Burke and Petrolia were on their way downtown after attending the opening of the Schenley Park golf course.

Queen Victoria's Dog Dies of Grief

ROME, April 16.—(AP.)—"Luck," a large black dog which for 18 years was the faithful companion of Queen Victoria, of Sweden, today followed his mistress in death.

During the last days of the Queen, who died here April 4, "Luck" seemed to sense that his mistress was near the end, for he refused to leave her room. Following the Queen's death the dog refused to eat, became ill and died. He was a familiar figure here and had often been seen walking beside the Queen.

Huge Radio Combine Ready

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP.)—Radio Corporation of America has completed arrangements to acquire the radio manufacturing facilities of the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, it was learned from official sources today.

Details of the plan are being withheld until tomorrow, but it is understood in Wall street that the plan contemplates an exchange of stock which will give General Electric and Westinghouse together a substantial majority of the common stock of Radio Corporation.

These companies already hold about 25 per cent of the stock, most of this being held by General Electric.

The plan is regarded as a further development in the concentration of the manufacture of R. C. A. radio sets at the plant of the R. C. A.-Victor Corporation. It was announced several months ago that this corporation, which took over the plants of the Victor Talking Machine Company at Camden, N. J., would take over the radio manufacturing activities of General Electric and Westinghouse. Half of the stock of R. C. A.-Victor is held by Radio Corporation, 30 peer cent by General Electric and 20 per cent by Westinghouse.

David Sarnoff, president of the R. C. A., who went to Washington today and called at the White House, said that the merger of the radio facilities would unify rights of manufacture and sale of radios and predicted it would result in a reduced price on radio sets and tubes.

Under the existing arrangement, R. C. A. has the selling rights and Westinghouse and General Electric the manufacturing rights.

SENATE QUIZ URGED

WASHINGTON, April 16—(AP.)—Asserting "a new radio trust" had been formed, Senator Dill (Dem.), Washington, urged in the Senate today that the Department of Justice inquire into the reported sale by the Radio Corporation of America of $543,000,000 in stocks to the General Electric and Westinghouse companies in payment for radio patents.

BRAME ON HILL FOR PIRATES

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

Batteries—Brame and Hemsley; Donohue and Sukeforth.

REDLAND FIELD, CINCINNATI, April 16.—The Pittsburgh Pirates were out to score their second straight victory here this afternoon as they met the Cincinnati Reds in the second battle of their four-game series.

Ervin Brame, tall righthander of the Corsairs, was on the mound for the Pirates, while Pete Donohue, veteran righthander of the Reds, opposed him.

Attendance today dropped considerably over that which turned out for the opener, only 5,000 attending the contest.

Heine Meine, Pirate righthand pitcher, who was denied the honor of pitching the opening game, today had improved to such an extent that he was allowed to dress, but the Pirate physician ordered him to stay out of diamond regalia.

Meine's fever had entirely disappeared, but he was weak and drawn as he appeared in the hotel lobby. Had he not shown marked improvement, Manager Ens had intended to send him to Pittsburgh to be ready for the opening series, but Meine probably will be able to go to the mound in the St. Louis series. Moreover, St. Louis is his home and he would like to get there for a few days.

The game in detail:

FIRST INNING

PITTSBURGH — Brickell out, Critz to Kelly. Grantham fanned, but had to be thrown out, Sukeforth to Kelly. P. Waner singled to left. Donohue threw out Comorosky. One hit.

CINCINNATI—Critz bunted, but was out to Suhr unassisted. Callaghan flied to Engle. Sukeforth flied to P. Waner.

FUND GIVEN TO AID SHY NEEDY

H. M. Beer, Crafton Broker, Creates Memorial to His Sister Out of $300,000

A fund estimated at more than $175,000 for relief of persons, "preferably of culture and refinement apt to shrink from charity," is provided by the will of Harry M. Beer, of Crafton, filed for probate today, disposing of $300,000.

Beer, for many years a stock broker of St. Louis, and unmarried, designates that the fund shall be named the Mary B. Dalzell memorial fund in honor of his sister, who at her death left valuable paintings to Carnegie Institute.

CITES PURPOSE OF FUND

The testator sets forth the purpose of the fund to be for "relief from want, care and worry of persons who because of illness or misfortune would suffer." He asks that preference be given to that class which ordinarily shuns charity and is "likely to be overlooked in the work of many organizations which dispense charity."

The fund is to be administered by three trustees of which two are Mrs. Martha Dalzell Trainer and P. D. Beatty, and preference is to be given residents of Allegheny County.

OTHER BEQUESTS

The testator, who died April 7 in St. Louis at the age of 82, makes these bequests: $15,000 each to a cousin, Josephine L. Perkins; three children of a deceased cousin, Mrs. Ruth Taylor, Mrs. Dorothy Coffin and Capt. Charles Soule; $5,000 each to Mrs. Martha Trainer, her husband, William N. Trainer; J. Willis Dalzell and his wife, Mary Louis Dalzell, P. D. Beatty and to William J. Stewart, the last named "faithful chauffeur of my sister, Mrs. M. B. Dalzell"; $40,000 to Mrs. Thomas F. Harrow, of London.

The residue goes to the memorial relief fund. Beatty and the Exchange National Bank are named as executors of the will.

TROLLEY WAGE VOTE TONIGHT

A wage proposition, which does not concede an increas sought by the 2,800 motormen and conductors of the Pittsburgh Railways Company will be voted on tonight and tomorrow by the men, it was learned today.

What the proposition is, none of those officially concerned would say, as an agreement has been made between the wage committee of the Street Railways Union representing the men, and the railways company, to make no statements until some decision had been reached.

The day men will vote on the proposed agreement at 8 o'clock tonight in Moose Temple, and the night men will vote tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

According to reports believed authentic the car men sought an increase of 15 cents an hour to a maximum of 90 cents for one-man car operators and a five-cent increase to 75 cents for operators of two-man cars. The company, however, it was declared, has incorporated no wage increase in its counter proposal upon which the men will vote.

League Court Opposition Reaffirmed by D. A. R.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS.)—Today, two days after President Hoover indorsed American membership of the League Court in a speech before the Thirty-ninth Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the organization again went on record as opposing any and all foreign entanglements.

Through acceptance of a report of its Committee of Correct Use of the Flag, of which Mrs. Charles Brand is chairman, the Congress declared itself as flatly opposed to all efforts to "drag the United States into a tangle of European politics, by way of the League of Nations or by way of the World Court or by way of a consultation pact or by any means, little or big, slightly or important, to get us involved in European diplomacy or in European offensive or defensive operations."

The President was to receive the 3,500 delegates to the convention alone this afternoon at the annual White House reception given the delegtes.

Mrs. Hoover is suffering from a severe cold, and while not in bed, is confined to her quarters. The President's cold was somewhat improved today, although it is still noticeable.

POLICE QUELL ATTACKS

LONDON, April 16.—(INS)—New outbreaks of violence, forcing the British authorities to use stern measures of repression, took place in various places in India today as Mahatma Gandhi's campaign of civil disobedience continued to spread throughout the country

Developments in the situation were as follows

1—A riotous mob stormed the magistrate's court at Karachi, India, and was dispersed only when troops opened fire. One was killed, 35 were injured.

2—Calcutta was turned into a virtual armed camp as serious rioting continued throughout the night.

3—Three hundred Gandhi volunteers started a march on Wadal to raid government store houses and destroy government salt pans.

SCORES WOUNDED

The Karachi attack culminated 16 hours of savage rioting

The riot broke out after the arrest of six National Congress leaders following a police raid on Ghandi's local headquarters during which important documents were seized.

When the prisoners were taken to court for arraignment, Nationalist sympathizers of the Mahatma stormed the courthouse with stones and brickbats, seriously injuring two police sergeants.

Police immediately opened fire, injuring several of the rioters. The mob attempted to fight back, but were cowed when the officers threatened to fire a second volley.

Meanwhile bitter street fighting continued in various parts of Calcutta. All available troops and police were rushed to the scene when the Nationalists staged an attack upon the headquarters of the general hospital where nine of the Europeans injured in the riots had been taken.

ATTACK QUELLED

Police finally quelled the attack after arresting 20 of the rioters. Some of them were apprehended on roofs overlooking the streets, where they were encamped with huge piles of stones beside them. Many of the injuries have been caused by rocks hurled from the rooftops.

International News Service dispatches from Bombay indicated the violence is spreading like wildfire. In addition to the volunteers marching on Wadal to raid the government warehouses, 10,000 jute workers have gone on strike and declared their intention of participating in all Gandhi demonstrations.

Several important British officials were injured in a riot at Poona, according to late dispatches to the evening newspapers. Police charged into the midst of the demonstrators and dispersed the crowd after making a number of arrests

The British officials were injured by stones and brick-bats.

Strike Called Off By India Rail Union

BOMBAY, April 16.—(AP.)—The Great Indian Peninsular Railway Railmen's Union today called off their strike, which began February 4. The strikers had demanded higher wages and better working conditions.

The strike was ended when the union leaders advised the men that further resistanse was useless. The railroad administration is arranging to reinstate as many men as possible

DEBATE ADDING 18 U.S. JUDGES

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—The Bachman plan for relieving court congestion by appointing eighteen additional federal judges, was taken up today by the House Judiciary Committee, as a substitute for the proposals of the Wickersham Law Enforcement Commission

The program was drafted after several months' consideration had brought a disagreement on the commission's recommendation that court relief be accomplished by permitting United States commissioners to hold juryless trials of minor offenders. There have been intimations that it meets the approval of both the drys and anti-drys.

The committee also planned to reconsider the Stobbs bill to modify the Jones law, by defining minor offenses and fixing their maximum penalties at six months in jail and $50 fine.

INDICT SPROUL IN NEW CASE

Evangelist John W. Sproul was indicted by the grand jury today on a charge of fraudulent conversion. The action follows an indictment last week when the grand jury found a true bill on a worthless check charge

The charge of fraudulent conversion was made by John M. Luderman, who claimed that he had advanced Sproul $1,500 to pay telephone tolls in connection with operation of the evangelist's radio broadcasting station, WMBJ, which is listed for sale by the sheriff.

Peterhoff in Soviet To Be Play Center

LENINGRAD, April 16.—(AP.)—Peterhoff, built more than 200 years ago by Peter the Great as the imperial summer residence and known as the Versailles of Russia, soon will be converted into a recreational center for Soviet workers and their families. Soviet authorities today decided to erect 50 permanent rest houses, to create 20 recreational centers and to prepare numerous bathing beaches there for the workers.

An Easter sunrise service atop the summit of Mt. Davidson, in San Francisco, overlooking the Golden Gate, will be brought to Pittsburgh radio listeners Sunday morning at 8 o'clock by KDKA and the Hearst Radio Service, of which the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph is a part.

All faiths will be represented in this unique service, which will feature an organ prelude and postlude, singing by a chorus of 25,000 pilgrims and a 40-piece symphony orchestra.

The broadcast will start at 5 o'clock, Pacific Coast time, just as dawn breaks.

URGE RENEWAL OF CARGO CASE

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—The Western Pennsylvania Coal Traffic Bureau, of Pittsburgh, placed before the Interstate Commerce Commission today its answer to a motion of the Southern railroads to dismiss the bureau's complaint against freight rates applying on bituminous coal shipped from southern states to lake ports.

The bureau renewed its request for a general study of the rate structure of both territories, and charged that the request for oral argument, made by the southern carriers, is dilatory.

Carriers represented in the motion to dismiss as listed by the Coal Traffic Bureau are Chesapeake and Ohio, Louisville and Nashville, Norfolk and Western, and the Virginian.

Wilkinsburg Man Exposes Lottery

WASHINGTON, April 16—(AP.)—Solicitor Donnelly, of the Postoffice Department, informed Representative Kelly, of Edgewood, Pa., that he had issued a fraud order directing postmasters to return to senders mail addressed to Svend Aaberg, of Copenhagen, Denmark. Postmasters also were instructed to refuse to certify money orders drawn in his favor.

G. B. Bennett, 708 Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, Pa., filed complaint against Aaberg, through Kelly, after receiving circulars soliciting him to subscribe to a lottery. Kelly said

Fake Dry Raiders Steal Watch From Home

Four men stepped from their auto in front of Mrs. Mabel Robinson's home at 987 Greenfield avenue, rapped on the front door and told Mrs. Robinson they were prohibition agents.

They exhibited what they said was a search warrant and they demanded to search the house.

They did, from high to low.

Apologetic, they departed without finding any contraband.

And after they had gone Mrs. Robinson discovered that her daughter's wrist watch was missing from a bedroom dresser.

Prohibition headquarters today said the men were fakers.

TRIPLE TREATY COMPLETE

By HARRY R. FLORY,
International News Service.

LONDON, April 16.—Terms of the "safety" clause to be included in the tripartite naval treaty between Japan, Great Britain and the United States were agreed upon this morning by representatives of these nations during the course of a conference of all delegation heads at 10 Downing street.

This clause, which, in effect would permit Great Britain to go beyond her treaty limitation pledges in the event any European nation built her navy beyond the strength of the British sea forces, was the last problem delaying completion of the treaty draft.

A sharp exchange between Lieut. Com. J. M. Kenworthy, prominent Laborite, and First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander on the question of disarmament took place in the House of Commons today.

Kenworthy asked the First Lord whether the agreement almost ready for signing meant that the three great naval powers' fleets would be increased, the American one very substantially.

Alexander answered that this was putting a very unfair light in the situation, since Kenworthy took no account of ships now under construction or the position which would have been reached by the world's fleets in 1936 in the absence of an agreement.

VOTE ON PARKER FACES DELAY

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS.)—The hard luck that seems to follow President Hoover in his judicial appointments persisted today as Senate leaders dawdled over the case of John J. Parker, of North Carolina, nominated by Mr. Hoover three weeks ago for the United States Supreme Court.

So serious has grown the opposition to Judge Parker's confirmation that Republican leaders in the Senate fear to bring it to a vote, and the expedient has been adopted of postponing all action for a week while they try to find some way out of the situation.

Today the amazing proposal of deferring action for the rest of this session was actually being discussed in Senate circles. Such action would be unprecedented, for unless Judge Parker is confirmed before the scheduled adjournment on June 1 he cannot, of course, be confirmed until the regular session beginning next December.

The opposition is based almost entirely upon the antagonism of the American Federation of Labor and the Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

TWO SENATORS REFUSE SLUSH PROBE POST

Bingham Declines to Fill Vacancy Occasioned by Goldsborough Resignation

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—Appointed today to serve on the Senate campaign funds investigating committee, Senator Bingham (Rep.), Connecticut, declined because of the necessity of leaving the country this summer on the Samoan Commission.

This left a vacancy in the committee post originally assigned to Senator Goldsborough (Rep.), Maryland, who resigned today.

The committee was called by Chairman Nye to meet late today for organization. Other members are Patterson (Rep.), Missouri; Dill, Washington, and Wagner, New York, Democrats.

Senator Johnson (Rep.), California, and Senator Pittman (Dem.), Nevada, also declined to serve. They gave the same reasons as Goldsborough—an excess of other duties.

ILLINOIS PROBE ASKED

Blanket charges of the use of excessive campaign funds have been lodged with the committee against Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick (Rep.), of Illinois, first woman to be nominated for the Senate on a major party ticket.

A number of complaints, filed with Senator Nye (Rep.), of North Dakota, the new chairman, charged both Mrs. McCormick and her defeated opponent, Senator Charles S. Deneen, with spending too much money in their battle for the Republican senatorial nomination.

COMPLAINTS ON GRUNDY

Nye, at the same time, revealed there had been similar complaints against Senator Joseph R. Grundy (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, and his rival, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, in the Republican senatorial contest. The Keystone State primary will be held next month.

NURSE FEARED CAPTURED IN CHINA

Mrs. Charles A. Bridgeman, Graduate of Allegheny, Believed Held With Mate

Concern was expressed here today for Mrs. Charles A. Bridgeman, a graduate of Allegheny General Hospital's school of nursing, whose husband, according to dispatches, has been captured by bandits in West China and is being held for $200,000 ransom. Fear was felt that she also may have been captured.

MISSIONARY WORKER

Mrs. Bridgeman was graduated from the nursing school in 1908 as Miss Margaret Modeland, according to hospital records.

She and her husband have been stationed at Fow Chow as missionaries under auspices of the United Church of Canada. She is said to have a sister, Miss Emma Modeland, in Youngstown, O.

According to the Rev. Dr. James Endicott, of Toronto, Canada, head of the Foreign Mission Board of the United Church in Canada, the church probably will not pay the ransom.

ANOTHER NURSE FREED

HANKOW, April 16.—(AP.)—Miss Nina E. Gimmell, an American Girard, Kan., and Tacoma, Washington, arrived here today from a bandit's camp in Kiangsi Province mountains where she had been held for ransom.

As a result of her experiences since she was kidnapped, March 27, in a raid upon Yuanchow, Kiangsi, Miss Gemmell is confined to bed highly nervous and unable to make a statement.

ANTI-DRY FIGHT TOLD SENATORS

by the Eighteenth Amendment as under King George III.

"I certainly do," Curran answered.

Earlier in the quiz Curran was asked if the association employed only men for its investigations who were in favor of modification.

"That never entered into the matter. We didn't have a Literary Digest poll," he replied.

"You didn't employ Wayne B. Wheeler (the late general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League) did you?" asked Senator Blaine.

"No, but I would like to put Senator Brookhart on our payroll," shot back Curran as the room roared with laughter.

CARAWAY INDIGNANT

Caraway became indignant and asked why he would put Brookhart on the payroll.

"Because every time Brookhart makes a prohibition speech he turns thousands against prohibition," said Curran.

The Pennsylvania primaries came into the quiz when Curran was asked:

"Are you supporting anyone for office, now?"

"Yes, three in Republican primary campaigns in Pennsylvania, Francis H. Bohlen for senator, Thomas W. Phillips for governor and Charles Dorrance for lieutenant governor.

He said that the members of the Pennsylvania association picked them.

'DAVIS CAN'T TALK'

"You looked over Mr. Grundy."

"Not personally."

"Mr. Davis?"

"Yes, but he is straddling. If he would get out of the cabinet he might say something."

"No member of the cabinet seems to be able to talk," observed Caraway.

"Any one in the Illinois campaign?"

"Ms. McCormick hasn't said anything yet."

"Then you believe a lady has a right to change her mind?"

"Why certainly."

"To be factitious," said Blaine, "Mr. Grundy has said the backward states 'should talk pretty small.' He has been pussyfooting on prohibition, hasn't he, Mr. Curran?"

"He hasn't said anything at all," Curran replied, amid another laugh.

Curran frankly told the committee that his association supported wet candidates for office by advertising publicity and by having their members work in elections.

"The object of this association is to restore to the people of the several states the right taken from them to handle for themselves the question of liquor and to again control it in several states," he said.

BISHOP TO TESTIFY

Bishop James W. Cannon, chairman of the Southern Methodist Board of Temperance and Social Service, is to appear later and reply to the accusation of Representative Tinkham, of Massachusetts, a militant wet, that he has engaged in "offensive and coercive lobbying activities."

Tinkham made the assertion before the committee in requesting that certain dry organizations be included in the investigation.

Similarly, the leaders of the Anti-Saloon League and the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals are to testify in reply to charges made by Tinkham.

He accused the former of "flagrantly and audaciously" violating the federal corrupt practices act by failing to report all of its expenditures for political activities.

MR. AND MRS. R. E. BURNSIDE

MAN, WIFE U. S. LAWYERS NOW

A man and wife of Washington, Pa., both members of the Washington County Bar Association, made history in the legal profession when they were jointly admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court. This is the first time in history of the country that a husband and wife were admitted to practice before that tribunal.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Burnside, members of the firm of Burnside, Moninger & Burnside, of Washington. When they were admitted to practice in Washington, D. C., a few days ago their partner, Russell Z. Moninger, also was admitted, the entire firm gaining the privilege the same day.

The three Washington attorneys appeared before the court at its first sitting since Charles Evans Hughes became chief justice. The motion for the admittance of the Washington attorneys was made by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former deputy United States attorney general.

Burnside has been practicing law in Washington County 17 years, and in 1924 he was joined by his wife, Ethel B. Burnside, a graduate of Oberlin College. She has the distinction of being the first and at present the only woman to practice law in the county.

Plane Crash Kills 2 in Air, 1 on Land

CHATEAUROUX, France, April 16.—(AP.)—A woman was trapped in a house and burned to death and two pilots were killed when two military combat planes collided today and crashed into the streets.

One fell in front of City Hall, injuring a man. The pilot was hurled through the roof of a freight car. The other crushed the roof of a house, igniting it. A maid was burned to death. The pilot was catapulted into the courtyard and killed.

Mexican Seaside Visitors Vaccinated

MEXICO CITY, April 16.—(AP.)—Owing to several cases of smallpox in the seaport of Acapulco, Pacific Coast resort, compulsory vaccination was ordered for every one not recently vaccinated. The resort was crowded with visitors for the Easter holidays.

FEARS DEATH IN LIQUOR FEUD

Farmer, on Whose Land Still Was Found, Terrified by Slaying of Prosecutor

MAUSTON, Wis., April 16.—(AP.)—Fear of assassination such as befell District Attorney Clinton G. Price, of Juneau County, has prompted Frank Schultz, of New Richmond, Wis., to demand police protection, Schultz was a witness at the trial at which Price was acquitted of charges involving prohibition law violation.

In demanding a guard for his home, Schultz said he, like Price, had received threats against his life.

"BOY SHERIFF" HELD

Lyall T. Wright, ousted "boy sheriff" of Juneau County, is held in jail, accused of slaying Price.

Last Friday Wright was sentenced to eight months' imprisonment in connection with the liquor conspiracy case. The charge was the result of finding a huge still on the Schultz farm.

Price was killed Sunday night by an assailant who fired shotgun slugs through a kitchen window of the Price home. Wright was arrested after a trail of blood led from a spot near the Price home nearly to Wright's back door. When arrested, Wright had a severe cut on his hand, which bled profusely, doctors said.

LAUGHS CONFIDENTLY

Wright faces a preliminary hearing April 22. A coroner's jury yesterday refused to name him as the assailant even after a murder warrant was sworn against him Monday night.

He laughed at rumors of a sanity hearing for him, and insisted he would "beat the rap." Wright asserted he did not fire the shot that killed Price but said he knew who did, but "he's a hundred miles from here by now."

Authorities last night questioned Stanley Smitzki, co-defendant in the conspiracy case, at his home at Necedah. He told them he was not wit. Wright the night of the slaying and established a partial alibi.

BILL WOULD BAR ALL FILIPINOS

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—Complete exclusion of Philippine immigration into this country except for business and pleasure visitors was proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Shortridge (Rep.), of California.

Indorsing the Shortridge measure, Senator Dill (Dem.), of Washington, urged in the Senate that he offer it as an amendment to the pending Harris bill to place immigration from the Central and South American countries on a quota basis.

"Next to the problem of Mexican immigration," said Senator Dill, "that from the Philippine Islands confronts us as the most serious."

Ask New Indictment In O'Donnell Killing

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A new indictment charging Dexter Dayton with murder in the slaying of Marjorie O'Donnell, daughter of a former Pittsburgh newspaperman, will be sought today. Dayton was indicted for first degree murder a month ago after he is alleged to have killed the girl by choking her, but the indictment was held illegal on the grounds that one of the members of the grand jury, a woman, was a pensioner of the government.

Brazil Ambassador Gets Mexican Threat

MEXICO CITY, April 16.—(AP.)—A message demanding that the Brazilian ambassador to Mexico intervene on behalf of communists imprisoned in Brazil was hurled through the window of the Brazilian embassy today. The charge d'affaires received it and asked police protection against further attempts of this kind.

Boy Unconscious, Ailment Puzzles

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., April 16.—Suffering from a mysterious ailment, Francis Garney, 12, son of Thomas Garney, of Brownsville was found unconscious at St Peter's School here. Relatives believe he was injured several days ago while boxing with a companion.

Alfonso's Prank Drenches Suitor of Infanta

SEVILLE, Spain, April 16—(AP.)—Spaniards tittered today at the prank played by their sovereign, King Alfonso XIII, upon the Duke of Spoleto, youthful nephew of the King of Italy, who, rumor has it, soon will become engaged to the Infanta Beatriz, Alfonso's eldest daughter

In the presence of the Infanta Beatriz and other members of the royal family, King Alfonso led the young man to a trick bench in the palace gardens of Alcazar where the family and their suite are remaining during Holy Week

The duke was invited to sit on the bench and did so, his weight releasing a spring which controlled a concealed fountain. He was drenched with the water from the spray, while King Alfonso, the Infanta, the duke's mother, the Duchess of Aosta, all laughed merrily.

Even the discomfited duke, brushing water from his eyes and trying to wring out his waterlogged clothes, grinned with the rest and made light of the incident. King Alfonso is 43 years old, and the duke is 30. Princess Beatriz will be 21 on June 22.

Friends of the royal family considered that the prank indicated the extent to which Prince Aymon, at the duke is also known, has won the esteem and affection of the Spanish monarch. In some quarters it lent additional credence to persistent reports of a romance between the Infanta and the Italian.

Clark Defends 'Suspicion' Charge in Arrests

Answering criticism of the "suspicious person" charge used by police of Pennsylvania, made by Attorney T. J. Lawrence, of New York, Director James M. Clark, of the Department of Public Safety, said yesterday that without such a charge police would be seriously handicapped in handling crime. Pittsburgh police will continue using the charge, he said, and if necessary the city will carry a fight for it to the United States Supreme Court.

Lawrence, in Pittsburgh, declares the charge to be unconstitutional, holding that it reverses the principal of law that "a person is innocent until proved guilty," to "guilty until proved innocent."

A person cannot be "suspicious," he added. He may act in a manner which may arouse suspicion, but he cannot be suspicious in the sense that police charges indicate, he said.

PITT UNIVERSITY SCORED FOR OUSTING LIBERAL TEACHER

PROFESSORS HIT ACTION OF BOARD

Civil Liberties Union Leader And Economics Instructor Notified of His Dismissal

A storm cloud swept over the University of Pittsburgh campus today as it was learned that W. Ellison Chalmers, active in liberal circles, and instructor in economics, was told that he would not be wanted on the faculty next term.

Chalmers has been secretary of the American Civil Liberties Union branch here since Fred E. Woltman, graduate assistant in philosophy, was given a similar "out" last spring. With Woltman and others, he was active in the fight against the coal and iron police system.

The "firing" of Chalmers resulted in protests from faculty members of his own department, which had not only recommended his retention, but an increase in salary as well.

Chalmers refused to discuss the case, as did other teachers at the school, pending the action of the trustees late today. Dr. Louis K. Manley, Chalmers' superior was reported "out-of-town."

LIBERALS ANGERED

The action in not retaining the instructor angered liberals of the school, who pointed out that Chalmers was active in the Civil Liberties group and other economic movements.

Many other teachers, rebellious over the attitude over the university, which they say precipitates the death of independence of thought and action among teachers, are said to have threatened privately to leave their jobs at the first opportunity.

The board of trustees of the university went into session this afternoon, but the trustees were not expected to take up Chalmers' case. As he entered the meeting room Dr. Samuel B. Linhart, secretary, had this to say:

"The matter of Prof. Chalmers' reappointment rests entirely with Dr. Gow (J. Steele Gow, dean of administration). The board need not consider this matter at all unless some member sees fit to bring it up."

PROTESTS IN FACULTY

The "firing" of Chalmers has been protested by faculty members of his department, who had not only recommended his retention but an increased salary as well. Protests from other departments at the university also were expected. It was reported that the economics department had already protested to the trustees.

Chalmers is the second secretary of the American Civil Liberties Union to be dismissed at Pitt. His predecessor, Fred E. Woltman, graduate assistant in philosophy, was dismissed last spring.

"Chalmers," said W. G. Nowell, state secretary of the Civil Liberties Union, today, "has waged an effective battle against the Coal and Iron Police. We hope that the university will not make the tragic error of becoming itself an instrument of oppression."

NOW, LET'S SEE WHERE THE FOURTEENTH ONE IS!

Paul Yengling, of Smethport, fishing in the Sinnemahoning, caught 13 trout before 7 o'clock. He's after his fourteenth now, and he eagerly declares "it's the greatest year ever."

TROUT FISHERS OPEN SEASON

FIRST FORK, Pa., April 16.—If anglers elsewhere in Pennsylvania fared as well as those who opened the trout season up here on the headwaters of the Sinnemahoning, yesterday may well be called the best opening day in recent years. Undersized trout were few, and skillful fishermen had little trouble catching the limit of 25.

Cameron County's population, normally less than that of Bellevue, was considerably swollen by the influx of visiting fishermen.

Ordinarily there are more deer and bears in Sinnemahoning Valley than human beings, but not yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gamble, of Jeannette, caught 15 trout before breakfast—he nine and she six. Mrs. Gamble showed a 15-inch brown trout that was a beauty.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Anthony, of DuBois, were in the stream early and had much success.

Paul Yengling, of Smethport, had 13 trout in his creel at 7 o'clock.

Arnold Wykoff, 15, of Wharton, had 12 at the same hour.

Brown trout, as usual, ran larger than the native trout. One of the largest of the latter to be caught was a 13-inch speckled beauty, taken by Chauncey E. Logue, of First Fork, in a pond formed by beavers, which had built a dam across a meadow.

PLANT HERE ADVISED BY SCIENTISTS

Westinghouse Will Triple Laboratory Area at Cost Of Half-Million Dollars

Leading scientists of the United States gathered here today as a scientific advisory board for Westinghouse research laboratories simultaneously with the announcement that the Westinghouse company would enlarge its present laboratories at a cost of $500,000.

The addition will triple the space of the present laboratories.

ADVANCED THEORIES

The purpose of the scientists' gathering is to present before research specialists of the Westinghouse company the most-advanced theories in the fields in which the scientists are outstanding.

The scientific advisory board will meet three times a year, although individual members will advise the Westinghouse on scientific questions at other times.

BOARD PERSONNEL

Members of the board announced today are: Dr. P. W. Bridman, head of the department of physics at Harvard University; Dr. G. B. Waterhouse, head of the department of metallurgy at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. C. E. Mendenhall, head of the department of physics at the University of Wisconsin; Dr. Stephan Timoshenko, head of the school of advanced mechanics at the University of Michigan, and Dr. Edward Mack, Jr., professor of physical chemistry at Ohio State University.

COTTON CROPS' CUT PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—Philip M. Weld, vice president of the New York Cotton Exchange, after a conference with President Hoover, today predicted a 5 per cent decrease in cotton acreage for this year.

Weld told newspapermen after his audience with the President that in his opinion general business and stock market conditions are improving.

Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, renewed his appeal for a reduced cotton and wheat acreage today in a radio speech. Legge wants the wheat acreage cut 10 per cent to better the farmer's finances, and suggests restoration of the "rapidly disappearing woodlot" as a solution.

SAVE STRANDED FAMILY AT SEA

PANAMA CITY, April 16.—(AP.)—Stranded for nine days in a motor launch in the Caribbean Sea east of Colon, J. W. Miller, of Jacksonville, Fla., and his wife and nine children and a Negro seaman were rescued by the Cuban gunboat Patria when their doom from starvation and exposure was imminent.

Miller and his family, the youngest of whom was seven months old, started out from Bocas Del Toron, Panama, for Colon on April 1 in a small motor boat. On April 6 they ran out of fuel while only a short distance from their objective.

For days after that, until yesterday, Miller watched for the craft which might help him get to Colon. Twice he signaled passing boats with a small United States flag, but was unable to make himself seen. Yesterday the Patria sighted him about three miles off Colon and brought the party to port.

POWER INQUIRY TOLD OF FEES

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—The assertion that the Electric Bond and Share Company in 1927 made a 105 per cent profit on supervision fees assessed holding companies under its supervision was made before the Federal Trade Commission today by Judson C. Dickerman, commission acintant.

Dickerman testified the Electric Bond and Share in 1927 received $9,373,172 in fees for supervision, engineering, construction and financing.

Those services actually cost only $4,563,527, giving the company a profit of 105.4 per cent, the witness said.

Records for a complete analysis of the fees have been withheld by the company, the accountant said.

The Federal Trade Commission has court action pending in an effort to force the Electric Bond to turn over its records to commission accountants.

Dickerman was the first witness as the commission resumed its investigation of public utilities financing.

DEFENSE RESTS IN OLGA'S CASE

NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS.)—The bird-like Olga Elde Edwards, under cross-examination at her trial for alleged extortion, today related naively how she relied upon Nathan Leo Amster, millionaire complainant in the case, to pay her bills and for guidance in all matters.

The defense then rested its case.

The dark-eyed California dancing girl, who charges that Amster is the father of her 6-year-old son, appeared aggrieved at the suggestion of the prosecutor that she forced money from the traction magnate.

"I always went to Mr. Amster for advice," she pouted in a childish voice. "He always gave me guidance in everything. I never thought of money when I went to see Mr. Amster."

The specific charge against Miss Edwards is of extorting $500 from Amster. Testimony revealed that during her 12 years of friendship with Amster she had received $170,000 from him.

"Of course I took the $500 from Mr. Amster," Olga declared naively. "I needed it to pay my bills."

Traffic Deaths Here 1,120 In 7 Years

In a survey made for the Better Traffic Committee, Donald M. McNeil, assistant city engineer, reveals that from January 1, 1923 to April 1, 1930, street traffic in Pittsburgh claimed 1,120 lives. During the first three months of this year 49 persons were killed, the largest number for a similar period in the history of the city. Fatalities by years covered by the survey show that 119 were killed in 1923, 163 in 1924, 137 in 1925, 144 in 1926, 176 in 1927, 152 in 1928, and 180 in 1929.

DRIVER BEATEN, TAXI BURNED

With several striking taxicab drivers awaiting sentence tomorrow on contempt-of-court charges, sporadic outbursts of violence are continuing in the taxi strike now in its fifteenth week.

A cab driver was beaten and his cab stolen last night at St. James Place and Ellsworth avenue. The cab was found afire at Bennington avenue and Fair Oaks street. Firemen extinguished the blaze.

Karl Kuberek, driver, was given first aid attention and taken to the Yellow Cab garage in Ross street. Russell Ebright, 25, a cab driver, of 1522 Irwin avenue, will be given a hearing today in Traffic Court on a reckless-driving charge. His cab collided with a street car in Grant street near the Boulevard of the Allies.

FIND NO TRACE OF LOST FLIERS

VALLEY STREAM, L. I., April 16.—(INS.)—More than a score of airplanes continued search today for Ralph J. White, student flier who disappeared Sunday in

A few bits of floating wreckage found in a film of oil off Rockaway Point was to be examined in an effort to identify the broken parts as from the missing plane. A police patrol boat will also comb the oil-covered area with grappling hooks.

CHICAGO, April 16.—(INS.)—Despite the growing belief that Ralph Fisher Skelton, artist and aviator, perished in his attempt to fly across Lake Michigan, the search by land and air went forward today.

Thousand of boy scouts in Michigan and Indiana have joined the search for Skelton, who disappeared last Thursday.

Church To Receive Offer Of Mellon

The offer of R. B. Mellon to erect a modern and beautiful church in place of the present East Liberty Presbyterian Church will be formally received tonight at a meeting of the congregation. At the meeting church officials and members of the congregation will consider plans for the new edifice.

The Rev. Dr. Stuart Nye Hutchison, pastor of the church, said that he was not at liberty to divulge any further information until after the meeting.

Weather Conditions.

Cloudy and rainy weather continues over much the greater portion of the country this morning. The Southwest disturbance remained nearly stationary, the center being still located over Southern Kansas, lowest barometer, 29.52 inches, at Wichita and Dodge City, but the Alberta center advanced eastward to Saskatchewan. The Hudson Bay high developed southward, the rising barometric conditions extending as far south as the gulf.

The rainfall during the last 24 hours was light, generally, but moderately heavy over large sections, and quite beneficial over most of the wheat belt. It is raining this morning quite generally over the Ohio Valley states, the lower lake region, the Mississippi valley and Plains states.

River Conditions.

The upper Allegheny River is rising slightly, due to moderately heavy rains over that section. Elsewhere the rivers are falling. Stage at Franklin is 4.3 feet. Lock No. 7, 12.0; Pittsburgh, 13.8; Dam No. 4, 10.6; Dam No. 6, 9.6; Dam No. 9, 10.6, and Dam No. 12, 5.7. The dams are up.

GENERAL WOOD, PACKET, SOLD

The packet General Wood, which operated for many years on the Ohio River between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, was sold at public auction in the Federal Building today for $610.

William Z. Pollack made the bid in behalf of Howard S. Young, who was given title to the boat, which was built 17 years ago. The sale was to satisfy a libel for $221 brought by the Marine Manufacturing and Supply Company, of this city. The packet is moored at the foot of Wood street.

Aimee Will Spend Easter in Holy Land

CAIRO, April 16.—(INS.)—Aimee Semple MacPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, making a tour of the Near East with members of her Angelus Temple, was en route today to Palestine. She plans to spend the Easter holidays in the Holy Land. She will spend Good Friday on the Mount of Calvary and Easter Sunday in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. Before leaving Egypt the party staged a revival meeting near the Pyramids.

ZIEGFELD WON'T DROP FOLLIES

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 16.—(INS.)—Even though Florenz Ziegfeld decides to remain in the movies as a producer, he will continue to stage the Follies in New York, he assured friends here today.

Ziegfeld arrived yesterday to aid in the production of one of his shows. Accompanying him was his wife, Billie Burke, former noted actress, who had this to say about the style of pulchritude for girls in 1930:

"She must be a brunette—blondes are passe; no taller than five feet six inches and should weigh 125 pounds. She should be generously proportioned and more feminine. The boyish figure is no longer in style."

NEW YORK, April 16.—Knott Hotels Corporation, which conducts The Pittsburgher, in Pittsburgh, today announced acquisition of the chain of Allerton club hotels and the Hotel Paramount, here, adding a total of eight hotels to the management. The chain now includes 33 hotels of 11,450 rooms.

Frenchwoman Views U. S. Morals for League

GENEVA, April 16.—(AP.)—The League of Nations Child Welfare Committee, from whom Mlle. Marie Chaptal, president of the International Council of Nurses, received a "secret" report on social and moral conditions in the United States, met today for its closing session.

Mlle Chaptal reported excellent conditions at the Sleighton Farms Reform School near Philadelphia and also gave high praise to the Thornhill School near Pittsburgh.

It was learned informally that some portions of Mlle. Chaptal's written report contained rather sensational implications. Of New York she wrote:

"We encountered such depths of misery, social and physical, as would appal the most experienced of welfare workers. Hygiene frequently takes the place of morals and physical health sometimes takes precedence over conscience. We think one of the principal dangers to girls of the working class lies in a lack of family unity."

The report also told of Mlle. Chaptal visiting an unidentified juvenile court in New York.

"The judge attributed a great deal of the increase in child delinquency to the prohibition law," the report said. "He blames it for a great deal of harm that is done. Parents break the law and are inveterate drinkers. The child becomes accustomed to see the law disobeyed."

Peanuts, Ermine At Sewickley Showboat

Sewickley society went showboating last night. Socially prominent persons motored down to the Ohio River in Sewickley and crowded into Capt. Billy Bryan't showboat to watch the Bryant troupe perform "At the End of the Road."

Peanuts, ermine wraps, lorgnettes—these were among the accesories of a fastidious audience that filled the seats of the river theater. Capt. Billy announced that "by special request of the society people," his company will give the second and last performance tonight at Sewickley before moving southward.

Listed 'Dead' 7 Years, Woman Arrested

Listed as "dead" on an indictment returned seven years ago, Mrs. Edith Clark, 45, was arrested in the Courthouse corridor today while appearing as a witness in another case.

Evading trial seven times, Mrs. Clark was recognized by former Police Lieut. Thomas J. Cavanaugh, who had led a raiding squad on her Crawford street house March 23, 1923, and arrested her on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. Her $1,000 bond was forfeited May 17, 1929.

Cavanaugh checked indictment records, found she was recorded as "dead," notified Assistant District Attorney George F. P. Langfitt, and the two appeared before Judge Harry H. Rowand with the evidence. A process was issued and Mrs. Clark was immediately arrested and lodged in jail. Her case will be listed for trial in the near future.

Mournful Services Mark Holy Day in Rome

ROME, April 16.—(AP.)—A solemn procession in the Church of St. Mary Major, otherwise known as the Liberian Basilica, this morning ushered in the ceremonies attendant on Rome's observance of the Wednesday of Holy Week. In mournful cadences the chanting priests recounted the story of the passion, as told in the Gospel of St. Luke, preceded by two lessons taken from the Prophet Isiah, foretelling the sacrifice of Christ.

The afternoon was marked by the singing of the office of "Tenebrae," so-called in remembrance of the darkness said to have spread over all the earth at the moment of Christ's death on the cross. As in all Catholic churches throughout the world there was a ceremony of gradual extinction of all but the last of the 15 candles placed on a triangular candlestick to the left of the altar.

The ceremony was everywhere accompanied by the chant of psalms and hymns, the musical program in St. Peter's being particularly well rendered. There were displayed in St. Peter's the so-called relics of the passion—what are believed to be the lance that pierced the side of Christ, a piece of wood of the true cross, and the veil or napkin of St. Veronica, with which Christ wiped his face on his way to Golgatha. A large crowd of Romans, swelled by many visiting pilgrims, went to the big church in Vatican City, largest in the world, to witness that unusual display.

PINCHOT RADIOS LABOR STAND

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—(AP)—Gifford Pinchot, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, and Francis H Bohlen, senatorial candidate on a "wet" platform, replied last night to a questionnaire of the American Federation of Labor concerning their views on legislation affecting labor.

Mr. Pinchot made his reply in a radio address from station WCAU. Mr. Bohlen telegraphed his views to James E. Kelly, Harrisburg, an official of the Federation.

Mr. Pinchot among other things said he favored legislation prohibiting the unfair use of injunctions in labor disputes, old age pensions, a 44-hour week for women and children, abolishing the coal and iron police, and the "yellow dog" contract, and increased appropriations for mothers' pensions.

Mr. Bohlen said he is against settlement of labor disputes by injunction and approves heartily of the act recently passed by the Republican Legislature of New York which will prevent temporary injunctions from being granted without reasonable notice.

Enumerator Finds Man, 118, Cutting Logs On Farm

WILLOW SPRING, Mo., April 16.—(AP)—Carrying his burden of years lightly, a Missouri Ozark resident was counted in the Butler County, Mo., census yesterday who gave his age as 118 years, according to H. B. Koch, census supervisor. According to the enumerator's report to Koch, the man was making railroad ties on his farm near Hendrickson and declared he was getting ready for the same program he carried out last year, harvesting crops from 15 acres of land.

GRUNDY GAINS LABOR AID

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—(A.—After listening to a recital of his record on labor legislation in the last 20 years, 53 labor leaders, representing the Council of Associated Building Trades of Philadelphia, pledged their active support to Senator Joseph R. Grundy in his campaign for the Republican nomination to succeed himself.

The labor leaders, headed by Frank Feeney, International president of the Elevator Constructors' Union, called at Grundy's private office, where the Senator read to them a detailed statement of the part he has played in the enactment of workmen's compensation, child labor and women-in-industry laws.

Hoover Given Papers of 2 Liberators

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Original documents, bearing the signatures of South America's two great heroes, Gen. Simon De Bolivar and Gen. Antonio Jose De Sucre, are now valued possessions of President Hoover.

The second, a military order signed by Sucre, the Liberator, Bolivar's assistant in freeing five of the South American republics from Spanish rule, has been given the United States executive by Dr. Homero Viteri Lafronte, minister of Ecuador. A letter autographed by the Liberator himself, was presented to Mr. Hoover by the government of Ecuador when he was in Guayaquil, as President, elect, about a year and a half ago.

DAVIS-BROWN FORCE READY FOR BATTLE

Moore Philadelphia Leader; Armstrong Names Workers For Headquarters Here

Former Mayor J. Hampton Moore announced last night that he had accepted the chairmanship of a committee that will direct the primary campaign in Philadelphia for the ticket headed by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for United States Senator, and Francis Shunk Brown for governor.

The Davis-Brown headquarters declared that with Moore in charge there, Bernard J. Myers, of Lancaster, heading a state-wide committee, and with County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, of Pittsburgh, directing affairs in the Western part of the state, they were now prepared for an intensive canvass that would continue until the primary election on May 20.

WORKERS HERE NAMED

Armstrong announced the personnel of officers for Hotel Henry headquarters. They are: Mrs. A. G. H. Frazier, vice chairman; William H. Ziefel, secretary;; Dr. F. H. Frederick, treasurer; M. B. Lesher, chairman, and A. H. Friedman, assisting chairman of the committee for meetings and speakers.

Dr. F. H. Frederick, president of the Civil Service Commission, has called a meeting of North Side Republican ward chairmen for Friday night in the office of Alderman Ray E. Schneider, of 406 East Ohio street, for the announced purpose of indorsing the Davis-Brown ticket.

Others expected to attend are Congressman S. G. Porter, State Senator Morris Einstein, Assemblyman Samuel J. Grenet, W. F. Stadtlander and James Wettach and James Rooney, candidate for the Legislature from the Seventh district.

GRUNDY AIDES ACTIVE

State Senator James J. Coyne and S. C. Jamison, who are organizing the local campaign for Senator Joseph R. Grundy, declared yesterday they were selecting members of a reception committee to greet Grundy upon his arrival here next Tuesday.

Former Judge A. C. Dale, of Center County, state chairman of Pinchot's campaign committee, visited his candidate's Western Pennsylvania headquarters today. Dale declared that he had made a swing of 30 counties in the state and had found the situation regarding Pinchot's candidacy good. He conferred with Frank J. Gollmar and County Commissioner C. C. McGovern, Pinchot leaders here.

LEADING POINTS

Brown's stand on the leading questions of the state follows:

1. Suspension of increases in utility rates in cases before the Public Service Commission.

2. He proposes creation of the office of "People's Counsel" to represent the public.

3. Insists upon control over the security issues of public utilities.

4. Opposes the 4-cent gas tax, asserting a 3-cent tax is sufficient to meet highway progress.

5. Opposes stream pollution and demands remedy for existing conditions.

DRY REFERENDUM

6. Calls for a referendum on prohibition as the line of action best calculated to get results.

7. Believes coal and iron police should be limited and under state supervision.

8. Suggests a state commission to solve unemployment problem.

9. Asserts wounded war veterans should be treated free by state aided hospitals.

10. Favors a tariff to maintain the present high living standard.

11. Development of the Delaware and Ohio River transportation systems.

12. Re-forestration and purchase of additional land as needed.

13. Non-interference with the powers of the fish and game commissions.

14. Declaration against interference with states' rights.

PLATFORM OF WETS

Prohibition is assailed and the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, the Volstead act and the Snyder law, Pennsylvania's enforcement statute, is urged in the platform of the "wet" candidates who seek the Republican nominations at the May primary.

The platform, made public last night, was drafted by Francis H. Bohlen, candidate for the senatorial nomination; Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., aspirant for the governorship, and Charles Dorrance, candidate for lieutenant governor. In addition to urging the repeal of prohibition, the platform takes a stand against the Sunday blue laws.

The platform declares that if elected the candidate proposes to "so regulate the sale of alcoholic beverages as to prevent the return of the saloon, but to make temperance a self-controlled customary order of society."

Homeopathic Board Re-elects Officers

Re-election of officers and trustees, and reports covering the past year featured a meeting of the trustees and corporators of Homeopathic Hospital in the nurses' home, Aiken avenue, yesterday. Those re-elected were: President, James H. Hammond; vice presidents, J. E. MacCloskey, Jr., and Reade W. Bailey; treasurer, Robert H. Youngman; secretary, B. R. B. Townsend; trustees, Mr. Bailey, Mr. Youngman, C. Bernard Shea, Mr. Townsend, D. M. Clemson, R. V. Bingay, W. M. Furey and E. W. Crelin.

WOMAN SOLON RAKES PINCHOT

Representative Helen Grimes, seeking re-election in the Twelfth Legislative District, has challenged former Gov. Gifford Pinchot for stating in his campaign for another term that the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia political organizations "have been the most venomous enemies of clean elections in the state. Miss Grimes declared:

"I wish to contradict that statement. I was a member of the elections committee, of which Joseph C. Marcus was chairman, and can testify that the Pinchot election reform bills received fair and impartial treatment in committee. I voted for them twice in committee and on the floor of the House, as did many other organization members, including Dr. Joseph Steedle and Matthew Dunn, my colleagues from the Twelfth District."

FRENCH BUDGET ACCORD FAILS

PARIS, April 16.—(AP.)—After sitting until 3 a. m., today, the Senate and Chamber of Deputies failed to reach the full agreement expected on the terms of the whole budget of the Tardieu government.

Both houses of parliament therefore agreed to adjourn until the afternoon. Two minor points of difference still subsisting then will be taken up again and settled. Thus the budget finally will be disposed of.

An agreement had been expected earlier in the evening, but the Chamber refused to accept changes made by the Senate at the last moment and sent the document back to the upper house.

'Hold Everything' Will Be Broadcast

For the first time in Pittsburgh radio and theatrical history, the events surrounding the premiere presentation of moving picture production, "Hold Everything," will be broadcast from the lobby of the Warner Theater, where the picture will be exhibited, through Station KQV, Friday night from 8 to 9 o'clock.

Mayor Kline, in conjunction with Warner Brothers, has invited the mayors of 50 cities of the tri-state district to attend the gala premiere performance of the picture. He will be one of the speakers over the radio.

The theater will be closed Friday afternoon, reopening only for the premiere presentation of "Hold Everything" in the evening.

$50,000 Asked From Railways Company

Catherine A. Gardner, of Shadyside, asked $50,000 damages from the Pittsburgh Railways Company in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court, claiming she was severely injured when thrown to the floor of a street car, due to negligent operation by the motorman. The suit stated the mishap occurred in a street car on Ellsworth avenue, February 13 last.

Burned on Trolley, Sues for $60,000

Alleging he was severely burned when flames enveloped his body after a grounded wire caused a terrific explosion on a street car on California avenue, near Island avenue, July 1, 1929, Alexander C. Dunn, of Avalon, asked $60,000 damages from the Pittsburgh Railways Company in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court.

RADIO FEATURE IN AIR 'WAR'

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 16 (AP).—Radio and the ability to intercept a fleet of fifty-air squadron before it reaches its objective were features of today's operations in which units of the Army Air Corps continued their annual maneuvers here.

Bombardment attacks and observation planes were ordered to find the enemy in various Northern California towns. Others remained on the line at Mather Field for dispatch following receipt of radio messages from other planes of the wing calling for support through the base wireless station.

These war games are of considerable importance to the Army Air Corps forces, military officials here explained, in that they afford the various groups "eligible material on which to test theories of how combat should be waged."

Door Hurts Hand, Sues for $25,000

Injuries caused when his left hand was caught in the doors of a street car, closed suddenly, will disfigure him for life, Howard Jones of 2218 Beaver avenue, alleged in his suit in Common Pleas Court against the Pittsburgh Railways Company, asking $25,000 damages. The accident occurred in Beaver avenue near Island avenue, March 17 last, when he attempted to board the car, the suit averred.

Gang Beats Man After Mistake In Kidnaping

KANSAS CITY, April 16 (AP).—Jean Alden, 24, wasn't "the right guy," but his kidnapers beat him up anyhow.

According to the story told police, Alden was forced into an automobile last night by three men. They hauled him north of town. Then they forced him from the car.

"Heh, this is not the right guy," one of the kidnapers exclaimed.

DELAY HEARING ON WJAS PLEA

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Federal Radio Commission has postponed until May 6 hearings originally set for today on the application of six radio stations in the Second Zone for the lone remaining super-power cleared channel.

The six competing stations are WWJ, Detroit; WLAP, Louisville; WPF and WCHU, of Philadelphia; WLBW, Oil City, Pa., and WJAS, Pittsburgh.

RICHMAN BROTHERS
221-225 FIFTH AVE.

OPEN TONIGHT AND EVERY NIGHT BEFORE EASTER UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

You Can't Wear Out Their Easter Smartness

There are Richman Brothers suits and topcoats so precisely suited to your taste, so perfectly fitted to your figure, that they might have been tailored to your personal order, at a very costly price . . you'll readily find what you like best, in style, fabric and color, when you come to Richman's for your Easter clothes.

And there's added satisfaction in knowing that any suit or topcoat you choose will keep its Easter smartness through many months of wear. For every garment in our great stock was styled by Richman designers . . . tailored by Richman stockholders in our own factories . . . made of the finest materials immense cash buying power could procure.

Yet the price of this satisfying style and quality is so low that you can buy both a suit and topcoat for the money you expected to pay for one . . . value that only Richman's huge manufacturing capacity and direct-from-factory sales volume could achieve.

ANY BUSINESS SUIT, TOPCOAT, GOLF OR DRESS SUIT IN EVERY RICHMAN BROTHERS STORE IN THE U. S. IS ALWAYS THE SAME PRICE.

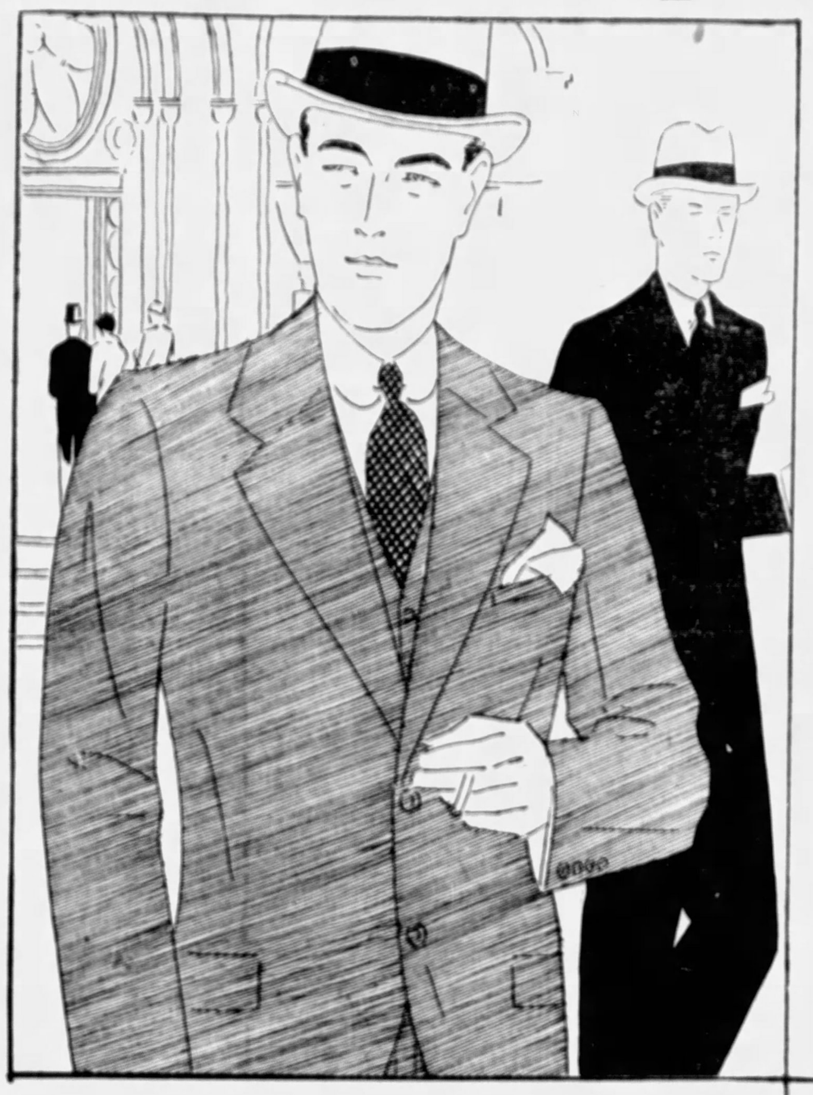
Easter Preparations at Their Height



New Arrivals in

HATS, $12.50

The new Ardsley straws are among them—you know how smart Ardsley felts have always been, so you will have an idea what to expect in these. (They are exclusive with Horne's in Pittsburgh, of course).

Other lines include brimmed milan straws, with flattering sheer hair edges, which go particularly well with silk frocks. And fine hats of baku and ballibuntl, which are always favorite straws for suit and coat costumes.

There are plenty of black and dark blue hats among them, together with other street shades.

Easter Sale of Men's Fine Suits

An Easter event . . . Horne suits, tailored within the past week to our own specifications, at a sale price which urges prompt action.

The models, fabrics and colors are those preferred most this season . . . a conservative three-button style; a two-button, peak-lapel model; a double-breasted; and a youngfellows' broad-shoulder, form-fitting effect.

A suggestion! Make your selection as early as possible . . . values like these bring an unusual response and early choosers have every advantage. Suits will be fitted and delivered for Easter.

... Horne's, Men's Store, Third Floor ...

A Companion Event! Easter Ties, 95c

Whatever else he wears, a man's sure to have a new tie for Easter. Here they are—all hand-tailored—at a much-below-usual price. Every type he could want—foulards, in bright and less conspicuous colors; handsome brocades; twills, in all manner of new patterns; and plain-color, self-striped crepes, one of the most-worn tie styles of the season.

Striped Shirts, $3.00

If you should take a "shirt census" on Easter morn, it would reveal the popularity of candy-stripe shirts. The stripes, alternating color and white, vary in width from tiny, close-set ones to the wider ones that give the shirt a distinctive two-tone effect. These, of fine woven madras, have a laundered attached collar and laundered barrel cuffs.

Hornebilt Hats

Easter after Easter men choose Hornebilts, for they've come to know that Hornebilts are correct in color and shape . . . and that they're crowded with value for $5. This Easter, Hornebilts feature snap brims with high crowns, flat-set brims that may be worn up or down, and curl brims of the more dressy type.

Lace Ensembles

They're the Most Popular Thing!

The woman who wants a formal afternoon or Sunday night costume . . . and the one who likes a matching coatee accompanying her dinner and dance frocks . . . and the woman who makes one costume serve many purposes—they're all buying lace ensembles which have sleeveless frocks and jackets.

And here is a new group of exceptionally good-looking ones, in five styles, different patterns of lace, and with bolero or finger-tip jackets. Some of them have a flattering finish of chiffon.

They may be had in black, Byrd blue, orchid, peach and beige.

Girls' Spring Coats

Specially Priced

$10 $15

Good-looking coats in all the fashionable 1930 models that young girls must have for Easter.

Both groups include varieties of capes, flared, and regulation models . . . of rough and diagonal tweeds, basket weaves, and soft woolens. In tans, greens, blues, red and navy.

Sizes 6 to 14 years.

Girls' Easter Suits

Bolero, short, and full-length jackets—pleated and flared skirts—and many with silk tuck-in blouses. Of tweeds, coverts, basket weaves, and novelty woolens, in tans, blues, greens, and brick reds. Sizes 8 to 14 years, from $10.00 to $19.75.

Girls' Easter Hats

Hats for girls of practically any age . . . hats for every type of girlish face—are easy to find in the Juvenile Millinery Shop—in varieties of straws and colors. Little tots' hats flourish bows and streamers . . . older girls' hats have new brims, and smart "grown-up" treatments.

Straw braids, novelty and peanut straws, milans and toyo straws—in colors to match spring coats and dresses. $3.95.

Foot Trainer Shoes

Two Styles in Natural Elkskin

Special $2.85 Pair

A close-out of 400 pairs of this popular Horne line, involving two models. The established reputation of these shoes for fit, comfort and durability will cause a rush for them tomorrow, at this lowered price.

One a neat Sports Oxford, and the other a dainty Strap Slipper in a light shade, that goes well with most spring outfits. Both of natural elkskin—a leather that may be washed with soap and water!

Sizes 10 to 2.

Boys' Clothing

Blue Cheviot Two-Trouser Suits—of excellent cheviots, in single and double-breasted styles. Sizes 7 to 18 years. $16.75

Long Two-Trouser Suits—of fine navy cheviots, oxford grays, and fancy tan and gray wool mixtures. Single and double-breasted models. Sizes 15 to 20 years. $20.00

Boys' White Shirts—of exceptionally fine quality broadcloths, with good-fitting collars. Juniors' and youths' sizes. $1.95

$14.75 and $20

Shopping for the new suit is an easy proposition here! Boys approve the up-to-the-minute smartness and mothers appreciate the value! Didn't expect to get a good suit for so little! Smart tailoring . . . points of wear and tear strengthened. Imported tweeds, herringbones and blues. Sizes 6 to 18 years.

—BOYS' CLOTHING DEPT., SECOND FLOOR

Girls' Coats

With High Style Notes

Sizes 8 to 14 Years

It takes "this younger generation" to show us a thing or two about coats! F'instance . . . we all have capes, to be sure, but, what one of us ever thought of tucking an inverted pleat at the edge and stringing smart little buttons up and down the sides? This new group is indeed refreshing!

—GIRLS' DEPT., SEVENTH FLOOR

Tots' New Spring Coats Have Some "Big" Ideas

$12.95

They came expecting the same old yoke outfits with baby collars . . . the kind they had always worn! But . . . the buyer at Rosenbaum's slipped up with a great big surprise for them! Coats for Miss 2-to-6, look just like Mother's . . . through the narrow end of field glasses!

And they refuse to be called "cute" . . . they're actually daring! Cheviots, camels hair, woolly mixtures and serge . . . scarf collars, capes (removable), belts, and whatnot! It's a "Red Letter Day" in the nursery!

We Now Present

By DARRELL V. MARTIN,
Radio Editor.

"TRIS" SPEAKER will air his views on baseball seasons past and present when Grantland Rice interviews him before a WCAE microphone at 10:30 this evening. Speaker is expected to make predictions on the pennant race in each league. WCAE will be the Pittsburgh station [illegible] which Percy Grainger [illegible] will be interpreted by Grainger himself [illegible] at 9:30 WCAE [illegible] his own works. Mr. Grainger will play "Country Gardens" and for the first time on the air two of his more recent compositions, "Spoon River" and "Handel in the Strand."

Percy Grainger

The Barnwarmers will say au revoir until Fall when they use the KDKA wave at 6:30 to celebrate a wedding. Ralph Umy and Mary E. Graham will be the lovebirds.

Ambrose J. Weems will return with his KUKU cast at 10:30 over KDKA.

"Swiss Echo Song" and "Robin Adair" will be Olive Palmer solos on WCAE at 9:30. She will also be heard in a duet of "Carolina Moon."

Chauncey Parsons has a nice repertoire for the Foamers on KDKA at 8. "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Little Yvette" will be included.

Peter Gibbs, of Asbury Park, N. J., has sent Amos a highly pedigreed hound.

"Tell Louis Kaufman, Percy Boyd and Walter Myers that I'll be ready to tee off with them in another month or so," writes Don Bestor from the Arlington Hotel, Hot Spring, Ark., where his band plays nightly except Monday over KTHS.

He continues: "I go fishing in the morning and practice golf in the afternoon. Nice weather here between 85 and 90 every day, but delightfully cool at night. Frankie and Mary Ann love the climate but long for their Pittsburgh friends."

"Frankie" is Mrs. Bestor and "Mary Ann" is their cute little sweetness.

That clever little boy, Allen Thatcher, night announcer at WCAE, has collaborated with Ralph Federer in composing a song that will have its premiere on the Gimbel station tonight at 7:30.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

Five sentences published each day, twenty in all—Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—last sentence appears Friday. All answers must be in the hands of The Manager, Classified Advertising Dept., Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, not later than midnight, Monday, April 21, 1930. Neatness will be the basis of award. Write in your own handwriting, on one side of the paper, only. Names of the Winners will be announced in The Classified Section, Wednesday, April 23, 1930.

Here's a real treat for Classified Ad readers. Here's your opportunity to see "High Society Blues" without spending a penny. Here's the "dope." The story of this thrilling love romance, starring Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor, is published in synopsis form in the Classified Section. Five sentences similar to this: "She is betrothed to Count Prunier, but falling in love with Eddie, He reciprocates," are published each day among the Classified Ads. Five sentences were published yesterday. The above and four more are published today. Five more will appear tomorrow and the last five on Friday, making a total of twenty sentences. Go through the ads carefully and clip out all these sentences. If you don't have the first five get a copy of yesterday's Sun-Telegraph, and keep a sharp lookout for all the rest. In short, find and collect the twenty sentences which will tell the whole story of "High Society Blues." When the last five appear Friday, copy the twenty sentences in your own handwriting and mail your presentation to the "Manager, Classified Dept., Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph." The twenty persons submitting the neatest manuscripts will each be given TWO GUEST TICKETS to "HIGH SOCIETY BLUES," which comes to the Aldine Friday, for an extended run. Look for the hidden sentences—while you are looking for bargains. When you see this picture, for nothing, you will feel well repaid for your effort. You may also see the apartment, or used car, or new home you are interested in while you are looking.

CHURCH VIGIL PLANNED

An all-night vigil will be conducted by the men of the Sacred Heart parish, under auspices of Holy Name Society, in the Sacred Heart Church, 6202 Alder street, tomorrow night. They will go to the church in relays of half an hour each. Special services will be held at 8 a. m., Good Friday, and at 12 o'clock the three-hours' devotion will be conducted by the Rev. Paul E. Campbell and the Rev. James L. Stewart, assisted by the Sacred Heart vested choir. At 7:45 p. m. the sermon will be preached by the Rev. T. F. Coakley, on "The Legal Aspects of the Trial of Christ." The Blessing of Fire, Lights and Water will be celebrated at 6:30 a. m., Saturday, the solemn high mass at 8 a. m.

Pair Suspected as Pickpockets Fined

James Hogan, 29, of 1339 Penn avenue, and James Hanley, 30, of 1739 Liberty avenue, were sentenced to pay $50 fines or serve 30 days in jail at a hearing today before Magistrate John J. Sweeney in Mt. Washington Police Station. They were arrested yesterday after boarding street cars several times at the south end of the Mt. Washington car tunnels. Railways employes testified that several passengers had complained of having their pockets picked.

GLICK BOOSTS SAFETY FUND

An economic loss of $830,000,000 due to accidents during the last 14 years was cited yesterday by Peter Glick, secretary of the Department of Labor and Industry, in appealing for public support of the drive of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council to increase its budget in the amount of $40,000 a year for five years. The campaign will be held from next Tuesday to Friday, and will embrace Allegheny, Westmoreland, Fayette, Washington, Armstrong and Beaver Counties.

Speaking of unnecessary and avoidable accidents, Glick said that last year 1,893 persons were killed and 35,648 injured on Pennsylvania's highways. He estimated that 4,000 persons were killed and 400,000 injured in their homes, while in industries 2,012 were killed and 164,657 injured.

HOWARD Performance gives "Screen Grid" a new meaning

The Consolette
$185 Less Tubes
Terms to Suit You

Screen grid tubes amplify from five to seven times more than regular radio tubes. A radio receiver, therefore, must be accurately constructed to obtain the correct benefits of these powerful tubes, otherwise line noises and interferences also will be amplified five to seven times.

In the new precision, screen grid HOWARD, the line noises and interferences are kept out and the broadcasts are amplified, giving these super-sensitive and powerful tubes a new meaning in radio performance.

To hear radio performance at its best you must hear the new screen grid HOWARD.

BATTLE BOOST IN VET FUND

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS.)—Administration leaders of the House today were laying plans to block proposals to vastly extend compensation to World War veterans at an additional cost claimed to be more than $300,000,000 a year.

Having indorsed the Johnson bill, which is estimated to increase the annual payments to World War veterans from $500,000,000 to $600,000,000, the House leaders were troubled by the strong support evidenced for a substitute measure sponsored by Representative Rankin (Dem.), of Mississippi.

Having opened debate on the Johnson bill, the House suspended action today, but will resume tomorrow with indications that a vote will not be reached before next week.

The Johnson bill is regarded as the most important amendment to the World War veterans' act since it was enacted into law.

CHARITIES HIT BREAD LINES

The board of directors of the Pittsburgh Federation of Social Agencies today made public a protest against bread lines in the city. In a statement, Executive Secretary E. N. Clopper said that the several established charitable organizations in the city are able to care for unfortunates. He added that by study and experience, the organizations have learned how to serve the individual and the community to the best advantage.

The federation criticized "bread lines" as a form of indiscriminate giving demoralizing to the community. The fact that free food can be had attracts an undesirable class to the city, Clopper's statement said.

Granville Youth, In Collision, Dies

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 16.—George Kurtz, 18, of Granville, died in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital after his motorcycle crashed into the side of a truck near Spears.

Judge Sees Film, Reverses Self, Stops Show

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP.)—Judge William B. Lindsay allowed "Party Girl" to be shown in Chicago theaters under protection of a temporary injunction against the Censor Board until he saw the film himself. Then he cancelled his own injunction writ.

Counsel for the cenema interests protested that the show was advertised "for adults only."

Judge Lindsay replied that such an advertisement would naturally attract children and he had seen girls of 10 and 12 years at the show. The court ordered the police to close theaters exhibiting the film.

Two Railroads Fight Rivals' Linkup Line

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS.)—With the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads opposing, the Great Northern and Western Pacific roads today renewed their fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to build 200 miles of new line between Keddie, Cal., and Klamath Falls, Ore.

FAMED GERMAN FLIER KILLED

DARMSTADT, Germany, April 16.—(INS.)—Johann Nehring, noted aeronautical engineer and pilot, holder of numerous world's records in motorless airplane flight, was killed today when his motorplane crashed during his daily altitude flight for meteorological observation.

Dr. Steinhaeuser, accompanying Nehring as observer, jumped with his parachute and escaped injury.

Nehring, one of the most daring and skilful of the young German pilots, had been a leader in motorless airplane designing and meteorological research.

His death marks the passing of the second outstanding pioneer of motorless flight, Ferdinand Schulz, another world record holder, who crashed to his death in a motorplane accident several months ago.

Seven Give Bond On Lottery Charge

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 16.—(AP.)—John Coburn, Negro, of Steubenville, O., Genevieve Love, Beaver Falls, and five other persons were held for court under $1,000 bail each in connection with the operation of a stock exchange lottery here.

FOX MEETINGS SET APRIL 26

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP.)—The annual stockholders' meetings of the Fox Film and Fox Theaters Corporations which ordinarily would have been held yesterday, will be called for April 26, it was announced.

Failure to hold the meetings on the usual date was explained as being due to the fact that the recently settled fight for control of the corporations and the resulting entanglement of their affairs prevented the required notice in writing being sent to all holders of class "B" voting stock.

At the forthcoming meetings permanent officers and directors will be elected to carry out the plan of reorganization and refinancing agreed upon last week.

Bone Dry Escort For Gold Star Mothers

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP.)—Army officers who will have charge of the forthcoming Gold Star Mothers and war widows' pilgrimmage to the French war cemeteries, were warned that if they drank the wines of France or any other liquor they will be immediately relieved from duty.

At a meeting in the Hotel Pennsylvania, Quartermaster General John L. Dewitt said to the officers:

"You must remember that you have been chosen because of certain qualifications. The most important of these sobriety. No officers must indulge in intoxicants. You will be subject to the most minute observation. Army officers will be judged by this trip.

POLISH PEASANT BLOC FORMED

WARSAW, April 16.—(AP.)—Three Polish political parties have decided to co-operate in Parliament by forming a United Peasant bloc.

Censuring the present regime as dictatorial, the Radical Peasant party, the Peasant party and the Populist party, all of which drew support from agricultural interests, passed a resolution holding the government responsible for the crisis in Polish agriculture.

The total strength of the united parties is 86 deputies and 13 senators.

FARMER BEATS OFF 2 MEN

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 16.—Using a pitchfork as a weapon, Calvin Minerd, 50, a farmer residing on the Narrows road, defended himself and a niece, Miss Bertha Minerd, 17 years old, from two Negroes.

Minerd and his niece went to the barn to feed stock about 7 o'clock in the evening. As they stepped into the building the two men, hidden there, attacked them with blackjacks. The girl was rendered unconscious with blows on the head, but the farmer grasped a pitchfork and ran the prongs into the neck of one assailant. The men ran.

Police are holding a suspect. Miss Minerd has not been able to make a positive identification.

How I coaxed him to eat!

"ONCE I was worried. Mealtime was getting on my nerves. I prepared many appetizing dishes, but John simply would not eat—just 'minced' at his food. Perhaps sometimes a little grouchy. I began to fear he was 'slipping.' What was I to do? Love, home, happiness, business success—all depended upon an improvement in his condition. The blood tonic idea suggested itself to me. My Druggist recommended S.S.S. He told me that S.S.S. was a great blood tonic; that it had been successful for over 100 years; that it was made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and was beneficial to the most delicate system. Also that it would build up the blood and improve the processes by which the body is nourished. I brought home a large size bottle. John agreed to try it. Well, in just a few days I could see the difference. His improvement has been so rapid he is going to take several more bottles, and not only that, but he is now telling his friends to take S.S.S."

It is a known fact that when a man's system gets "run-down," he hasn't the resistance to ward off diseases. Loss of appetite is only a symptom. General weakness pervades the entire body. There is no desire to work or play. It is dangerous to let the red-blood-count remain below normal.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there would be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

It is natural to expect, when you get your blood cells up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, and those skin troubles to disappear. You should get hungry again, sleep soundly, and firm flesh take the place of that which was once flabby. You should feel strong and your nerves become steady.

S. S. S. is daily helping people to regain their strength. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. It promotes a keen appetite, gives vitality to the body, clears the skin and wards off disease. All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical. © S.S.S. Co.

You owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S. Its tonic effects will surprise you.

S.S.S.

2 HELD IN DEATH OF CAPITAL GIRL

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—Two suspects, one arrested in Washington and the other taken from a freight train in Maryland, were under investigation today in the efforts to solve the mystery of the death of Mary Baker, 30-year-old government employe.

Authorities kept secret the identity of both, but disclosed that the arrest in the city came about as the result of information obtained from Miss Baker's friends as to those with whom she had been in company shortly before her death.

The arrest of the suspect in Washington was followed, the police said, by the discovery of a blood-stained shirt in a suitcase believed to have been his property. Police expected to submit him to a rigorous cross-examination.

BALTIMORE, April 16.—(AP.)—A man who gave his name as Alonzo Jones was held by Essex police today as a suspect in the slaying of Mary Baker, Washington government clerk, after he had been taken from a freight train near Aberdeen last night. Jones said he was a seaman and that his home is in Oklahoma.

11 JURYWOMEN TRYING GIRL

Elsie Sheets, 19, the so-called blonde bandit leader, went on trial in Criminal Court today with two men, all accused of robbery on three charges.

The prosecution charges that Elsie, who says she is a widow, drove the getaway car after the men had held up a club in South Diamond street two months ago.

If Elsie is convicted she can blame her own sex, for the jury consists of 11 women and one man.

The other defendants are Henry Marty, of Spring Garden avenue, and James Scullen, of East Lacock street.

Police contend that the fourth member of the gang was James Owens, 24, of Los Angeles, who was shot to death by Patrolman John Hooper in a gun battle with police.

BEGIN CLEANUP CAMPAIGN

"Make Castle Shannon the prettiest borough in the valley," was the slogan adopted by the Castle Shannon Business Men's Club at a meeting held in the railway administration building last night in connection with a "clean up" campaign to extend throughout the entire summer.

The project was announced at a recent meeting of Council and all civic organizations are squarely behind the movement, according to F. D. Barton, who presided at last meeting of the business club in the absence of the president, Prof. J. C. Betterman.

Stolen Pie Costs Hungry Youth $10

Jack Hosek, 16, of 1026 East Ohio street, paid $10 in Morals Court today for a pie he admitted stealing from the bakery of Joseph Vangenewitt, 607 Chestnut street. His only reason was that he was hungry. The proprietor testified a gang of boys had repeatedly raided his shop and stole pies. He said a customer caught the Hosek lad yesterday as he was running away. Magistrate T. D. Jones imposed the fine with an alternative of 10 days in jail.

Printing Craftsmen To Meet Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of the Pittsburgh Club of Printing House Craftsmen will be held at the Fort Pitt Hotel next Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock. Discussion of the coming district convention will be a feature. The conclave will be held in Pittsburgh, beginning May 31. Delegations from Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, Richmond, York and Harrisburg will attend.

URGE REMOVAL OF JAIL WALLS

Members of the Pittsburgh Chapter, American Institute of Architects, at a meeting in the University Club, recommended the removal of the inclosing walls of the Allegheny County jail, shortening of the wing which fronts on Fifth avenue, demolition of the long, diagonal wing, and shortening of the wing which extends westward.

The local chapter was host to members of the Pennsylvania State Association of Architects, with whom they closed their re-examination of the proposed jail removal by reaffirming the former recommendation to preserve the original jail structure designed by H. H. Richardson.

The state association indorsed this action. A report of the meeting, together with recommendations, were ordered sent to county officials.

Geiger To Head Horne Employes

A. G. Geiger was elected president of the Association of Men Employes of the Joseph Horne Company, Monday night. Other officers are: Vice presidents, G. W. McFarland and F. G. Stouffer; corresponding secretary, H. E. Phifer; financial secretary, J. W. Davis; treasurer, R. E. Ashenfelter; directors, H. M. Phifer, Albert A. Horne, Clay Myers, Thomas Eckles, C. F. Goettman, W. T. Speer, M. V. S. Thompson, W. W. Green, S. H. Eccles, R. G. S. Ruffner and L. A. Hubach.

Bankers, Realtors, all good judges of property values, will back us up when we say that as sound an investment as you can make at the present time is to modernize the plumbing and heating of your home. Conditions are right; prices are right.

This Ipswich lavatory will bring new beauty to your bathroom. In white or color.

To modernize means dividends of beauty and comfort, and an actual added value in dollars and cents greater than the cost . . . often two or three times the cost. Now, under the Crane Budget Plan, you need virtually no capital. If the plumbing and heating of any building is below par, call in a Crane Qualified Contractor-Dealer.

Pay nothing until everything is installed

He will help you plan the improvements, and make the installation. Only after everything is done to your satisfaction will he ask the small down payment. You pay the rest in monthly sums. There is a Crane Qualified Contractor-Dealer near you. Consult him now.

Visit the nearby Crane Exhibit Rooms and inspect the latest fixtures. Write for this book. It shows a cross-section of the Crane line, with valuable aid in planning. Every article in it sold on monthly payments.

CITY ASSURED NEW AIRWAY

Pittsburgh has been assured a place on the St. Louis-to-New York airway which the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce has approved. The construction work on five radio range beacons, 12 intermediate landing fields and 50 beacon lights will be started immediately, according to dispatches from Washington.

Two sections of the airway involve new construction work and building of fields and beacon light sites. One starts at St. Louis and extends to Indianapolis via Terre Haute, Ind. The other is from Columbus to Philadelphia by way of Pittsburgh and Harrisburg. The sections between New York and Philadelphia and from Indianapolis and Columbus already are developed.

At Pittsburgh a radio beacon station will be installed and an intermediate landing field will be constructed at Washington, Pa. Intermediate fields will also be built at Indiana, Ebensburg and Williamsburg, Pa.

ACCUSED NURSE OFFICIAL ILL

HARRISBURG, April 16 (INS.)—Charged with irregularities in her accounts amounting to between $4,000 and $6,000, Mrs. Helen S. Herrmann, secretary and treasurer of the state board of examiners for registration of nurses, was in her home today suffering a near collapse.

Charges against Mrs. Herrmann were announced here yesterday by Dr. John A. H. Keith, superintendent of public instruction.

It is the second time within a half year that state employes have been under such charges. Last fall Guy H. Thomas, then an employe of the Department of Agriculture, and Charles C. Stark, a real estate man, were charged with obtaining $129,000 through issuance of false cattle indemnity vouchers. Thomas was sentenced to serve from six to 12 years, and Stark three to six years in Eastern Penitentiary.

ERIE WILL TRY MUMBULOS

ALBANY, N. Y., April 16 (INS.)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt today signed papers to extradite Ralph Mumbulo and wife to Erie, Pa., where they are wanted for questioning in the torch murder of Mumbulo's 11-year-old daughter, Hilda.

The Mumbulos are being held in the Norwich (N. Y.) jail. They were arrested a week ago Saturday on a farm near Norwich on a warrant charging them with being fugitives from justice.

Mumbulo's daughter was burned to death at his apartment in Erie, Pa., after authorities claim her clothes and bed had been soaked with gasoline.

District Attorney Otto Herbst, of Erie, charged the Mumbulos caused the girl's death in order to obtain property worth $8,000 left her by her mother.

Bridgeville Tax Rate Stands At 12 Mills

Bridgeville taxpayers will continue to pay 12 mills for borough purposes, council having decided at a meeting to set the millage for 1930 at that rate, which has been effective without change for six years. Council voted to have Bridgeville Post No. 54, American Legion, take charge hereafter of Memorial Day arrangements. The borough had assumed charge of the celebrations since 1915.

Auto Crash Ruins Dead Girls' Gift To Mother

Mrs. Sarah O'Connell, today in her home, 108 South Fourteenth street, mourned the loss of a priceless treasure, a Jardiniere presented to her by her three daughters, all dead. It was broken when an automobile driven by Leonard Zalla, of 115 Carnot way, plunged into the O'Connell home last night, according to police.

Police reported they had questioned Zalla, but made no arrest.

Police Seek Trace Of Missing Man

The Bureau of Missing Persons has been asked to search for Lee H. Cottschalk, 42, a salesman, missing from his home, 853 Beech avenue, North Side, since April 5. He was last heard from when he called Mrs. Cottschalk on the telephone shortly after 1 p. m., informing her that he would return home at 4 p. m. He is dark complexioned, is five feet eight inches tall, and when he left home he was wearing a navy blue overcoat, dark suit and black derby hat. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Nurse Gains 7 Lbs. in 2 Weeks with Yeast and Iron

"I am a nurse at the hospital," writes Miss Martha Burns, "and I want to let you know I am glad to recommend Ironized Yeast. It gave me a good appetite. I got strong and gained 7 pounds in 2 weeks. I could write all day about how much good Ironized Yeast did me. You would be surprised at the strength I gained in 3 or 4 days."

People everywhere are amazed at the wonderful benefits of Ironized Yeast. Many write they were doubtful when they started. But after taking it regularly for only 3 or 4 weeks they gained 5 to 15 pounds. Ugly hollows fill out. Skinny limbs become gracefully rounded. Blemished skin clears.

Only when Yeast is Ironized is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. Pleasant tablets in a handy bottle. Never cause gas or bloating. Safe—no harmful drugs.

Go to any druggist today and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If after this generous trial you are not delightly your money back instantly from manufacturer.

MODERN PLAGUE IN EGYPT IS DOPE

Heroin Addicts Flock to Rabies Hospital in Hope Of Being Cured of Drugs.

How Egypt, lying peacefully on the blue shores of the Mediterranean, has been debauched and poisoned by dope, is revealed in the fourth of a series of six articles on the international drug traffic.

By G. W. L. DAY.

(Reprinted by special permission of the London Daily Herald.)

LONDON, April 16.

THE story of Egypt's eleventh plague reads like one of the gloomier chapters of Exodus.

Not long ago a remarkable dope discovery was made when the doctor in charge of the Cairo Anti-rabic Institute noticed that an extraordinary number of dog-bite cases were coming from a certain village in lower Egypt.

The doctor grew suspicious and cross-examined one of the victims. He found that only one of the villagers had really been bitten by a dog.

The patients were all drug addicts.

Some months before, one of them named Mohammed, a hopeless drug addict, had been bitten by a mad dog. He had been sent to the Cairo institute for treatment, and, wonder of wonders, when he returned to the village he was cured not only of rabies but of his desire for dope!

Scheme For Cure

THE other villagers immediately began to wonder how they could get to Cairo where the miracle was performed. They appealed to the village barber, a government sanitary agent. He thought it over and told them to return in a week.

So a week later they came to the barber again, and he explained that to get to the Cairo hospital they must appear to have been bitten by a dog.

He then showed them the jaws of a dead dog which he had fitted with a steel spring, and explained that this appliance would give them the necessary lacerations.

Each of them, therefore, had been bitten at reasonable intervals by the barber's dog, and here they were at the Cairo institute, full of joy and confidence that they would be cured of their craving for heroin.

This state of affairs in this village is typical of thousands in the delta today. From Port Said to the Fayyum there is scarcely a single district which has not its pathetic community of drug addicts. And all of them want to be cured.

War Brings Dope

UP TO the end of the war, hashish and opium were the only drugs known in Egypt. A good deal of opium was grown in upper Egypt, and most of this was exported. Hashish, which came from Greece, was a vice of the city slums, but it did comparatively little harm.

Then, at the end of the war, a resident Greek chemist introduced cocaine to the upper classes, and in an incredibly short time made a huge fortune.

The cocaine habit caught on at once and spread to all classes.

Russell Pasha, chief of the Cairo police, was appalled by what he saw, and wrote that the Egyptian nation was being ruined by cocaine.

A more terrible poison than cocaine had now appeared on the scene—heroin. At the beginning of last year the prime minister become so alarmed at the turn of affairs that he charged Russell Pasha with the formation of a special narcotics bureau to fight the scourge.

Investigation found that from the great Roessler factory in Mulhouse, dope smugglers had obtained four tons of heroin—a quantity which, in Russell Pasha's words, did as much damage to Egypt as a major war! But the poison came not only from Switzerland; it came from various European countries, even Great Britain, until the British laws were amended to prevent exportation of "esters," which are chemical extractions of morphia.

The next article of this series, to appear Friday, describes the tortures suffered by dope addicts.

Divorce Courts Of Reno Aid Census

RENO, Nev., April 16.—(AP.)—The divorce courts here are lending a helping hand in obtaining for Reno its just dues in the matter of population.

Every applicant for a decree who appeared before the district judges yesterday was asked if he had been enumerated in the census.

A negative answer immediately brought forth a census blank from the clerk's desk and the divorce applicant was duly enrolled.

COWARD DEATH LAW TO STAND

LONDON, April 16.—(AP.)—The death penalty for cowardice and desertion by soldiers of the British army, abolished by the House of Commons early this month, has been restored by the army and air force annual bill by the House of Lords yesterday. An amendment to this effect, moved by Viscount Fitzalan was voted by 44 to 12.

Though it is held among military men that British pluck and discipline is far more a matter of courageous spirit than fear of a penalty, it is still felt that abolition would strike to the roots of the whole army system and might lead, in exceptional circumstances, to danger of disorder.

Field Marshal Lord Plumer, supporting Lord Fitzalan, declared that the bill, if unaltered, would affect the future morale of the army. Field Marshal Lord Allenby agreed with him, asserting that offenses punishable by death endangered the lives of many men, the success of operations and might easily lead to disaster.

RAILROAD BOMB PLOT NIPPED

EL CENTRO, Cal., April 16.—(AP.)—Sheriff Charles L. Gillett announced last night that his investigators had uncovered an alleged plot by Communists to dynamite railroads in an effort to halt the movement of Imperial Valley's cantaloupe crop and force demands of labor upon melon growers.

More than 100 alleged Communists were arrested and questioned. Twenty-five alleged leaders in the plot were held at the Imperial County jail on charges of commercial syndicalism.

The arrests were made Monday night in a raid on a hall here where a meeting was in progress, during which, the sheriff said, plans to dynamite the railroads were discussed.

State College Man Injured in Crash

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., April 16.—(AP.)—Paul G. Skelly, an instructor in Pennsylvania State College at State College, Pa., was injured here when an automobile in which he was traveling with two students collided with the car of Elmer Besseger, Moundsville banker. Skelly suffered cuts on the face and had several teeth knocked out.

The instructor was arrested on a charge of reckless driving and destruction of property. He gave bond of $100 and will be given a hearing tomorrow.

Cat Loses Kittens, Now Mothers Lambs

WAYNESBURG, Pa., April 16.—A cat belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Forney L. Dulaney, of Spraggs, losing her four kittnes, has adopted three pet lambs on which she bestows the same affection that she showed for her kittens.

The cat has caught mice and brought them to the lambs, but they prefer bottles of milk they are given for nourishment.

ITALIAN FAMILY MADE HAPPY

Mother Now Restored to Health—Praises Famous Remedy.

Eight years ago Mrs. Joe Gogola, of Washington, Pa., came over from Italy with her husband and a fine family of four children. Now there are two more big boys and a little bambino in the cradle. That makes seven in all besides her husband. Plenty of work for Mrs. Gogola! But not too much, as long as she was strong and healthy.

"Everything went fine with us," she says, "for the first year after we came to our new home. Then I began to notice my cheeks fading and pains in my stomach—particularly after eating I would swell up with gas. At first I tried to pay no attention and go right on with my work. But after a month or so the pains got so terrible that I could not stand on my feet. Many times the children would have to help me get supper. I dragged along this way for years. Most of the time I wished I were dead. We spent lots of money on different kinds of medicines but they did me no good. I got worse instead of better. I was very nervous and could not remember anything. A short time ago some good Italian friends told me that the whole trouble was caused by getting adjusted to new conditions here in our new home, so different from Italy. That was why, so they said, I could not get any good from ordinary American medicines. Then they told me about World's Tonic, the amazing remedy containing herbs gathered from different parts of the world.

"After I learned the wonderful good World's Tonic had done for Italians and other people, both men and women, I decided to try it.

"My whole family was amazed at the good I got from the first bottle of World's Tonic. I started to get well with the first spoonful and after using the remedy steadily for a little over three weeks I was entirely restored to health. Now I am strong and healthy and enjoy our family life. Our home used to be sad but now everyone is happy. My husband says I should be glad to tell anyone about the wonderful good I got from using World's Tonic."

World's Tonic is on sale at Dow's, May's & Liggett's, Mayflower, and all other modern drug stores. (A-8)

AIDS LAUD BYRD LEADERSHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16—(AP.)—Three of Richard E. Byrd's followers into the Antarctic came home yesterday, declaring that they had had enough of Polar regions for a while but insisting that they were willing to go again with Byrd literally to the ends of the earth.

Captain A. N. Parker, of Crystal Springs, Miss., who was with Byrd both in the Far North and Far South, commented that one would hav to go far to find a better leader.

Captain C. A. McKinley, of St. Louis, who not only flew over the South Pole with Byrd but took pictures of its environs, asserted that it had been Byrd's cheery personality which kept up the morale of the expedition during their long months together.

C. A. Thorne, of Chicago, chief surveyor, was ready with his quota of praise for the fine character and steady leadership of "The Admiral," as all three called Byrd.

Captain Parker, former Marine Corps flier, smilingly commented that his work with the expedition was finished when the flying missions were completed.

EINSTEIN TALKS ON NEW WORK

BERLIN, April 16—(AP.)—At a meeting of the Prussian Academy of Sciences last night, Dr. Albert Einstein elucidated his latest work on the uniform field theory, aiming at establishing uniformity in the fields of electricity and gravity, that is to say, in the surroundings of electrical or heavy bodies in which the effects of these bodies become noticeable.

To make it possible to embrace these phenomena in the same viewpoint with the aid of the same mathematical equations, is the object of Einstein's uniform field theory.

This aims at nothing less than a sweeping simplication of methods for calculating the physical cosmos.

Dr. Einstein described the points of view he had started from in order to arrive at his field equations. In these, besides the assumption of coherent variability laid down in his relativity theory, his assumption of the compatibility of the equations plays most important role, since more equations exist than are required for determining the size and functions of bodies.

Summer Colds

Quick Relief from any Cold, Sore Throat, Headache or Other Pain

DON'T treat a "slight cold" lightly! The discomfort of a summer cold can easily develop into dangerous illness if neglected. A tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin will check a cold as quickly as it came. And you will get immediate relief from the headache that goes with it. If there's a sore throat, too, crush 2 tablets in 4 tablespoons of water, and gargle. Those who have learned the true value of Bayer Aspirin are never without it in any season of the year. It's always ready to relieve headaches, neuritis, neuralgia, and a long list of aches and pains. See proven directions in each package. Genuine Bayer Aspirin does not depress the heart. Every drugstore has the genuine.

OPPOSE WOMEN AS PASTORS

PHILADELPHIA, April 16—(AP.)—Less than one-half of the Presbyteries in the United States have taken a vote on the overtures proposing to give women equal rights with men in the government of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., it was announced here.

There are 293 Presbyteries, and a total of 147 must vote "yes" on an overture to insure its adoption as a law of the church. Many of the Presbyteries do not meet until late in April. The time limit expires with the meeting of the general assembly in Cincinnati, May 29.

On Overture A, which proposes to permit women to be ordained as ministers and also as ruling elders, the official vote to date is, yes, 48; no, 66.

On Overture B, which proposes to permit women to be ordained as ruling elders but not as ministers, yes, 70; no, 46.

Overture C, which proposes to admit women to lincensure as local evangelists, yes, 66; no, 59.

A Call to Action

10 YEARS ago the generation ahead of us passed an amendment . . . the Eighteenth. We are completely convinced that liquor cannot be legislated out of existence by Prohibition. We are banded together to secure True Temperance . . . the temperance of LIQUOR CONTROL.

Are You Satisfied

WITH gin parties for high school girls and boys?

WITH rum-running, boot-legging, hijacking?

WITH the graft and bribery born of Prohibition?

WITH subsidized crime?

WITH highway gun-battles and border warfare?

WITH snoopers and under-cover men?

WITH legalized killings?

WITH WET-drinking, DRY-voting congressmen and senators?

WITH NATIONAL HYPOCRISY?

If NOT, enroll with us—join The Crusaders TODAY

OUR PLATFORM

THE CRUSADERS stand for True Temperance.

THE CRUSADERS are opposed to the prohibition of liquor because the prohibition of liquor is wrong in principle

. . prohibition of liquor has proved impossible in practice

THE CRUSADERS are in favor of controlling liquor by government regulation, state or national, because

. . control is right in principle

. . control has proved practical

THE CRUSADERS will support all reasonable and practical steps in the direction of substituting for National Prohibition a program of liquor control which shall be intelligent and which, because it shall be acceptable to a majority of the American People, will be capable of fulfillment.

If you believe that Prohibition as it exists today is mainly responsible for the huge increase in lawlessness, crime, and corruption, we urge you most earnestly to fill out and mail the attached coupon NOW!

Mothers: Don't miss this!

A new, delicious cereal by HEINZ of "57" fame supplies a "VEGETABLE EFFECT" See what it does for children

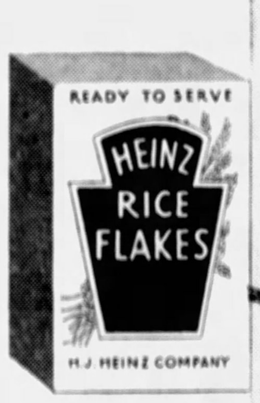
ONE OF THE 57



Children can't resist this flavor, so they don't resist these benefits.

SEE HOW HE LIKES THEM

Here are luscious, crunchy, oven-toasted rice flakes—daintiest you've ever tasted—offering one of vegetables' best effects. It means help in regulating the important health-habits of children with complete cooperation on the children's part. HEINZ has accomplished this unusual result by including in these flavory flakes a fine cereal-cellulose, a natural food-substance which is a part of rice itself. Children are conscious only of an alluring food. HEINZ has spent eight years in developing this rare combination after sixty years' experience in food making.

NO BRAN IN IT

This remarkable new product contains no bran—nothing harsh or irritating in any way whatever. It is effective in a different manner. When moisture is absorbed (after eating) the volume of the cereal-cellulose increases four to six times.

Thus an entirely natural mild, gentle bulk and roughage is created—high in efficiency, like that formed by the best vegetables.

Think of clothing such a benefit in flakes that stand unique among all breakfast foods even though you judge them by flavor, or daintiness of texture only!

HEINZ Rice Flakes supply all of the usual energizing food value of rice in addition to this feature. Don't use in place of vegetables, of course, because certain food-essentials can come through vegetables alone. Let HEINZ Rice Flakes supplement the vegetable diet.

Make this test. Get a children's jury to try HEINZ RICE FLAKES on the point of flavor solely! Then serve twice daily for one week to start the benefits; once daily thereafter to maintain them.

That will tell the story far better than we can in print.

If not the most delicious and effective cereal you've ever known, your grocer will cheerfully refund the purchase price. But we believe HEINZ Rice Flakes will be on your pantry shelf to stay!

Remember, no other cereal of any type provides this extraordinary feature. A HEINZ patent controls it. To get it for your children, therefore, you must insist on HEINZ Rice Flakes. They are just as good for grown-ups as for children.

SURVEY SHOWS INDUSTRIAL GAIN HERE

SIDE WALKS of PITTSBURGH

by WILLIAM PFARR

MISS Florence E. Wrenshall supervises the activities of the Pennsylvania Board of Censors in Pittsburgh. For 15 years Miss Wrenshall has been in that field. Each day she commutes from her home in Washington, Pa., to her office in Fourth avenue. She was first appointed by the late Gov. Brumbaugh and she has been reappointed by Governors Sproul, Fisher and Pinchot. Befor that she was a school teacher and, we have no doubt, a good one, for she makes an excellent representative of the state.

Miss Wrenshall is an attractive, gracious woman, in her thirties. She says that in all her years with the Censor Board she his never met anybody in the film business who was discourteous, but this is partly to her credit for she herself is the essence of courtesy.

Miss Wrenshall first was an inspector of movies, which meant that she went to three or four movies a day to see that censored portions of the films had actually been eliminated. Today others do that, but Miss Wrenshall still goes to the movies often. She likes, especially, wild westerns and mystery films. If she's not at a movie in her spare time, she's reading or playing golf. She plays a poorer game of golf now (at Nemacolin) than she did when she took up the game 15 years ago. Her drive is poor, she explains, but she usually recovers on her second shot. She began playing this year in the second week of February.

Virtually all the films shown in Pennsylvania are consored in Philadelphia by a board of two men and one woman. There are two classes of films that Miss Wrenshall herself oversees—commercial films, such as a reel or two showing the manufacture of a local product and (2) the song slides shown in many theaters. Seldom is there anything to censor in the commercial films. When there is an objectionable line on one of the song slides Miss Wrenshall submits that slide to the censors in Philadelphia. There is nothing complicated about the preliminary censoring of a song slide; all Miss Wrenshall does is hold it up to the light to read its lines.

An inspector from Miss Wrenshall's office sees every picture shown in all the big theaters and many of the small theaters in Western Pennsylvania. This inspector carries with him a sheet showing the cuts (censored portions) ordered by the board. The inspector checks to see that these cuts have been obeyed. In the great majority of cases they have been. Two of the inspectors for Pittsburgh proper are women.

Much of the work of the local office is to keep the film exchanges informed of cuts made by the state board. The time element is important. If a picture is reviewed by the board in Philadelphia today, tomorrow's mail carries the board's decision to Miss Wrenshall's office and she is in a position to inform the exchanges what changes must be made before the film can be shown.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 16.

"THE daughters of one of our early and most exclusive revolutions" are in a huddle in Washington. Membership in this proves that you did have a forefather on or about 1776. No membership proves that your forefathers, if any, must have sprung up from somewhere in just practically the last few years. Mrs. Hobart, their president, made a speech against "entering Europe by pen or pencil and against sinking even a rowboat." She was cheered to the echo.

Then Mr. Hoover faced practically the same descendants a few hours later advocating "joining anything that had an application blank and sinking everything until we reached 'parity' with Switzerland." He was cheered to the same echo. Now, what's the answer? The only thing I can make of it, the daughters like to cheer.

Yours,
WILL.

Ardeth Meets Ken While at Work for Jeanette

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Ardeth Carroll is being wooed by Neil Burke, who rooms with her Aunt Stella. Almost every night when she returns home from work she finds him waiting in the hall for her, and he often causes her to be late for dinner. Aunt Stella gets angered and scolds Ardeth for holding back the meals. Ardeth feels depressed. Ardeth goes for a machine ride with Neil. Passing through a park Ardeth gazes at Kent Gleason, a college football player, whom she knows to see. Neil shows signs of jealousy. Later, when Neil kisses her, Ardeth realizes that she does not love him. Jeanette Parker, society girl, calls at the store to see Ardeth. Jeanette is revengeful against her own sister, Cecile, who is taking the spotlight of prominence from her. As an excuse to shun social events, Jeanette plans to open a speciality shop. Ardeth Consents to work for her. Neil begs Ardeth to marry him, but she refuses.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VII.

JEANETTE'S shop was most appropriately named The Caprice.

It was probably the city's smallest store—a narrow sliver of space sandwiched in between a fashionable milliner on one side and a smart fur store on the other.

The window could be dressed with but one exhibit at a time—an exaggerated fan of flame colored ostrich feathers—or an exquisite cloisonne vase. Once it was a golden-yellow Mandarin coat, flung with elegant carelessness over a teakwood chair—Jeanette had brought that back on her last trip to the Orient. And once, there was nothing in the window save a train of ivory elephants, diminishing in size as they marched solemnly along a strip of black satin.

The shop proved the sensation Jeanette had desired. It was discussed over the tea tables of Pacific avenue. "Have you seen that place Jeanette Parker has opened? My dear, they say it's actually good! You must go—"

Jeanette was able to pose to her heart's content.

"Really one should get more out of life than bridge and golf, don't you think?" she would ask brightly. "So many of the titled Englishwomen are going in for trade, you know . . ."

It lent an air of smartness which made it the vogue.

Ken Calls
Sees Ardeth at Work And Admires Her

They came in chattering groups to exclaim over the exquisite trifles, crowding the small shop beyond its capacity—fur-coated ladies smelling of expensive perfumes. Gentlemen with golf togs and Harvard accents—English accents—southern accents.

There came one day Ken Gleason.

It was late in the afternoon. Ardeth was crouching on her heels in the window marshaling the ivory elephants along the strip of satin.

The picture reached out to arrest the young man as he started in the doorway and he stopped.

A slim girl in black sitting back on her heels. Lights beating down on her tawny hair turned it to a golden blot against the black satin drape behind her. She was like a black and gold and ivory tapestry come to life, thought the man.

He found a sort of tender ridicule welling up in his heart. Something sweet and absurd in the profound gravity with which she was arranging the ivory procession—lining up the smallest elephants with a slim forefinger—like a youngster playing with toys.

Surprised
Remembers Having Seen Her Before

He had a flash of startled golden eyes sweeping up to meet his own through the plate glass as he obeyed, and he had a moment of excited surprise. The girl in the park! The girl who had looked at him so strangely that Sunday morning!

"Well, what do you think of my shop?" asked Jeanette, avid for praise.

He flashed an infectious grin at her. "Your window display can't be beat, Jennie!"

Jeanette laughed. It pleased her to have Ken Gleason treat her with this camaraderie. She was three years older than Ken and she airily called him an "infant," yet she liked—and made a bid for—the handsome young fellow's approval.

"Don't tease the poor working girl, Ken! What brings you in here anyway?"

"I'm sent to drive you home. A great honor is being conferred upon you, Miss Parker! I'm having dinner with you tonight. Mother and Cecile are outside in the car. Your dad wasn't ready to leave the office, but he told me to run away and pick you up on the way."

Jeanette's restless eyes were roving over the shop as she put on her hat before the mirror.

"Ardeth—better use the black fan in the case tomorrow. We've shown that flame one for two days. And put out those two emerald cigaret cases I bought today."

Ardeth! Under his breath the man tried it softly. A name which fitted her. Something medieval about it. It brought to his mind bits of his half-forgotten English course at college. Ardeth! Lovely ladies who wept alone on tower tops when their knights rode off to war. Ardeth! What a golden thing she was! Where had Jeanette found her?

Introduced
Ardeth and Ken Are Made Acquainted

When Ardeth had climbed out of the window Jeanette introduced her with that hint of patronage which she always showed an "outsider."

"Mr. Gleason—Miss Carroll!" She mumbled it because she was rouging her lips at the moment. "Ardeth's my faithful Man Friday, Ken," she explained, carelessly. "And, Ardeth, before you go, don't forget to make sure the cash drawer's locked. Tony's coming to wash the window and cases in the morning—perhaps you'd better get down a few minutes early. Oh, Ken—the trials of a business woman!" She turned to him in mock despair. "Well, come on: let's go—I'm exhausted and half starved!"

Strangely still seemed the little shop to the girl they left behind. She leaned on the top of a showcase and dreamed.

"Your window display can't be beat." The memory called up a dimple in her cheek.

Leaning back on one elbow like that there had been an awkward grace about his tall slim figure. But it was not good looks alone which formed the charm of Ken Gleason. Neil was tall and strong, too—Neil's coarse black hair—his black eyes and white teeth were good looking in their own way.

Imagination
Thinks of Him With Cecile Parker

Something further, thought the dreaming girl. Perhaps it was the odd effect of brightness about Ken. How the electric light had gleamed on his smoothly brushed brown hair. His eyes were startling blue in his tanned face. And when he smiled his lips had a queer whimsical twist on one side. Crisp lips—what she thought of as "hard" lips. She wouldn't like a man with "soft" lips. If Ken Gleason kissed a girl his lips would feel firm and pleasant.

Ardeth suddenly caught sight of her own glowing eyes in the mirror opposite and her face flamed.

"Oh, you poor fool;" she whispered. "As if he cared whether you were living or not!"

Her imagination flashed a picture to torture her. Ken Gleason dining at the Parker's big house on Jackson street. Ken's brown head close to the straw colored marcel of Cecile Parker. His eyes laughing into Cecile's.

That night she went to a picture show with Neil. And when he kissed her goodnight later in the dark hallway, she was passive in his arms.

BARREL-KILLING REPORT READY ON STAINS

Chemist's Analysis Finished; Search Continues for New Suspect Named in Quiz

County Chemist F. C. Buckmaster has completed analysis of the stains believed to be blood found in the Lorigan street garage and alleged brewery of Philip Fazio, suspect in the "barrel" murder mystery.

If his report, to be made to County Detective Chief George Murren today, declares the stains to be blood it will, in the opinion of the detectives, clinch their theory that William Gregory, 22, whose headless body was found in Penn Township two weeks ago, was murdered in the Fazio establishment.

An inquest into Gregory's death has been set by the coroner for May 1.

WIDOW TO CLAIM ASHES

Gregory's widow, Mrs. Alberta Gregory, 21, today told Morgue Supt. John P. Black that she would claim the ashes of her husband's body, cremated yesterday at the University of Pittsburgh, and would scatter them to the four winds next week in Uniondale Cemetery. This was her husband's request, she stated.

Sleuths still are searching for another man they wish to question in connection with the slaying. He was named, detectives say, by James Moleno, 30, of Clairton, who, detectives allege, has made serious accusations against Fazio during a grilling.

SIX SUSPECTS FREED

Two women and four young men who were taken into custody in Bloomfield and East Liberty yesterday, were released after they had been questioned by Chief County Detective George W. Murren.

The effects of Gregory, including his clothing, his automobile and some papers, were turned over to the county evidence custodian yesterday after his body had been cremated at the medical building of the University of Pittsburgh.

Bettis Field Gets Commercial License

The State Aeronautics Commission has issued a limited commercial license, including school instruction, to Bettis Field, it was announced today. The license was issued following the recent conference of the state body with the Pennsylvania Operators' Co-operative Association in Harrisburg.

The commission also announced the amendment to existing state flying school rules. The amendment is to the effect that airports and landing fields used for passenger planes and school instruction shall be 1,500 feet square, with clear approaches, or two landing strips 1,500 feet in effective length.

City Cannot Aid Air Tour Says Solicitor

Council cannot grant the request of the Pennsylvania Goodwill Air Tours for $1,750 to aid in underwriting a tour of the state in May, City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt ruled yesterday.

He made his ruling in the presence of L. T. Barry, president, and E. W. Thomson, treasurer, who appeared in the interests of the proposition. The law prevents the city from "underwriting" any such thing, Waldschmidt explained, although Council could make a direct appropriation. The matter was held over pending action on a similar request by the county.

Swissvale Police Chief Reinstated

Chief W. N. Campbell, of Swissvale police, was back at work today, council having reinstated him at its meeting last night. Campbell was suspended last week by Burgess W. T. Pyle, who asserted the chief had been conducting his night force in a lax manner. It marked the second time Campbell had been suspended by the burgess since he became chief at Swissvale, in January.

Government Boat Contract Awarded

The War Department yesterday awarded a contract to the American Bridge Company for the construction of five maneuver boats for the use of the United States engineers of the Cincinnati district. The boats will be 75 feet long, 24 feet wide and will require 350 tons of steel plates and shapes.

SUSPECT HELD IN LOTTERY

Charged with conducting a lottery in connection with Christmas relief, J. T. Brown will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace William Wilkinson, of Turtle Creek, tonight. Police Chief W. J. Whalen, of Turtle Creek, today brought Brown from Akron, O., where he had been arrested.

Brown, police said, conducted a raffle in Turtle Creek shortly before last Christmas, promising the profit would be devoted to giving baskets of foodstuffs to worthy poor in the borough.

After several gifts had been delivered, but not paid for, according to police, Brown, who was a piano instructor, was said to have left town.

Brown's wife, Mrs. Jane Brown, according to police, appeared in Turtle Creek yesterday and paid John Orr, a grocer, the amount owed him for the Christmas baskets, the storekeeper dropping charges he had preferred against the man. Chief Whalen, however, refused to drop the lottery charge against Brown.

YO YO EXPERTS SHOW METHODS

When you see it in a cartoon, it's in the public mind. Cartoonists endeavor to reflect the news of the day and the trend of the times. Pittsburgh cartoonists have already discovered the YO-YO is well on its way to be a reigning fad—evidenced by the fact that they have begun to exploit the Yo-Yo in their drawings.

It was the Sun-Telegraph and the Warner Brothers' Theater management that set this little brightly painted red ball a rolling. More than 5,000 Yo-Yoes were given to children at the special matinee in the Warner Brothers' neighborhood theaters last week, and arrangements have been made to duplicate this number at special matinees during the next few days.

Every boy or girl attending the Enright Theater next Saturday afternoon will be presented with a Yo-Yo, and at this matinee experts will be in attendance to show the youngsters how to get the best results with their Yo-Yoes. Next Monday there will be special matinees at all the Warner neighborhood theaters, at which there will be a free distribution of Yo-Yoes.

But to get a Yo-Yo, you must have a coupon clipped from the Sun-Telegraph. Clip the coupon today and then go Yo-Yo.

DEFENSE CLAIM IN KILLING

Samuel A. Hughes, 33, a Negro, of Coverdale, told police he fired in self-defense when he shot and killed Preston Domes, 35 a Negro, of Coverdale, in the bunk house of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation, at Coverdale, last night, according to police.

Domes began calling Hughes names when the latter refused to play cards with him. To avoid an argument, Hughes walked to the bunkhouse with Domes, razor in hand, behind him, police say. Domes broke down the door and was about to wield the razor when Hughes fired twice, striking Domes in the head and chest, police reported. After the shooting, Hughes surrendered to company police, who turned him over to county detectives.

Pennsy's Handling Of Trains Improves

The Pennsylvania Railroad's campaign for smoother handling of passenger trains, through the use of mdern recording gauges and closer teamwork between engine and train crews, is showing satisfactory results, road foremen of engines from the Central Region reported at a meeting here yesterday. Enginemen are being greatly helped by the general adoption of the graduated release airbrake equipment on passenger trains, it was said.

School Tax Raised In West Homestead

West Homestead taxpayers will pay a half-mill more in school taxes this year, the Board of Education having raised the tax rate to 12 mills at its meeting yesterday. President W. B. Johnston, Secretary B. S. Powers and Solicitor W. G. Powell were named a committee to look over a tract in West Run road and report back to the board whether it is adaptable as a site for a playground and athletic field.

Phone Cable Work To Be Improved

RAIL ORDERS INCREASE ACTIVITY

Municipal and Commercial Building Aids Employment In Pittsburgh District

New orders for railroad, ship building, automobile and construction material will increase activity and employment in Pittsburgh district manufacturing plants and mills during April and May, a United States Department of Labor survey, issued today, predicted.

Industrial employment conditions continued irregular throughout the past month, the survey showed, but gave promise of a change to the better as spring broke.

STEEL SHOWS GAINS

Steel mill activities showed a slight recession in several departments from that of February and temporarily affected the upward trend in employment that had, according to official data, been gaining momentum during the previous 60 days.

Tin plate mills and plants producing railroad equipment maintained a fair rate of activity, with a slight increase in employment. Rail mills were fairly busy, and volume of work in car building shops and structural steel plants will keep these organizations busy for several months, the survey disclosed.

The survey showed that to a great extent labor conditions in coal, coke and glass industries remained slightly below par, but held on to an optomistic outlook into the early future.

Conditions in electrical manufacturing plants appeared good.

GOOD TIMES RETURN

Further proof that prosperity is returning, the survey showed, was made apparent by programs of municipal and commercial building improvements, all to start within the next few weeks.

Territory included in the survey was Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Homestead, Duquesne, Clairton, Braddock, McKees Rocks, Bridgeville, Coraopolis, East Pittsburgh, New Brighton, Butler, Monessen, Washington, Donora, Charleroi and Woodlawn.

Conditions throughout the state were reported as "good."

'PAL' DIES YOUTH KILLS HIMSELF

John Dore, 19, of 1301 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, is dead today, his desire to die having been greater than his will to live since the death of his close comrade, Lawrence Moriarity, 21, of 549 Evans avenue, McKeesport. Moriarity died in the McKeesport Hospital April 3, from injuries sustained in a fall downstairs.

Dore had since been residing at the home of Moriarity's parents and after members of the family had retired late last night they heard a shot. Running to Dore's room they found him on the floor with a revolver nearby. He was taken to the McKeesport Hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

A note was found in his room, members of the family said, declaring that life was worthless without Lawrence.

3 NATIONS JOIN IN FETE HERE JULY 8-9

Pageant To Be Held Where British General Fell and Washington Won Glory.

Citizens of Braddock, North Braddock and Rankin today matured their plans for the national celebration on July 8 and 9 of the one hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary of the battle of the Monongahela, tragic struggle of the French and Indian War and one of the most sanguinary conflicts in American history.

The field where the unfortunate Gen. Edward Braddock fell, and where George Washington first distinguished himself as a military leader, will be the scene of impressive ceremonies. Representing the nations engaged in the battle, the British and French ambassadors will attend, as well as members of the President's Cabinet, the governors of Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and the delegations in Congress from these respective states.

BATTLE PAGEANT

At the hour on July 9 when Braddock's army forded the Monongahela in 1755 and was surrounded by the French and Indians under Beaujeu, a great pageant will be held, the procession of the military and divisions of floats passing over the principal streets of the three boroughs. The parade will pass over the very ground where Braddock's lines were formed and where more than two-thirds of his men were killed and scalped.

The tentative program provides for field day on Tuesday, July 8, and historic pageants depicting the story of the expedition against Fort Duquesne. On the following day the distinguished guests will be taken on a boat excursion on the river and the parade will be held in the afternoon, culminating with the dedication of a heroic statue of George Washington, as a Virginia colonel, by Frank Vittor. In the evening a banquet will be held to close the celebration.

COMMISSION PROVIDED

A national commission, appointed by President Hoover, will direct the observance in co-operation with the local committees. The national commission will be appointed on authority of a bill introduced in Congress by Representative Clyde Kelly.

The organization was completed at a meeting yesterday in the office of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works. George A. Todd is general chairman, with George Peoples treasurer and J. P. Harman secretary.

LEAVES PRISON TO FACE COURT

Edwin David Mitchell, 28, of Buffalo, upon being released from the Western Penitentiary after serving three years, one and a half months of an indeterminate sentence of three to 10 years, was taken to the Federal District Court. There he pleaded guilty of transporting a stolen automobile from Buffalo to Dubois, Pa.

Judge Nelson McVicar deferred sentence until an investigation disclosed the nature of a charge pending against him in the Federal Court in the Middle District of Pennsylvania. When released he found detainers lodged against him by the two District Courts.

Mitchell had been sentenced in the Clearfield County Court to the Huntingdon Reformatory for breaking into and robbing an automobile accessory store in Dubois at the time he was in possession of the stolen automobile. He told Judge McVicar that he was transferred at his own request from the reformatory to the penitentiary, because of circumstances beyond his control that prevented him getting "good time" marks in the reformatory.

He also declared he did not know the reason for the lodging of the detainer from the Middle District Court.

RAIDERS SMASH DOOR IN CLUB

Battering down the steel door of a second-floor club at 308 Federal street, a squad of prohibition agents found seven persons, including a woman, drinking in the place, late yesterday.

The patrons were ordered out of the club and a search of the place resulted in the seizure of 250 pints of home brew and several bottles of whisky and gin, agents reported. William F. Smith, 53, and Edward J. White, 30, arrested in the raid, denied ownership of the club, according to the raiders.

Confiscation of 55 cases of home brew and four pints of whisky in a club in the rear of 425 Railroad street, Bridgeville, led to the arrests of W. S. Cooper, Emmett O'Donnell and Edwin Dalton, the dry officers reported.

14 HIT IN POLICE SHAKEUP

The demotion of two detectives and the transfer of 12 patrolmen was announced by Police Superintendent Peter P. Walsh today.

Recently appointed, Detectives James Degnan and William Carroll were reduced to sub-patrolmen at the East End and South Side Police Stations, respectively. Other patrolmen included in the shakeup were Walter Fletcher, Linwood Bond, Louis J. Ebner, James Pemberthy, William A. Maynard, Joseph L. Ackerman, Edward D. Rosenteel, Michael Freeman, Frank Drake, Harry Sweitzer, Joseph D. Scanlon, and George Tully.

Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's question: That opposite types should marry is often suggested for a reduction of the divorce rate. What is your opinion?

N. P. LANDAY, East End, jeweler — Certainly opposite types should marry. I can see no reason why such a married couple would not get along. If two persons of opposite types marry you can be sure that they won't grow tiresome to one another as would two persons who have the same temperaments.

N. P. Landay

CHRISTY WILBERT, East End, writer—I don't believe anybody should marry. They do, nevertheless. All this talk about types is unimportant and silly. No two persons have the same thoughts, admire the same things and enjoy the same pleasures. Everybody is a little different. Types have no bearing on decreasing the divorce rate.

Christy Wilbert

HARRIET PETTIT, East End, secretary—What difference need it make if opposites marry? Marriage is an entirely fifty-fifty proposition and its base rests on love. One party must leave room for the other's opinion. If this is done, the divorce rate will take a slump from which it won't recover.

Miss Pettit

DOROTHY KLINVEX, East End, stenographer—When persons of opposite types marry it is either a big success or a dismal failure. I don't know whether the divorce rate would be decreased or increased by such marriages. I believe, though, that if they use their heads they can make such a marriage successful.

Miss Klinvex

J. H. BLOWITZ, East End, manager—It is my opinion that everybody should attempt to marry one of an opposite type. By this I mean we should be broadminded enough to try and see values in things we ourselves know nothing about and care less. We are all unique in that what suits us don't suit somebody else. The divorce rate will take a cut if we are broadminded.

J. H. Blowitz

MRS. RUTH LEIFER, East End, proprietor—There is nothing wrong with two individuals of opposite type marrying. I'm not so sure that it will have any effect on the divorce rate. If it does so much the better. If we marry the man or woman we love types won't matter, for we won't attempt to class our wife or husband according to type.

Mrs. Leifer

NAME LEADERS IN UNION FUND

Prominent Pittsburghers will assume leadership of the $300,000 appeal of the Methodist Episcopal Church Union for philanthropic and recreation work, it was announced today by M. L. Benedum, honorary chairman.

Girls at Trinity Will Stage Opera

"Sweethearts," one of Victor Herbert's most popular operas, has been selected as the 1930 production of the Trinity Branch of the Girls' Friendly Society. It will be given under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Shea at the Nixon Theater the evenings of May 23 and 24. Tryouts for all parts, including principals and chorus, will be held at Trinity House, Oliver avenue, Monday evening, April 21, at 7 o'clock. The Girls' Friendly Society is made up of over 600 business girls, banded together for social and philanthropic purposes. The proceeds from the presentation of "Sweethearts" will be devoted to the acquiring of a building near Export, Pa., where members of the organization may spend their vacations, or remain during recuperation after illness. It is to be known as "Holiday House."

MASS MEETING TO AID FUND

A mass meeting for friends of the Roselia Foundling Asylum and Maternity Hospital, as a climax to the drive for $100,000, will be held in the William Penn Hotel next Tuesday night. Men and women prominent in social and civic affairs will be speakers.

Judge Frank P. Patterson, who last night delivered an appeal for funds for the asylum in an address over WCAE, presided at a luncheon in the hotel yesterday, when plans for the mass meeting were made. He characterized the home as "the only mother hundreds of children in Pittsburgh have ever known."

Lawrence Riddle presided. Other speakers were D. A. Harris, J. Rogers Flannery, vice chairman of the campaign, and D. L. Lawrence.

Police, Fire Vets To Honor Officials

APPEAL FROM TAX ON $2,000,000 BUHL GIFT ARGUED

$330,228 LEVY BY U. S. HELD ILLEGAL

Court Reserves Decision In Old Litigation Over Bequest Made Sharon

Arguments on whether the government was entitled to $330,228.12 collected as estate tax from the $2,000,000 endowment fund set aside for the benefit of the citizens of Sharon, Pa., in the will of Frank H. Buhl, iron manufacturer and philanthropist, were made before Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker.

It was on an action brought by Fred W. Koehler and Julia F. Buhl, executors of the Buhl estate, to recover the tax paid, with interest. Counsel for the executors contend that the fund was not taxable, as it was a charitable gift. Government counsel insisted it is subject to tax, as the will directed that the money be placed in an endowment fund.

Buhl, who died June 7, 1918, left an estate estimated at $5,467,450. He bequeathed $2,000,000 to French and Belgium refugees and other large sums to charity. The suit to recover the tax paid on the endowment is of long standing, having been brought against C. G. Lewellyn, former collector of internal revenue.

In defense of the suit the government was represented by Attorney John A. McCann, Pittsburgh representative of general counsel, Bureau of Internal Revenue, and Assistant United States Attorney W. J. Aiken. The executors were represented by Attorney Hugh Satterlee, of New York, and the Pittsburgh law firm of Patterson, Crawford, Arensberg and Dunn.

The court reserved its decision.

COUNCIL FIGHT ON NEW JOBS

A proposal to create 10 temporary positions in the Bureau of Engineering faces a fight when it comes up for final action in Council Monday.

The ordinance had a narrow escape at the Councilmanic Committee meeting yesterday, being affirmed by a vote of four to three. The battle against it was led by Councilman Robert J. Alderdice.

Thomas Reed, chief of the bureau, said that he had only seven men for work on the elaborate construction schedule and that it will be impossible to go ahead unless temporary positions were created.

Alderdice demanded that the ordinance be sent to Mayor Charles H. Kline for a report pointing out that only a short time ago a large number of the bureau were discharged on the ground that there was no work for them to do.

Councilman John S. Herron, moving to affirm, said that while there may not have been work at that time there is now. He urged that the positions be created in order to push the construction program so that a large number of unemployed can get jobs.

The positions include eight draftsmen and two squad leaders.

JUDGES TO ACT IN LEGION PLAY

Either Judge George V. Moore or Judge S. J. Snee will play the part of uncle or aunt in "The Womanless Wedding" when it is presented April 23 and 24 by Hilltop Post No. 438, American Legion, in Carrick High School.

Judge Moore says he will portray the part of the aunt or uncle, just as Judge Snee decides. Anyhow, they are to be in the play. The Hilltop post is Judge Moore's pet, he tells his friends. There will be 80 in the cast.

Judge Moore saw service overseas as a lieutenant in the Fourth Infantry, Third Division. Judge Snee sent 1,000 men to war. He was chairman of No. 5 Draft Board.

Tech Refrigeration Course Announced

A course in refrigeration will be given by Carnegie Institute of Technology during the first five weeks of the 1930 supplementary term, it has been announced. David C. Saylor, assistant professor of Mechanical Engineering, will conduct the course, open to anyone interested. Classes will be held Monday and Wednesday nights, beginning May 5 and ending June 4. Theory of refrigeration, study of household and commercial plants, along with properties of refrigeration, will be studied.

Court Names Two Election Inspectors

APPEAL COURT CASES HEARD

The right of a husband, who failed to support his wife and family for 31 years and ten years ago through his cruel treatment forced her from his home, to be supported now by his wife was argued yesterday before the Superior Court in session here.

The question arose in the appeal of Mrs. Julia Hermann, of Erie, from an order of $12 weekly allowed her husband, Adam Hermann, from the income of property owned by her. They were married in 1877 and each is about 75 years old, both infirm and the husband a paralytic.

Other cases argued were: William T. V. Buseck, appellant, against the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company, Erie County; Lewis M. Shafer, appellant, against Meadville Telephone Company, Crawford County; Harry Walker against Quemahoning Coal Company appellant, Somerset County; appeal of Lavina Smith Grumbling in estate of E. W. Six Enter Primaries From This District; Feminine House Bloc Forecast

A women's bloc in the Pennsylvania Legislature in the not far distant future is forecast by the increasing number of the fair sex who are announcing their candidacies for seats in the House and Senate.

In 1929 six women assisted in making the laws at Harrisburg and in the coming primaries 24 "flapper" candidates have entered the lists. Of this number six are from Allegheny County.

Miss Helen Grimes, who has served the Twelfth Legislative District for several terms, is seeking re-election on her platform of common sense health. Miss Grimes is well-known as a vocalist and for many years before the enfranchisement of her sex she was engaged in practical welfare work. In the kitchen in her home, Grimes avenue and Jucunda street, Knoxville, she enunciated this doctrine:

"My advice to the young woman of today is more kitchen and less college, more market basket and less basket ball."

OFFICE IN HOME

The first woman in Western Pennsylvania to aspire for the State Senate is Mrs. Mary P. Walthour, of 2616 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination in the Forty-fourth District. Mrs. Walthour also is pictured in her kitchen, but she is also a business woman and conducts a flourishing insurance business. Her office is in her home and she has solved the problem of combining housekeeping with a business career. For years she has been a prominent factor in the development of the McKeesport schools and is well-known for her war work and service in the local Red Cross.

Miss Julia Hudepohl, of Tarentum, is making a whirlwind canvass for the Republican nomination in the Thirteenth Legislative District. A school teacher and an accomplished elocutionist, Miss Hudepohl also loves flowers, cultivates her garden and drives a car. She boasts of a wide acquaintance in her district and is a tireless campaigner.

Another candidate in the Twelfth District who is making the race for the Republican nomination is Mrs. Sarah L. Gardner, of Knox avenue, Knoxville. Mrs. Gardner carries on her campaign with the same spirit Miss Hudepohl shows in the Thirteenth District. Mrs. Gardner has been active in the improvement of the schools and according to her supporters was largely instrumental in establishing the Knoxville public library.

ACTIVE IN LEAGUE

Miss Sara C. McClelland, of Fifth avenue, has announced her candidacy for a place on the Republican ticket in the Fifth Legislative District. A member of an old Pittsburgh family and a lifelong resident of the Fourteenth Ward, Miss McClelland claims a large following. She has been active in the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Bonnie Quaill, of Brookline, is another Twelfth District candidate, but she is looking for a place on the Democratic ticket. Mrs. Nell Jones, of Crafton, also is a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Twelfth district. Both are ardent workers in the Democratic cause and are making a vigorous campaign with a view of joining the issue in the November elections.

WARD BATTLES INVOLVE 10,000

Gilbert C. Cloonan, chief of the county election bureau, is compiling the largest number of petitions for committeemen and women to appear on the primary ballot ever presented to the county commissioners' office.

Competent observers said as the last petition was filed yesterday that more than 10,000 had been received and predicted that virtually every ward in the city would witness fights for party offices.

The number of petitions in certain wards indicated that three and four slates were represented, which would indicate later fights for ward chairmanships.

In many of the wards, city employes had been ordered to run for committeemen and many were of the opinion that Mayor Kline was a serious contender for the county chairmanship now held by County Commissioner Armstrong.

Mutual friends of Kline and Armstrong, however, declared there was no intention on the Mayor's part to challenge Armstrong's supremacy, but that the opposing candidates for ward committee positions were set up to camouflage some hidden motive by unidentified persons.

Alderman John F. Kenna, a clerk in the office of Register of Wills Joseph N. Mackrell, is determined, he said yesterday, to oppose City Treasurer Roy D. Schooley for chairman of the Eighth Ward, despite efforts for harmony.

Kenna originally was receiving encouragement from John Dean, but the latter withdrew his opposition at the request of Commissioner Armstrong. Mackrell is not supporting Kenna, it was said.

Missionary Circle Will Hear Report

The Women's Missionary Society, Bellevue Presbyterian Church, will meet tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the social rooms of the church. Mrs. A. B. Phillips will conduct devotional services and Mrs. J. L. Gerber will read a report of the annual meeting of the presbyterial organization.

COUNTY FEUD AGAIN AIRED

Deviating from their prepared speeches, County Commissioners Joseph G. Armstrong and Charles C. McGovern staged a typical commissioners' row at the County Building cornerstone laying exercises yesterday.

"I hope I am wrong," said McGovern, "but I always have believed that this building is an unnecessary expense and burden to the taxpayers, who are still paying interest on the $600,000 that the county owes the city on the City-County Building. There are far too many employes on the county payroll. This is extravagance."

Flushed and angry, Armstrong scored McGovern.

"He is always shouting that Allegheny County is on the rocks, but when a great soldier succeeded him as Controller, and had an audit made, he found that instead of being on the rocks the county has $100,000,000 power," Armstrong declared.

Controller Robert G. Woodside congratulated "those of the commissioners responsible for this great milestone of progress," and said that he has set up a sinking fund that will pay off the $600,000 City-County Building mortgage in 14 years.

County Commissioner E. V. Babcock, who spoke before McGovern, pointed to the building as evidence of the prosperity and development of Allegheny County and predicted that additional stories will have to be added to care for the future growth of the county's business.

Arrange Mothers, Daughters Banquet

Plans are being made for the annual Mother and Daughter banquet of the Trinity Lutheran church, Avalon, to be held in the Sunday School rooms, April 24.

Brotherhood Holds Annual Election

With the announcement of the quarterly meeting of the Lutheran Brotherhood of Pittsburgh in McCann's dining room, Monday, April 28, comes notice of newly-elected officers of the organization. These are W. K. Hodgkinson, president; E. P. Anderson, George A. Hein, A. C. Johnston, vice presidents; Henry W. Mertens, recording secretary; Elmer Zimmerman, corresponding secretary, and H. H. Steinmeyer, treasurer. Members of the executive council are the Revs. M. R. Kunkleman, F. P. Fisher and David Schultz and A. D. Liefeld, M. E. Studer, Adolph Braun, George F. Dombart and Harry Dreher.

ELECTION BY AMARANTHS

Election of officers was the principal business today before members attending the annual sessions of the Grand Court, Order of the Amaranth, of Pennsylvania, meeting in the William Penn Hotel through tomorrow.

The annual banquet will follow the afternoon session, with a dance and card party scheduled for the evening. The sessions will close tomorrow with installation of newly elected and elevated officers.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

To Entertain Bridegroom At Dinner

NEXT to weddings themselves, the most important social events of this Easter season are entertainments for brides-to-be. And there are parties for bridegrooms to be too, for no longer do brides hold absolute sway in the social spotlight.

Yesterday I enumerated ever so many entertainments to be given for the bridal party for the marriage of Martha Cooper, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roy C. Cooper of North Negley and Robert Repps, Jr., son of the Robert Repps of Atlantic avenue, which will be an event of Friday, April 25.

Today I want to tell you about an entertainment to be given for the bridegroom-elect. Dr. John D. Garvin, who'll be an usher, will give a bachelor dinner Friday evening in the University Club.

THE lovely month of May will bring benefits as well as May brides and May flowers. An interesting afternoon bridge benefit will be given by the Woman's Auxiliary Board of the Kingsley Association on Tuesday afternoon, May 20. And the event will take place in the home of Mrs. Frederic Ickes Merrick, of Holyrood road, Morewood Heights.

Benefit Bridge

Mrs. Merrick is president of the board; Mrs. D. S. Gaston, vice president; Mrs. Donald Pettit, secretary, and Mrs. Charles S. Wunder, treasurer.

MANY social affairs are being given this week in honor of Helen Rebecca West, daughter of the Charles H. Wests, of Forbes street, whose marriage to Alexander Logan Wilson is to take place Monday afternoon, you know, in her home.

Tomorrow there is to be a luncheon in the Longue Vue Club for her, given by Betty McCullough, daughter of the William T. McCulloughs. Betty has just returned from wintering in Pinehurst.

THIS morning I have news of a former Sewickley girl, Eleanore Shannon Scoville, daughter of the Royal L. Scovilles, of New York. Her parents gave a small dinner party on Tuesday evening in honor of her and her fiance, Jonathan Godfrey Wells, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Jonathan Godfrey Wells, of New York and Southport, Conn. They are to be married April 30 in the Chapel of the Heavenly Rest.

Honor Bride

Edward James Courtney, who will be best man, gave a theater and supper party for them.

On Saturday evening, April 26, Mr. Wells will hold his bachelor dinner in the Columbia Club. Rosamund Starr, of New York, who is to be Eleanore's bridesmaid, will give a bridge tea for the bridal party on April 29.

Marriage Failure Y.W.C.A. Audience Told in Talk On Sex Education

SHE recognizes that marriage has failed, although it still has advantages and there is nothing to take it's place, and she is in sympathy with proposals to examine marriage to see what is the matter with it, Dr. Edith Hale Swift told her luncheon audience at Central branch, Young Women's Christian Association, yesterday. Dr. Swift is here to give a series of talks on sex education, such talks as she is professionally and personally especially well equipped for.

She spoke yesterday on "The Approach to Sex Education" and developed her subject from childhood, through adolescence to a discussion of engagements and marriage and extra-marital relationships. The objective of sex education is no different from education along any other line and it is a crime to lock up such knowledge with the medical profession; it isn't whether people are to have sex education, it is what kind are they going to have that is the grave question, she said. Dr. Swift believes lack of knowledge has caused failure in marriage and she advocates marital advice clinics where people may go in marriage or out of it for advice that will not be given evasively, nor scientifically, nor sentimentally, but honestly, frankly and sincerely, and where one may look at one's problems unabashed and unashamed.

It is without evasion, without scientific terminology and without sentiment that Dr. Swift gives her talks and answers the questions put to her, suiting her subject material to the age of her group and their needs. Since Saturday she has spoken at Central Branch to young girls, business girls and women "Y" workers and educators and other public-spirited women.

ANCIENT GREECE INSPIRES THE NEWEST EVENING MODE

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, April 16.—Greek may be a dead language, but just the same, it can offer a very good line. Some of the most attractive evening frocks shown for the new season are distinctly reminiscent of ancient Greece, and by the right type of woman should confer on her a goddess-like charm, quite alluring in its classical simplicity. Draperies, soft, flowing skirts, bandings at bust and hips, Greek key embroideries, all these conspire to produce frocks very much akin, for all their modernity, to the attire worn by the elegant Athenian ladies, during the golden days of the "glory that was Greece."

As it is, such dresses are distinctly becoming to the tall, svelte type that modern conditions and athletics have evolved, and the simple but effective styles of interior decoration that obtain today should prove an ideal setting for these models of Grecian inspiration. White satin, pastel blue and green georgette and chiffon lend themselves triumphantly to such frocks, and frequently, the bandings are of silver or other ribbon.

LANVIN is one of the couturieres who has found abundant inspiration in the classics, and so she is showing some particularly striking models of Greek inspiration. The sketch to the right, shows a Lavin model, and is quite classical in line and design. It is of sea-green chiffon, banded in silver about the bodice and hips. Shirred panels placed rather low on the skirt on either side, are caught by ruchings of looped green cordings formed of the chiffon and so light and delicate, that they resemble ostrich feather fronds.

THE other sketch is of a very lovely evening frock from Poiret, one of the most successful models of that establishment. It is of white chiffon incrusted with shirred flounces of sheer black lace. Mousquetaire mitts of lace create an amusingly attractive note as accessories. The closely swathed bodice is trimmed in front of an ornament of coral and onyx. Coral earrings add a further note of color.

NEWS FROM HOLLYWOOD, BROADWAY AND LOCAL THEATER NOTES

Lack Dignity, Know Life Is Marie Dressler's Laugh Slogan

By DONALD HENDERSON CLARKE

HOLLYWOOD, April 16.

YOU CAN'T really be funny on the stage until you have grown old enough, and sensible enough, not to care how you look, according to Marie Dressler. She expressed this idea during an interlude in the making of "Caught Short," a comedy drama in which she co-stars with Polly Moran.

Of course, as Miss Dressler believes, this is not including the late Mabel Normand, who is the only really young girl she can remember at the moment who let herself go in comedy, or Marion Davies, who is able to look beautiful and still be the first comedienne of all the stars. But youth is vain and on its dignity and you have to forget your appearance in order to do the things which make the public laugh.

Marie Dressler

Polly Moran

Polly Moran and herself thinks Miss Dressler have passed the age where they care about concealing how old they are. Marie Dressler Once, they wouldn't have been so willing to do one of those wonderful comedy falls of theirs. But now it's all in the day's work. The only time they think about their looks in comedies is whether they are looking funny.

NOT FLAPPER'S JOB

COMEDY also requires a working knowledge of the psychology of life. To be truly funny you must have lived long enough to have learned by experience exactly how human beings behave. And, after you have studied the workings of the human mind and body for years, in order to conjure up laughs, you have to study also the taste of the theater-going public. And Miss Moran and Miss Dressler realize these facts.

You won't find any flappers who are willing to be so undignified as Polly and Marie and I don't think you could find any flappers who have had their experience with life and with audiences.

GETTING THE GIGGLES

THEY never expect to get so old that they won't be on the lookout for new ways of teasing a giggle out of audiences, but on the other hand, neither of them ever expect to live long enough to see the day when making laughs isn't the hardest job in the world.

In "Caught Short," which is a Cosmopolitan production for Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer, Miss Dressler and Miss Moran are two New York landladies who play the stock market. Anita Page and Charles Morton are their children, whose romance suffers as the result of their mothers' disagreements. Chuck Reinser is the director.

FORMAL DEDICATION ON FRIDAY NIGHT IN WARNER

Winnie Lightner, commedienne of "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," has the leading role in "Hold Everything," which will have its Pennsylvania premiere in the Warner Friday evening.

The picture will mark the formal dedication of the theater as the Warner. Until several months ago it was known as the Grand.

Mayor Kline has invited 50 mayors, representing as many cities and towns of the tri-state district, to attend the opening performance. They will be the guests of Warner Brothers at a dinner, immediately preceding the show.

The Warner will be closed Friday afternoon, reopening only for the evening presentation.

De Molay Alumni To Receive Fifty

Pittsburgh Chapter, Order of De Molay alumni, will initiate more than 50 young men at a meeting Friday in St. Peter's parish, Forbes street. A special committee is making arrangements for the meeting. On April 21 a dance in honor of the candidates will be staged at the Fort Pitt Hotel.

Burton Holmes Ends Travelogues Tonight

NEW YORK, April 16.

LESTER ALLEN will tell you, too, that you never know what heckler is in the audience. A bit of a naughty himself, Lester was called on to entertain the guests at the Ben Bernie party in the Leviathan's new night club. He opened up with his sassy crack: "For the benefit of you people who might not know me, I am Lady Chatterley's lover!"

"Yeah," interrupted a sneerer, "which one?"

Nifty

Leave it to the New York firecrackers who attend the premieres of the new plays in the tryout towns to sum things up. At New Haven the other night a new play was given its initial showing. It is described as a great artistic success, a perfect performance. The consensus of opinion among trained observers is that it has no chance commercially. The final curtain was falling. There was a hush. And then this sotto voce crack: "No errors. No hits. No runs."

Oop!

George Stark, of Detroit, unfolds this tale about George Bernard Shaw and Lady Astor. It was at a tea given by Lady Astor and after the sweets had been masticated Shaw went into his routine of roasting every country except Ireland and Russia. "What would you and I have done in Russia?" asked the noblewoman.

"If you and I had been in Russia," flipped Shaw, "we would have been married and divorced long ago."

Add Little Ironies

Among other volunteers to the Heywood Broun benefit show for the unemployed the other night was Dave, the Blue Room restaurateur. The popular Dave contributed oodles of sandwiches and other delicacies for the army of talent that appeared. A long table backstage was weighted down with the food, which was devoured quickly by the actors and by a great crowd of crashers who managed to sneak backstage. Four times Dave phoned his restaurant to hasten over with more food until he exhausted his own supply.

Then, for all his pains and generosity, he lost his regular 3 a. m. business. For when the stay-up-lates went to Dave's, the restaurant was out of food and the crowd patronized Dave's rival, Reuben's!

Incidentally

At the same benefit show two Broadway columnists did a sketch with Harry Richman, who for a long time has been the target for their abuse. The plot of it went like this. The newspapermen were introduced to the audience and while they were waiting for their music cue Richman dashed on the stage and began giving them a piece of his alleged mind. A great quarrel ensued, with Richman pushing and shoving his antagonists. Jack Donahue, another star, intervened and urged Richman to remember that it was a benefit performance and to behave himself. But when Richman explained that the columnists were mean to actors and that their names were Hellinger and Winchell, Donahue cried: "Oh, yeah? I've been waiting for this opportunity myself!" And so saying he whipped out a pistol and blazed away.

This was all very cute, but what the audience didn't know was that the columnists refused to go on the stage until they had sent for a gangster acquaintance who inspected the cartridges in the gun to make certain that they were blanks.

Heheheh

Among the affable Walter C. Kelly's endless routine of jokes is the one about the old Irishman who just came from the old country and was going to Pittsburgh. As he struggled with his bags down the gangplank and out to the street he kept walking, bound for the Pennsy Station. A Yellow taxi slowed down near him. "Cab?" inquired the driver.

"No!" grumbled the old fellow.

The next morning in Pittsburgh he ankled out of the depot and the driver of a Yellow taxi yelled: "Cab?"

"I told you NO yistiddy!" shrieked the Tad, "wot are ye followin' me for?"

Gag

From Vic Earlson comes the one about the cloak and suiter who learned that his wife was running around with his best friend. He got them together and gave them a long bawling out, and then turning to the pal said: "I really should kill you, but I'll give you a chance. We'll play three games of pinochle and whoever wins the most games can have Becky. If you win I'll get a divorce, but if I win you must promise never to bother her again."

The enemies proceeded with the first game. As the husband was dealing he whispered: "Remember, we are playing for my wife. But on the side let's make it 5 cents a hundred."

Rebuttal

"Dear Winchell," writes Mr. Bobby Connolly, co-producer of "Sons o' Guns," the hit musical, "I see by your department that Mr. Ziegfeld is under the impression that I claim to have thefted Miss Evelyn Laye for my next show. I never claimed that Miss Laye would appear in any of my productions nor did I ever start the report. But Mr. Ziegfeld's charge that the trouble with the theater is that there are bums in it rolled off my knife. As did his charge that he gave our firm Jack Donahue. Mr. Donahue signed with us as a free agent, which Mr. Ziegfeld knows. However, I don't want to get maudlin over his charge that I am a bum. You know as well as I do, Winchell, that on Broadway when they start to knock you—it's a sure sign you've got 'em worried."

Novel Rigging Used On New Lipton Yacht

GOSPORT, England, April 16—(AP.)—With her mast stepped and her 10-foot topmast added making a total height of 160 feet, Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's latest challenger for the America's cup, today presented a striking appearance as her fitting continued.

It is understood some foresails of special cut will be tried experimentally on the yacht so that when she is completed her rig may show some novelties while conforming in the main to the ordinary Bermudean style.

90% of a sandwich is bread . . . so why not use the Perfected loaf?

BREAD, butter, and filling . . . That's what makes a sandwich. And whether you have chicken or cheese, ham or tongue, peanut butter or jam, the most important part of a sandwich is bread. In fact bread is 90% of the average sandwich.

How very essential it is then to have bread that is all that bread can be. You want bread with an even texture, firm yet tender, that slices thin and takes the butter well. And you want bread with the real "bread" taste that adds to the enjoyment of the delicious filling, but without being too sweet or too flavorful.

Mother Hubbard Bread—the perfected loaf—is perfect for sandwiches. Try it just once. You will be very much pleased that you did.

And of course a loaf that is so good for sandwiches is equally good for regular meal-time use and for the morning toast.

MERGERS HELD COMING ISSUE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 16.—M. F. Tighe, of Pittsburgh, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, in opening the fifty-fifth annual convention here, expressed uneasiness over mergers in industry.

He predicted that the question of mergers will become a political issue in the next national election, if the trend toward larger groupings continues. Mr. Tighe pointed out that huge aggregations of capital, controlling large natural reserves of coal, iron ore, limestone and other raw materials, have dangerous potentialities, if they are not under the proper control. He also declared that the apparent benefits of such aggregations, in reducing costs are sometimes wiped out by the loss of individual initiative and reduction in property values in so-called "mill" towns.

In his address of welcome, Mayor Joseph L. Hefferman said that social betterment is still the aim of the people, and particularly of the workers.

McTighe's report was to be given this morning

JEWISH-ARAB PEACE URGED

JERUSALEM, April 16.—(Jewish Telegraphic Agency.)—The Brith Shalom Society, designed to promote peace between Jews and Arabs in Palestine, has made public a statement of policy asserting that Palestine should be neither a Jewish nor an Arab state, but a bi-racial country in which both races enjoyed equal civil, political and social rights.

The program states that the society's policy is based on "the program of Zionism, as recognized by the Balfour declaration and in the mandate, for the constitution of a national home in Palestine for the Jewish people."

Youth Accused In Fatal Shooting

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., April 16.—Charged with killing another youth, his same age, by shooting him in the face with a shotgun, because he threw stones at a fishing party, Lawrence Dane Floyd, 17, son of Russell O. Floyd, a Mannington merchant, was arraigned before Magistrate J. M. Barrack there today.

Tulsa Bonnell, son of F. T. Bonnell, of Mannington, was the victim. The shooting occurred on Dents Run, near Mannington. Bonnell died in a Fairmont hospital.

Senate Ratifies Havana Treaties

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP.)—Two conventions drafted at the 1928 Havana, Cuba, conference of American states were ratified by the Senate without debate.

One convention set forth the rights and duties of American states in the event of civil strife. The other established the status of aliens in the American states. Minor reservations, which Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said had been approved by the State Department were ordered.

RICH WIFE AGAIN ASKS DIVORCE

CHICAGO, April 16.—(AP.)—Charging that her young husband, Enrique Von Buelow, told her that he had married her for her wealth, Mrs. Lottie Brenner Von Buelow filed a new bill for divorce here.

Last week Mrs. Von Buelow dismissed her first divorce suit, saying that she had become reconciled to her husband since the recent sensational robbery of their Sheridan road home.

In her latest suit, Mrs. Von Buelow alleges that her husband has incurred liabilities which she has been forced to pay.

The Von Buelow home was robbed on March 31 by three men who posed as census takers and escaped with jewelry valued at $50,000. Six members of the household and guests were bound, gagged and blindfolded with adhesive tape and ropes by the robbers. Mrs. Von Buelow's estranged husband arrived at the home while the robbery was in progress and was one of those bound and gagged.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

KELVINATOR'S

Great New Gift to

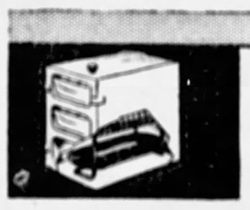
Home Refrigeration

1 Automatic Fast Freezing—Greater ice capacity, even without Kelvinator's extra-fast freezing compartment, is provided by Kelvinator. De luxe models provide more ice, size for size, than any other refrigerator, with capacities from 20 pounds in the smallest size to 34 pounds in the largest—at a single freezing. Of course, several freezings a day are possible.

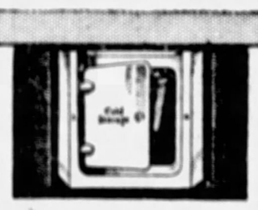
2 Automatic Super-Fast Freezing—for the extra-fast freezing of ice cubes and desserts. Merely placing a tray of water or dessert in a special fast-freezing compartment starts the quick freezing operation which stops automatically. Nothing to regulate. Nothing to trouble the memory.

3 Automatic Cold Storage—For storing fresh or frozen meats, fish, game and those new frozen delicacies you now find at many markets. Cold always below freezing. Beef and other meats kept in the Kelvinator cold storage compartment will be actually improved in tenderness and flavor. Another new development—exclusive to Kelvinator.

4 Automatic 40° to 50° Food Compartment—for the scientific refrigeration of all ordinary foods, the main compartment of Kelvinator is maintained between 40° and 50°—always—the temperature range which science says must be constantly maintained for dependable and healthful preservation of foods.



Iso-Thermic Tubes For Super-Fast Freezing—Kelvinator's exclusive new discovery, acting as a cold plate, gives amazingly fast freezing automatically—no regulation or control needed—nothing to trouble the memory.



Cold Storage Compartment—Another exclusive Kelvinator feature—years ahead in utility. A new, separate compartment beneath freezing trays, to hold perishable foods indefinitely at below-freezing cold.

Greatest Ice Capacity—Size for size, De Luxe Kelvinators have the greatest ice-making capacity of any refrigerator on the market. From 20 pounds in the smallest size to 34 pounds in the largest, at a single freezing.

New Rubber Ice Trays—Of flexible rubber for easy extraction of ice cubes. Slight pressure releases one or all ice cubes in a twinkling. No waste of ice—no melting under faucet.

Kelvin Cooler—Serves a dual purpose—for cooling drinking water or freshening vegetables. Porcelain finish, inside and out. Nickel-plated faucet gives easy access to cold water.

Inside Electric Light—On all De Luxe models, illuminates entire food compartment. Switch and light indicator on front of refrigerator.

It is a simple matter to decide just what electric refrigerator to buy. Drop in at our showrooms, see the new Super-Automatic Kelvinators in operation. You will quickly decide that Kelvinator today offers you far more in value, in convenience, in reliable, wholly automatic service.

With its new Four-Way Cold, Kelvinator now actually doubles the convenience and usefulness of electric refrigeration in thousands of American homes . . . here's what it does

WHEN you come to examine the new Super-Automatic Kelvinators, you will find refinements and improvements making these electric refrigerators marvels of modern day convenience and utility.

Kelvinator now adds to its previous accomplishments a new discovery—Iso-Thermic Tubes—the fastest-freezing automatic device on the market. By means of it, ice cubes and desserts are frozen in a special compartment at twice the normal speed.

It presents in its De Luxe models, four distinct temperatures—each designed for a specific task of refrigeration. From first to last the new Kelvinators are entirely automatic—nothing for the housewife to regulate, nothing to trouble her memory.

In combination with these new automatic features, it retains the Kelvinator Cold-Keeper—a quality feature of the first Kelvinator, which has always been one of its great economy factors.

Acting as a constant reservoir of cold, this equipment cuts down the number of operating periods fully one-third.

See the new Super-Automatic Kelvinators, note the wide margin by which they increase Kelvinator's reputation for reliable, wholly automatic service. You will quickly realize why they are everywhere hailed as the greatest advancements ever made in electric refrigeration for the home.

All Kelvinators Are Sold on Easy Payments

You need not delay your enjoyment of Kelvinator's new automatic features a day longer. A small sum down with easy monthly payments installs a Kelvinator in your home. Let us tell you about Kelvinator's attractive ReDisCo monthly budget plan. ins

CHICKIE By ELENORE MEHERIN

Chickie Worries When Barry Calls on the Moores

CHAPTER LXI

BUT, if there were just the two of us, Chickie, and we wouldn't let the world interfere, think how sweet—not a ripple ever"—

"There is the world"—— She spoke in a dream, contented now—watching pale figures woven of fog, hurrying along, vanishing delicately. "We can't shut the world out so. And there aren't just the two of us—there aren't"——

She wasn't measuring her words—scarcely heeding what she said. Their import came upon her starkly like a ruffian lurching suddenly from a doorway in the shadow—came at a moment when she was laughing and defenseless. Not ready for the world——

They were at the Public Library. He was looking for a book. Chickie loitered in the alcoves, glancing aimlessly over the titles. She heard a soft, impatient sigh and turning, saw Bess Abbot with an air of great resignation pull down a heavy volume.

She said merrily: "Oh, still alive, Bess? I thought we had you all settled in that nice ivory coffin?"

"No—still shuffling along in this weary coil. I've decided to linger a while longer. You see, I've discovered myself, or rather, Prof. Molino discovered me." The brown eyes glinted. "Wonderful, my dear." Perfectly thrilling to wake up at 22 and suddenly learn that one possesses a soul—a brain. Here I was destined to be a great philosopher and from the cradle they allowed me to waste my gifts on clothes and teas and bridge. No wonder I've died a thousand deaths."

"Don't look so astonished, my dear. I'm rational. I've been psychoanalyzed. That's all I paid $2.50 revealed all my suppressed desires, my wild longings; and in return I'm told that I've intellectual. I must cultivate my brain. Here I am!"

Invited to Lecture

"Isn't that exciting? Fancy a man staring at me cool as ice, and saying 'My dear Mrs. Stoney, you're bored! You have money, too much of it. You have friends, leisure, love. But you aren't satisfied. Why? Because, Mrs. Stoney, you have a brain. It clamors for nourishment.'"

She rattled on in this monologue, delighted when Chickie, incredulous and fascinated, exclaimed: "You don't mean to say that you went to this strange man and told him all your secretest thoughts and even things you feel and wish for?"

Bess raised her shoulder with an amused sniff. "He tells you—tears your past to tatters. I got off easy. Why, my dear, the grilling he gave Ethel Chadman! Fancy Ethel psychoanalyzed into a job! Punching a time clock in the Big Store all because Prof. Molino says, 'You're going to seed. Your energies need outlet. You'd make an excellent business woman. Don't lose another week—go down and get work, if it's standing behind a counter.' And Ethel goes!

"Well, here comes your steady—oh, by the way, why don't you two come out tomorrow night? I'm having Basil Arthur give a course of lectures"—she sighed languidly—"all in the course of finding a soul, you know. But he's good. We're starting with Plato. You'll like that, Red. I'm having a number of brows present to lend atmosphere."

Attends With Barry

Chickie accepted with impulsive delight. She said childishly when Bess was gone: "Isn't that otherwise, though? Isn't that capricious-like—turning philosopher over night! I'm glad we're to go."

He grinned. "Punk! Idle dame—nothing to do but pamper herself—running around paying some clever crook two and a half to tell her she's a useless parasite. Plato—well, leave it to fools to rush in where angels fear to tread."

Chickie dismissed him with a flippant: "That for a lordly male and a cynic!"

She was stirred—alight with eagerness. Bess and her world were captivating.

They went. Machines were parked for a block about the house.

"Idiots! We're crazy, Chickie, to waste the whole evening. Let's not go in!"

"Hush—the idea! I wouldn't dream of missing it!"

They were late and took chairs near the door of the library. The room was crowded. The speaker, standing behind a table, had an absent, negligent air—the look of a poet or an ascetic in his broad forehead and long slender nose. He spoke in a voice so low its sound was scarcely audible. He went on like this till a deadly hush spread over the room. Then sentences boomed. The mere volume and wealth of sound caught Chickie with a thrill.

She listened spellbound, not bothering to follow the drift of the talk. Plato—oh, yes—pupil of Socrates—a Greek—she knew this from her high school history. When the lecture was finished she knew little more.

But she said to Barry: "Wonderful—such a voice!" Her eyes shone.

He answered, tense, "Like it, frail? Say—good, wasn't it?"

Now there was a pleasant stir—then an animated rush of talk—then Bess and several others thronging at the long table and Basil Arthur with a slightly contemptuous smile holding court.

Barry said: "Well—show's over. Come again next week—eh?"

"I'd love to—I like this!" And Chickie was glancing about the wide room, noting the tapestries—the walls lined with books—

And some one stood beside her. Some one said in a voice that was soft like water: "Oh, Miss Bryce—what a pleasure! We philosophers meet now and then."

Chickie Upset

Chickie turned with a start. She knew the blood flew into her face. But even in her confusion she saw Barry's forehead stain. She said, holding down her sudden excitement: "Miss Moore—I'm glad. You're here for all Summer?"

"Not that long." Ila Moore—beautiful—an air of nobility about her—her skin whiter—eyes bluer—so it seemed to Chickie in a quick stab of fear.

For Ila Moore began to talk. The lecture—really penetrating, wasn't it? And she turned to Chickie with comments that Chickie didn't quite understand. Barry answered.

And all at once Chickie grew hot and uncomfortable. She smiled—made a few struggling remarks. Then she listened, her cheeks painfully red.

Ila said: "Well, I suppose we'll meet again next week? I've often thought of you, Miss Bryce. And we do look alike—you know! Only you're prettier."

Chickie laughed. "And you're deeper!"

"I'm not sure about that." She turned to Barry, saying calmly, in her clear, soft voice: "We see you tomorrow night?"

"Yes—that's so!" He answered swiftly, his face half turned. But his lips trembled and he cast a hurried look to Chickie. He knew that she had heard.

They got into the car. Neither of them spoke. Chickie's pulses raced. They made her breath light—uncontrolled. For blocks they drove in silence.

Thinks of Ila

Finally he said: "You're thinking things."

She bit her lips. Tears stung hotly at her eyes.

He said, resentfully, "You are, aren't you?"

She said, pitifully, "Can I help it?"

"Yes! I'm going there for dinner tomorrow night. Her father asked me. I met him the night you ran away. I didn't care. I said I'd go."

She made no comment.

"Well, you're angry?" He stopped the car and stared at her. "Don't you believe me?"

"Don't—oh, don't let's quarrel again—yes—but now—you don't need to go now, do you?"

"Well—well—you mean I should ring up Moore and tell him I won't come. Why? You don't trust me that much?"

"It's not that—"

"You want me to call it off? I can't do it! I'd make a fool of myself. I've known these people for years. Moore is a big man. I'm not going to give him a slap. It may come back to us later," he went on, justifying himself.

His words were little nails driving cold into her mind. She said: "Oh, all right, then—go. You can't help it."

He took it lightly: "Honestly, Chickie? You don't care? Why should you? Listen, frail—I've met girls, haven't I?"

She said—and laughed—"Oh, my, yes—and you so brilliant; and you so handsome! But you weren't going to tell me, Barry—"

"Listen—I guessed how you'd feel. What was the use?"

She pulled him down to her. She said again: "All right—kiss me."

The next night she sat in her room and tried to read. She kept seeing Ila Moore—kept wanting to rush out and fling herself between them. She felt a dread—it was colder than jealousy.

Household Hints

Remove ink stains from a deal table by dabbing with cold water and adding a little common salt.

To keep windows clean, rub with a cloth slightly moistened with kerosene. Polish with a dry, soft duster or chamois.

Hot water marks may be removed from a polished table by making a thin paste with salad oil and salt, placing it on the mark for about an hour, and then rubbing with a soft duster.

ENVY

DRAWN BY Nell Brinkley

WATCHFUL eyes, with a serious envy made of many mixed thoughts!

If you are blessed with imagination, or even have some of your own thoughts to draw upon, you can read what is written in the four eyes at gaze.

One, with shining eyes and swarming ambitions, envies the other her poise, her worldly mind, her casual manners, her air, her experiences, even her make-up!

The other, in spite of herself, envies "Missy" in return, her youth, her sleek freshness, the natural bloom of a face still infantile!

Nineteen has been known to shed tears even in this youth-worshiping age, over Forty-nine—if Forty-nine was fascinating.

And everybody knows that Forty-nine sheds tears over Nineteen. Whether Nineteen be fascinating or no.

Some old poet, thinking aloud upon envy, advised you thusly; never envy where envy makes you yourself smaller—widening the distance between you and the object of your wishful eyes; "be not thine own worm!" he cried. "Yet," said he again, "such jealousy as hurts not others but may make thee better, is a good spur!"

It is good for La Siren to envy the freshness of mind and body of "Missy," but not so good for "Missy" to envy the blase beauty of La Siren of the casual manners and the clever make-up!

Madge Is Convinced Hallam Was Connected With Burglary

AS Mrs. Ticer finished her recital of what her lodger had said of our burglary, I felt as if there were something heavy against my chest, pressing the breath from my lungs.

This, and this only, would explain the queer actions of the man. No thief in his senses would have laid out so open a trail as he had done, with his drawings of the interiors of houses and his questions concerning the farmhouse. He had meant us to know that he was concerned in the burglary, and he had left a sinister warning behind him.

I looked quickly from my neighbor to my mother-in-law to see if they shared my intuition. That Mrs. Ticer had not gone below the surface meaning of the words I quickly saw, but Mother Graham's shrewd old face held a tensely thoughtful look and her eyes flashed to mine inquiringly.

"Well!" she said, "there's no use of hashing all this over any longer. We're all agreed, I take it, that this Hallam was either one of the burglars, or directed them, and there's no need to waste any more time over it. We'd better get at our real errand. Or—" she looked at me with unwonted graciousness, "have you any more questions, Margaret?"

"Nothing except that I would like to know what the man looked like," I said.

"He was kinda queer-looking," Mrs. Ticer said. "Something over medium height, I take it, slender, with hair cut awful short, almost shaved, and no eyebrows to speak of at all. looked almost as if they'd been singed off. His hair was a kind of funny bleached out brown, what we could see, and he had a funny little moustache and a little pointed beard like a foreign doctor, all the same color. And down the back of each cheek he had the hair growing down—sideburns we used to call them. I never saw his eyes without his glasses, but they were a kind of brown—the glasses weren't colored ones, but sort of thick-lensed."

"Is that all you want to know, Margaret?" my mother-in-law queried.

"Yes," I answered, laconically—and docilely.

"Then we'll get down to business. You'd better explain what we're really here for. You've heard more about it than I have."

As quickly as possible—for I sensed my mother-in-law's impatience to get away—I told Mrs. Ticer of the desire of Mrs. Brixton to lease a country house near us for the Christmas holidays, and that I had thought The Larches might be available.

"It's available, all right, if it can be kept warm," Mrs. Ticer rejoined promptly, her face beaming with interest.

"Are you too busy to go over with us now?" I asked, and was instantly conscious of my mother-in-law's disapproval of my proposal.

"Of course she is," she interposed quickly. "And we certainly can see all there is to see without bothering her."

But my neighbor was blithely obtuse to the fact, most plain to me, that my mother-in-law did not wish her to accompany us on our trip to The Larches.

"It won't be a bit of bother," she assured us, cordially. "I've got plenty of time and I'd love to go."

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Thursday, April 17.

ACCORDING to the lunar transits of this day there is likely to be a state of turmoil and confusion, with the mind restless and high-pitched and the spirits volatile. The judgment will be poor in money matters, thus all speculation and hazard in this respect are to be avoided. The tendency to contention, strife, litigation and self-indulgence should be held under firm control, lest all affairs be jeopardized. Well managed, there may be some constructive work launched.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year in which constructive work may be accomplished only by firm self-government and calm deliberation. The tendency to rash, tumultuous and quarrelsome conduct may jeopardize the best interests. Also the inclination to personal excesses and business speculation should be properly controlled, as all manner of chances are perilous to the finances.

A child born on this day should be clever, enterprising and resourceful, but may be the subject of self-undoing through its own impetuous, headstrong and indulgent proclivities. With early training and discipline it may have a popular and prosperous life.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Lying, as a Fine Art

A CHEERFUL liar may be a sinner, and again, he may be only an alibi artist, or a blessing in disguise.

It all depends on his motive, his method, his skill and his past performances.

When is a lie NOT a lie?

Oh, lots of times! When it's a polite fib; when it's good policy; when it's a duty; when it's chivalry; when it's flattery—and when it's an "alibi!"

There are black lies, white lies, and all sorts of little pink, blue, lavender and mauve lies, in between.

It's a lie when one man tells it to another man—but just "diplomacy" when he tells it to a woman.

It's a fib when you confess it—and a lie if you get caught in it.

It's a lie if a man tells it to his lawyer—and an alibi if he tells it to his wife or the jury.

* * *

When a woman lies about her age, it's "fibbing"—but when she lies about another woman's age it's "lying."

You SEE how it is!

When a woman begs a man to tell her "the honest truth" about herself, he knows that what she really wants to hear is some sweet, old lie—some beautiful and thrilling "fiction-ing."

Any woman would rather live with a nice, flattering Ananias, than with a conscientious little George Washington, who was forever telling her the bitter truth.

Telling lies is a fault in a boy, an art in a lover, an accomplishment in a bachelor, and second nature in a married man.

There are men who NEVER tell the truth to any woman, just on principle—even when the truth would serve their purpose better than a lie.

* * *

A woman will lie to anybody else on earth sooner than to the man she loves—but a man, alas, will lie to the woman he loves sooner than to anybody else on earth.

Almost any man can make a woman believe that black is white; but it takes an artistic lover to make her believe that it is rose-color.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

When the Bride's Mother Is Not Living

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

A girl lost her mother when very young. Her aunt made her home with the girl and the girl's father, and has cared for the girl ever since. Should the aunt announce the girl's engagement and her marriage? Or is it correct for the father to do so? E. T.

IN this case, the announcement of the girl's engagement and of her marriage should be made by the father.

Hospitality to the Escort

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. When a young man calls to see a young lady for the first time, and he has never met her family, should the young lady's mother entertain him if she is not quite ready to receive him when he arrives?

2. If the mother entertains him until the young lady is ready should the young lady introduce her mother when she comes in the room?

3. If so, does this apply to any member of the family?

4. If they are going out for the evening, should she enter the room with her wraps on, or go in and speak to him first and then put her wraps on?

ANXIOUS.

YES; this is polite and hospitable.

2. Yes. "Mother, may I present Mr. Graham?" or, "Mother, this is Mr. Robert Graham."

3. Yes.

4. It is better form for her to come into the room first, greet the guest and talk at least a minute or two before she goes to get her wraps. This is, of course, unless they are in a hurry.

THE BEAUTY BOX

By HELEN FOLLETT

IT IS not safe to disregard the body's appeal for rest and sleep. Fatigue signifies that the temporary strength of the body is wearing out and that the blood is picking up fatigue toxins. During sleep nerve batteries are recharged and every blood cell, every bit of tissue and muscle fiber, is picking up vitality. Without restful sleep, the human phiz will show wear and tear. Eyes will go dull, the skin will be pale, the hair will suffer and the disposition will not show any improvement. There will be a general dragging of beauty feathers in the dust.

THE heavy meat-eater who gets no muscular exercise takes more calories into her system than her system can utilize. As the skin is an eliminating organ, overeating has a bad effect upon it. Glands become over active, pores relax, the texture of the epidermis becomes coarse and lacks tone or elasticity. For beauty's sake eat plenty of fruit, vegetables, green salads and cereals. Drink buttermilk and lemonade.

How to Keep Well

By DR. COPELAND

Spring Colds

IN the spring of the year colds are more common perhaps than at other times. This is because the resistance is lowered to such an extent that the watchful germs, all the time present, more easily gain a lodging place in the nose or throat. Very soon inflammation of the delicate mucous membrane follows.

DR. COPELAND

So long as the cold can be confined to the nose it is troublesome and annoying but not serious. But very often it does not stop there. The cold may extend to the bronchial tubes, to the eyes and ears.

With young children, the most common acute disease, next to indigestion and diarrhea, is cold in the chest, or bronchitis. It may be mild, with little or no fever. In a severe case the fever may go as high as 102 degrees F.

The cough may be loose, or dry and most annoying. It may be so bad that it is almost like whooping cough. Care must be taken that it does not develop into broncho-pneumonia.

A child may have diseased tonsils or adenoids and this disability may be the cause of lowered resistance to disease. These things should be corrected and not allowed to go on until serious sickness results.

Adults who ride in public buses and street cars, those who are exposed to cold, or suffer from constipation and indigestion, are most susceptible to bronchitis. Over-tiredness and damp feet are common factors in bringing on this condition.

After middle life everyone should take increasing care of his health. Many persons stay too much indoors, keep late hours, live in rooms of uneven temperatures. They are easily chilled.

The attacks of bronchitis may recur annually at about the same time of the year. There is excessive coughing and raising of mucus and the breathing is difficult. In aged persons great care must be taken that the condition does not develop into pneumonia. The patient should be kept warm until the doctor takes charge.

Constipation usually accompanies such a condition. This should be overcome. The general health must be built up. Simple but nourishing food should be taken. Regularity in eating is of the greatest importance.

Keep an even and warm temperature in the house. Avoid getting the slightest chill. It is important to have good ventilation, but in a way to avoid cold.

When the patient is able to do so, he should go out in the fresh air and sunshine. There is nothing more essential than having the direct rays of the sun.

Much is being said about the ultra-violet ray therapy for treatment in colds, bronchitis and pneumonia. Many doctors are using sun-ray lamps in these cases and seem to have good results. It is to be hoped that for the long winter months, when sunshine is at a premium, there will be found in the future some practical means of treating patients who need building up of this sort. The time is perhaps not far off when light can be used in a way to build up health, just as sunshine does.

SWETONIC PIRATES' HERO

SPORT COMMENT
by JAMES J. LONG

Team Victory for Bucs.
Every Man Contributes.
Short of Homer Record.
Waner Leads Big Show.
Southpaws Stand Out.
Faulty Boxing System.

SUCCESS OF CRIPPLES THRILLS FANS

ONE ball game doesn't count for any more than another no matter when it is won, but a particular feeling of satisfaction and an extra kick always go with the capture of the opening number of the season. Naturally, therefore, the successful start made by the Pirates in Cincinnati yesterday, with Steve Swetonic saving the game after Remy Kremer had been routed put local fans in high glee. It was all the more gratifying because the Bucs did it while in a sorely crippled condition and when the chances appeared to be all against them, with Pie Traynor and Lloyd Waner missing from the lineup, George Grantham ailing, and an attack of tonsilitis putting the scheduled opening pitcher out of commission and forcing Manager Jewel Ens to fall back upon a hurler who had worked six innings on Saturday.

Steve Swetonic

And on top of all that, the victory was scored by coming from behind against Red Lucas, the prize jinx of the league to the Pirates, a hurler who beat them 10 times in succession before they succeeded in taking his measure in their last two meetings with him in 1929. In driving Lucas to cover in the sixth inning yesterday the Rovers hung up their third straight win over him, which gives the additional pleasing promise that their worst hoodoo has been routed for keeps.

THOUGH outbatted by a margin of two hits in the swatfest, the Pirates clearly earned their victory, particularly in view of the fact that two of their own safeties were home runs. They were unfortunate in that both of these circuit clouts were made with the bases empty, but overcame that bad streak and demonstrated their gameness and fighting spirit by a sustained attack that eventually landed them on top, behind Swetonic's good relief pitching.

Another pleasing feature was the fact that every man in the lineup did his full share toward bringing about the happy result. It was a team victory in every sense. With Paul Waner setting the pace, every Pirate except the two pitchers made one or more hits, Waner getting four, Brickell, Grantham, Suhr and Engle two each and Comorosky, Bartell and Hemsley one each. All around, it was a most gratifying start, barring only the lack of effectiveness shown by Kremer, upon whom so much depends this year, but that was probably due chiefly to the fact that he had not had sufficient rest since pitching six innings on Saturday.

TO THE Pirates also goes the distinction of having contributed the team batting feature of opening day—home run drives by two successive hitters. Dick Bartell and Ralston Hemsley, the first and second Bucs to face Lucas in the second inning, both slammed the ball into the left-field bleachers.

Ralston Hemsley.

Right off the reel in the new season, therefore, as a result of this unusual performance, came a flock of queries as to whether or not the two homers in succession set a new record or equaled an old one.

IT DID neither. The record for home runs by consecutive hitters is three. This has been achieved four times in the major leagues, but the outstanding feature in connection with the record is that the trick has been turned twice by the same trio of sluggers. Bob Meusel, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig cracked out successive homers for the Yankees in the fourth inning of the first game of a double header on September 10, 1925, and duplicated the feat in the seventh inning of a game played on May 4, last year.

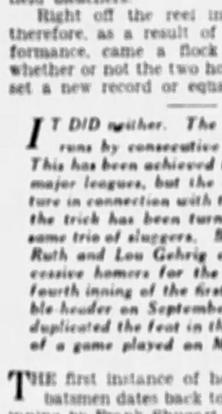
THE first instance of home runs being made by three consecutive batsmen dates back to May 10, 1894, when it was done in the sixth inning by Frank Shugart, George Miller and Heinie Peitz, of the St. Louis Nationals, all of whom played with the Pirates at some stage of their careers.

The other trio to share in the holding of the record was made up of Napoleon Lajoie, Charley Hickman and Bill Bradley, who equaled the mark while playing for the Cleveland Americans in the sixth inning of the first game of a dual bill on June 30, 1902.

The major league record for home runs (not consecutive) in one inning is four, and it is held by the Pirates. In the third inning of a game at Boston on June 6, 1894, Jake Stenzel made two homers and Denny Lyons and Louie Bierbauer made one each. The Bucs scored 12 runs in that inning. They made seven home runs during the game, which also stands as a mark never beaten in a major league contest, though it has been equaled by Detroit and New York in the National League and by Philadelphia in the American.

FOR the duration of opening day, at least, Paul Waner certainly lived up to the promise he had shown on the training trip of regaining his best batting form and having a big year. Paul as the leading hitter of the majors yesterday with a perfect record of four hits in four times at bat.

George Fisher, Buffalo recruit, recently traded by the Giants to the Cardinals, was the only other player to make four hits, and he had one more time at bat than Waner. Only two men besides Paul had perfect batting records for the day, but their records did not compare with Waner's, as one of them, Clyde Manion, was at bat only once and the other, George Haas, was charged with only two legal trips to the plate.



Paul Waner.

THE fact that 29 pitchers were used in the seven big league games yesterday, and that the 14 clubs piled up 60 runs and 140 hits for the afternoon, would appear to indicate that the hurlers have been held back by unfavorable training weather and are far from being in form. That this is not general, however, is shown by the appearance of a 1-to-0 game and a pair of three-hit performances among the day's results. Lester Sweetland, of the Phils, blanked the Robins with three hits; Lloyd Brown, of the Senators, held the Red Sox to one run and three hits, and Bill Clark and Johnny Morrison restricted the slugging Quakers to a single run.

IT WILL be noticed that a left-hander was the hero in each of the three-hit games, Sweetland taking the honors in the National League and Brown in the American. And another southpaw, Clark, gave the Phils only one run in the eight innings he pitched.

It was quite a day for fork-handers, as apart from the performances of Sweetland, Brown and Clark, Bob Grove held the Yanks to six hits and fanned nine men, and Bill Walker pitched the Giants to a 3-to-2 win over the Braves. Four of the day's seven victories were won by southpaws, and Clark pitched well enough to have won any ordinary game.

THE Browns turned in an unusual batting record against the Detroit pitchers. They made three home runs, two doubles and seven singles, tying the Pirates and Cubs for the day's slugging honors with a total of 23 bases, and in addition they drew five bases on balls, yet they scored only three runs. They never crossed the plate except on homers.

An unusual number of new players besides those tried last fall appeared in the opening day lineups, as follows: Pirates, Gus Suhr (from San Francisco), and Charley Engle (Memphis); Reds, Tony

DIRECTOR LANG INAUGURATES SEASON

By VERN SWARTSFAGER.

That worthy golfer, Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang, duplicated his feat of last year when he knocked the first ball down the middle of the first fairway to unlock the gates for another municipal links season shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. A drizzle which started this morning and continued throughout the day failed to halt the ceremonies. Mayor Kline had been listed to do the hopoff trick at the inaugural ceremonies, but another and more pressing engagement, his vacation at Cambridge Springs, caused the city's chief executive to be among those absent.

Several hundred free linkers gathered about Director Lang; Kenneth Witherow, local U. S. G. A. public links committeeman; John Jay Burke, of the county parks, and former U. S. G. A. executive committeeman; James Moore, director of city parks; Councilman John Herron, director of public safety; James M. Clark and Professional Al McBride as they pronounced the words and struck the ball that left in their wake a full season of golf.

DATES ARE SET

The course was in splendid condition, thanks to Greenkeeper John Kauffmann, and everyone was in happy mood, including Hoppy Hapchuck, who has been elevated to assistant professional this year and Chuck Onoretta, one of the longest drivers hereabouts among the pros, and the rest of the Schenley family, who seemed to enjoy the entire proceedings. Mike Tipchuck is the new club-maker.

Tentative West Penn Golf Association dates were announced today, but they'll have to be officially granted before they're set for the season. The dates include the Seniors Association championship, June 17, at the Oakmont Country Club, only for golfers 55 years of age and more; the junior title play, for amateurs 18 and under, July 22-23, at Westmoreland, and the Fathers and Sons tourney at the Pittsburgh Field Club on June 30.

The Wilkinsburg Business Men's Association will sponsor a big tournament at the Edgewood Country Club June 17 between the Rotary Lions and Kiwanis clubs, with teams from Wilkinsburg, Dormont, Carnegie, Homestead, Verona-Oakmont, Turtle Creek, Swissvale, Wilmerding, Sharpsburg, Etna, McKeesport, East Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh participating. Play will begin at 12:30.

As the sandlots made baseball America's "great National game," Tom Thumb go promises to popularize the ancient Scotch pastime. Tom Thumb golf, the fascinating sport which has swept EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOONS OF YESTERDAY: HUGUES AUBRIOT WAS THE FIRST PRISONER IN THE BASTILE—Hughes Aubriot, provost and captain of Paris, was in charge of the construction of the Bastile and laid the first stone of that redoubtable French prison on July 22, 1370. He eventually was convicted by a clerical court of having restored to their parents a number of Jewish children who were abducted forcibly for the purpose of baptism. He was sentenced "to the ditch, the bread of sadness and the water of pain," and was imprisoned in the same Bastile, the foundation of which he had laid. The French cherish his memory as one of the most progressive and liberal intellects of the Fourteenth Century.

BUCS DEFEAT REDS, 7-6, IN LIDLIFTER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent

CINCINNATI, April 16.—Elated over their fine start against the Cincinnati Reds here yesterday, the Pittsburgh Pirates went after their second straight against Howley's men today. The Pirates, despite their crippled lineup, hit the ball hard against their former nemesis, Fred Lucas, and succeeded in sending him to the showers.

One of the outstanding figures in the Pirates' triumph was none other than Steve Swetonic, who checked the Reds' attack after the locals had succeeded in pounding Ray Kremer from the mound. Steve not only silenced the attack of the Reds, but fanned six during his stay on the mound. He received credit for the victory.

SWETONIC STARS

North Side Steve enacted a slab rescue act in the fourth that came close to being a classic. The sudden illness of Heinie Meine, first slab choice for the game, caused Manager Ens to switch to Remy Kremer, who had worked six frames in New Orleans on Saturday. Kremer was off form and in much distress when Swetonic rushed to the scene in the fourth with two out. Five runs had been made by the Reds up to this point, but Steve took charge of the situation like a master. He allowed only one run in the remaining rounds and he fanned no less than six of the Reds. The native son was in a strong stride in the ninth as he mowed down three batters in a row.

Bartell and Hemsley uncorked successive homers in the left field bleachers in the second round. In the fifth, Dare-devil Dick had

GIANTS, PHILS, TIGERS, NATS TRIUMPH

By DAVIS J. WALSH.
International News Service

NEW YORK, April 16.—One day old and just starting to prattle idly for its pacifier, the 1930 baseball season was only a brat on its mother's knee this morning, yet certain inherited infirmities were beginning to break through the pall of natural festive that one so young is bound to present to the world. The two best ball clubs in the two best leagues for one thing, were out in front this afternoon, sustaining the experts pro tem. A camel can go eight days without water, but 24 hours is a long time to sustain an expert.

For another thing, the suspicion that the New York Giants are unable to win in profitable fashion was very marked matter was emphasized during the day of inaugural. It was the class of the World champion Athletics also the hitting of the league champion Cubs. The Athletics followed the first principle of success which says "beat the good ones." They beat the best one they could find, which happened to be the ex-champion Yankees 6 to 2. This was mere routine to Mr. Cornelius Mack's ball club, which spent a large part of last year in beating the ex-champion Yankees thus acquiring a pennant. The Athletics looked very good behind their ace-pitcher, Mr. Lefthand Grove.

SIMMONS STARTS WELL

Mr. Simmons, their ace-outfielder, signed a contract 10 minutes before the game and then hit a home run off Pipgras in 10 seconds flat, giving the club a two-run lead in the first inning. The Yanks tied it in the third, then the champions went on and won again. These insistent ball clubs are hard to convince this ought to take at least another year, as a matter of fact.

The Cubs got 10 cents worth of pitching, but a million dollars worth of hitting, so at least this part of it was not unlike 1929 either. They got out in front of the Cards and stayed there to win by 9 to 8. Rhem having nothing except his 1926 record. Poor old Doddering Hornsby made only two hits and all he could do was handle four chances perfectly. Hartnett's arm was so bad that he was utterly incapable of throwing out two men until some time after they had started.

GIANTS RATHER SHAKY

As for the Giants, they merely resumed the business of beating the Braves in the customary manner, this time in the ninth, 3 to 2. Even when winning, the club didn't look good. It seemed to lack assurance, cohesion. It appeared at times that all the Braves had to do was hit one in the air and keep running. Marshall, the new second baseman, was plausible in his debut, but Roettger did nothing except throw one resolutely against the stands on a play at the plate. Meantime Fisher, one of the men used in the Roettger trade, had blown himself to four hits.

Simmons, of course, stole the show from Ruth over in Philadelphia, although the latter achieved the unique by stretching a home run into two bases. His drive was out to clear the fence, when it struck one of the park's loud speakers right on the larynx and returned to the playing field. In the same inning Lazzeri deemed the side to have been retired and tossed the ball in the general direction of nowhere. Whereupon Lazenig hastened to retrieve it and gallantly chased a base runner, who already had been declared out. Apparently the Athletics didn't have to win this ball game, the Yanks lost it.

PHILS SURPRISE

The National League furnished most of the competition, each of the four games decided on the basis of one-run finishes. The Phillies, for instance, lasted to the wire to beat the Reds, 7 to 6, proving that their punch isn't anybody's caress, even with Traynor and L. Waner out of action. Joe Hutcheson, for the Phillies' reputed punch, at first was like an overcoat that somebody has permanently borrowed. It wasn't there. The Phils got only seven hits off Clark, but these were enough to beat the Robins, 1 to 0, because the thing the Phils weren't supposed to have, namely, pitching, was exactly the thing they got from Sweetland. He stopped the Robins with three hits and won his own ball game with a double. He didn't cover much ground out in right field, however.

The Senators also got a three-hit game from some kid pitcher named Brown, thus restoring the Red Sox to some semblance of order. They lost the game in their old form, 6 to 1, and now with a percentage of .500, they are ready to go in either direction at a moment's notice. They can be depended upon to pick the proper direction with unerring skill. They got as good pitching from Ruffing, however, as the Reds got from Lucas, their star the latter being unable to get the other boys out. So the Reds new-found punch was wasted. Meusel getting three hits and Heilmann two in their first whirl at National League pitching.

The Tigers got away running with a 6-to-3 decision over the Browns, each of the latter's runs resulting from homers by Gullic, Kress and Schulte the last two coming in succession in the seventh, thereby prompting Uhle's retreat. That's "hitting them where they aint." Also "when they aint"—meaning, on the bases.

BOWEN TO TRY FOR HONORS IN HALF-MILE

By JESS CARVER.

There appears to be no limit to this fella Bowen's cleverness. It would not come as a surprise if Pete were to successfully imitate four Hawaiians, or even five. Having shown the boys how to run the 100, 220 and the 440, as well as hurdle, broad jump and put the shot, the Pitt flyer now steps out and unofficially cracks the university record for the half-mile. "Ere's how.

Ol' Petah was Len Friedman, running around the Stadium track one afternoon when he decides to take a crack at the 880. So the boys get a watch and hold it on Pete, and when he finished the run, with young Jim Watkins, a freshman middle distancer chasing him, the railbirds catch him at 1:57 9-10, which is just about half a second faster than Jerry Allen, the oldtimer, who holds the official university and tri-state college mark for the distance, ever traveled.

So it looks now as though Pete will attempt this event against Ohio State in the dual meet in the Stadium Saturday afternoon. If he runs the 880, he'll stay out of the 220, confining his efforts to the century, quarter and the half.

All of which proves one thing. That if we could all run as fast as Pete, we'd miss a durned sight fewer trains.

GENEVA CHANCES GOOD

Inasmuch as West Virginia will not boast any overwhelming superiority in the field events, Geneva hopes to keep right close to the Mountaineers in their dual engagement in Beaver Falls tomorrow.

The Mountaineers figure to present a better-balanced team than the Covenanters, who will depend to a great degree on the efforts of Len Friedman, javelin star; Nulton, half-miler; Thomas, a sprinter; Ward, a broad jumper; Wilcox, a hammer heaver, and Slim Ransom, who pole vaults with considerable agility, to record points against West Virginia.

There isn't a better javelin handler in this district than Friedman. Len has been consistently good for the past four years, and owns the tri-state mark for the event, which is . . . well, the exact figure escapes me at present, but it's further than you'd care to tote an anvil. Any anvil!

Ambridge Country Club.

Affable Eddie Towns, you know, is back in our midst again as professional at the Ambridge Country Club. Eddie has been away from local golf for some time, but the call of his many friends in the district urged him to return . . . and he did. Eddie started in the golf game as assistant to the famous Alex Smith, noted professional, with whom he spent two years. Towns then spent three winters at Aiken, S. C., as golf instructor, coming from there to the Allegheny Country Club as professional in 1917. At the end of that season, Eddie went to the Great War, spending two and a half years soldiering in the Canadian Army. Returning to golf, he became affiliated with the Shannopin Country Club here, and spent four years as professional at the Ben Avon Heights course. He was appointed private professional to E. B. McLean, Washington publisher, and stayed in the Capitay City for three years. He has not played much golf during the last two years, confining his work to teaching, but, to use his own words, "I can still break 90 when I'm lucky." Towns likes his new job at Ambridge and says it keeps him real busy. A congenial chap, Eddie is going to make the boys work in district tournaments this summer.

The Lowdown On the Pirates

—By The Benchwarmer—

CINCINNATI, April 16.—Well, folks, I wish you could have seen the way the Pirates fought in the opener. There we was with Pie and Lloyd unable to do a lick for the team and Heinie sick in bed, more sick mentally, I believe, because he has been looking forward for a week to pitch the opener. We figured we had to have a few breaks to win, but after the boys began to wallop Red Lucas, it wasn't so tough. I want to tell you they was more good baseball in that opener than I have seen in any game for a long time. Talk about your hitting and fielding.

BARTELL GETS HOMER

Dick Bartell smashed one homer into the bleachers and had another sailing right into the same spot when Bob Meusel of the American League slid up over the bleacher rail and hauled in the ball with one catch. I wonder what they expect an outfielder to do in the American League. Most of us on the bench gave Charley Engle credit for a great play when he knocked down Kelly's drive with his bare hand in the third. That stop knocked off one or two runs. Engle was in there fighting all afternoon. He knew he was playing in the place of a big star, but he was a good sub for Pie.

The gang on the bench kicked up an awful racket, but we had to be careful what we said. Jewel told me not to get fresh with Bill Klem or I would be seeing the game from the standing room part of the stands. It was my first big league opener, so I wanted to see it from the dugout. Klem is a great umpire, though. I have heard a lot about him, but it was all true. The way he calls balls and strikes and runs the game in general is about perfect. He wouldn't let the team start out until he was sure that everybody knew about ground rules. No wonder he gets in so many world series. I heard one of our old timers say that it would be just too bad for the American League fellas in the Red lineup if they began to sound off to Bill about balls and strikes. He's the boss out there and our gang says there's nobody from the American League gonna tell him how to call him.

NO ARGUMENTS

I was wishin' Heilmann or Meusel would say something smart, just to see what Klem would do. Larry French and I were all loaded for Leo Durocher, the American League jockey, who is with the Reds. I sized him up before the game and I think I could "take" him if we started to swing, but it wouldn't go that far. Larry and I tried to get him to open up once or twice, but he didn't hear us or else he wanted to take things easy on the first day. Gee, I want to be around when he starts to pop off to Klem like he did to those American League umpires. Jewel was all tickled like a schoolboy with a pocketful of marbles when he came into the clubhouse. All the rest of us was cuttin' the pie, too, for it sure was a great game to win.

Mrs. Ens and the two kiddies were there, which made it a perfect day for the boss. Well, as far as I am concerned, he is 100 per cent and deserves all his good luck. And I'm not saying that because he's keepin' me on the club.

GREAT HITTING

I guess P. Waner jumped off to a poor start with four hits and a walk in five chances. He has those Red pitchers moanin'. Another star of the game was Steve Swetonic, who started the season in the bull pen, but before it was one day old he is leadin' the league. There's another swell guy. I hope he knocks off about 20 wins. You gotta hand it to these Cincy people about staging big days. I thought there was some baloney about their spirit, but they have it. I got a big kick out of the whole thing, especially the winning of the first game. If we can hit that way with Pie and Lloyd out, just imagine how we'll go when they get in there!

One baseball game doesn't count for any more than another one in the course of a season, but there's a great deal of satisfaction in putting the first one in the bag . . . Pirates get off to a hot start at Cincy yesterday and today's mail doesn't mention anything about the Grimes incident . . . No, no, that can't be right, that news from California that there is a suspicion that all was not over the horizon about Carnera's bout with Leon Chevalier, Monday night . . . Surely, the men behind Primo wouldn't do such a thing as arrange it so he would be sure to win . . . Tell us it ain't so, Joe, lest we lose all faith in mankind . . . Only the oldtimers in the fight racket around here know that Loudoun Campbell, former local ring star, met Terrible Terry McGovern twice in exhibition bouts at the Bijou Theater here at a time when Terrible Terry was in his prime and gave Terry plenty of trouble . . . After the workouts on the stage, Terry asked Loudoun how he learned his fine defense for Terry's rushes and sweeping right hand punches . . . Loudoun smiled and answered that he saw Terry knock out Pedlar Palmer, the Englishman, at Tuckahoe, N. J., and figured from then on that Terry would be made to order for him . . . Why? Because Terry fought the same style as Loudoun himself, which was to rush close with a hard right to the heart and follow with a right to the chin as the victim sagged under the first blow . . . Knowing the trick, Loudoun also knew the way to defend against it, and he had McGovern baffled . . . Red Mason went to Tuckahoe with Loudoun to see the McGovern fight, . . . Campbell's old friends are tossing a testimonial boxing show and vaudeville entertainment for him at the Moose Temple Saturday night and it looks like a sellout, as it deserves to be . . . It never pays to hurrah over a break too soon . . . C. C. Pyle's cross-country marathon races are a thing of the past, but now comes one Armand Vincent to announce that he is running an international relay foot race for the championship of the world over a distance of from 400 to 450 miles in eight days . . . It starts and finishes at the baseball stadium in Montreal, the getaway date being Sunday, July 20, and the finish the following Sunday. The teams will split $10,000 in prizes . . . It may or may not interest you to know that every club in the American Association has finished in every position in the race at least once in the history of the league with the exception of Minneapolis, which never has finished last. The league opened its twenty-ninth season yesterday . . . St. Paul has won the most pennants, six, with Louisville second, with five; Minneapolis and Indianapolis, four each; Kansas City and Columbus, three each; Milwaukee, two, and Toledo one.—HARRY KECK.

"I AM YOUR FATHER," SAID JUDGE McINGLENOOK

"No, no," cried Oleomargerine from the prisoner's dock. "I well remember the cracked tones of my father's voice as he drove poor mother and me out into the snow."

"But, dear, OLD GOLDS have put this clear, smooth tone in my voice."

They fell into each other's arms. The lawyer, the prosecutor, and the jury all smiled through their tears and reached for an OLD GOLD. Not a cough in a carload.

Brilliant mound performances marked the opening of the scholastic baseball races in the Pittsburgh district yesterday. Schricker, of Carrick High, achieved the goal of every pitcher by turning in a no-hit game against Allegheny as Carrick won, 8 to 1, and Carmody enabled Oliver to score a startling dope upset by pitching a one-hit shutout against Schenley. Oliver won, 2 to 0.

Westinghouse, Peabody, South Hills and Shady Side Academy also emerged victorious in senior competitions another ticketed for the bleachers, but Bob Meusel robbed him of the earned homer by a circus catch on the bleacher wall.

Brother Paul's first day of the season was perfect from the standpoint of batting. Paul connected for four singles and a walk. Comorosky made only one hit, but it was a smashing double that scored two big runs.

ENGLE FEATURES

Charley Engle, subbing for Traynor, made one of the feature fielding plays of the contest when he broke down Kelly's fourth-inning hit with his right hand to hold it to a single with runners on second and third. The stop spoiled a big inning for the home team. Engle also had a big day at the plate.

Gus Suhr's major league debut was accompanied by two scorching hits and two others that would have been safeties on fielders of less skill than Hughey Critz and George Kelly.

Red Lucas, a Pirate nemesis, felt the spleen of the Pittsburgh attack in the opener. The sorrel-top had to retire in the excitement of the sixth. Recruits Campbell and Frey finished for the home team, they holding the Pirates runless in the remaining rounds.

TUT FINED, REINSTATED

MILWAUKEE, April 16.—(AP.)—King Tut, Minneapolis lightweight, yesterday was fined $1,000 and his suspension lifted by the State Athletic Commission as a penalty for fouling Bruce Flowers, New York Negro boxer, in a bout here last Friday night. Tut was warned that a repetition of the offense would mean disbarment for life from Wisconsin rings.

KAYE DON SAILS

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP.)—Kaye Don, British automobile racer who landed here March 4 with high hopes of breaking the world straightaway speed record, sailed for home today after a series of unsuccessful attempts at Daytona Beach, but with the assertion that he would return next year for another try.

through the South, has invaded the North with the passing of winter and the arrival of pleasant weather. Indications are that the game will prove just as much of a craze in the northern cities as it has south of the Mason and Dixon line. Already arrangements have been made to establish the miniature courses on vacant lots in many of the Northern cities. In the meantime, Tom Thumb golf has lost none of its popularity where it has already been introduced.

Incidentally Tom Thumb golf has given the Greater Pittsburgh district a new industry, the miniature courses being manufactured by the National Pipe Products Corporation of Rochester, Pa. The industry was brought to Rochester by W. S. Townsend and A. J. Townsend, of the National Pipe Products Corporation. The Townsends recently paid $100,000 for the exclusive patent rights for the green materials used in the construction of the little courses. Entire courses are now manufactured at Rochester and shipments of from five to 10 carloads are being made daily. Executive sales offices of the company are located at Rochester and 25 division offices have been opened.

BLAKE TWISTS KNEE

ST. LOUIS, April 16.—(AP.)—Sheriff Blake, Cub pitcher who was forced to retire in the seventh inning in yesterday's game at St. Louis because of a twisted knee, will be ready to take his turn on the mound Monday, Manager Joe McCarthy said today. Blake injured his knee while racing to the plate in the fourth inning.

LOOP EXPECTS BIG CROWDS

By TOM BIRKS

The announcement of the West Penn League schedule has set the sandlot bee buzzing, and it appears Western Pennsylvania's leading loop is going to play to banner crowds. The opening night will be May 5, and with Dormont scheduled to meet the Homestead Aces at West Field, and Wilmerding set to travel to Whitaker, fans should see interesting lid-lifters.

The second day will find Verona Community at Dormont, Whitaker at Homewood and Homestead Aces at North Bessemer.

Then next Wednesday is an open night in the West Penn, Thursday will find Homewood at Verona and Universal at Wilmerding, and on Friday North Bessemer meets Universal at Universal. Manager Vogt of Whitaker is making arrangements to have most of his home games played on Saturday evenings. Most of the managers have agreed. The Verona date at Whitaker is May 19, not May 11.

Bunts

The North Borough Muthball League is going to find six clubs in the loop. A meeting will be held next week to ratify the rules, and the circuit will be set for the opening night.

Two new clubs came into the Steel City League from the Lawrenceville section, Clover A. C. and St. Catherine's. Both have good rosters and the names of the boys will be published in a couple of days. The Ivory Maids Club of the South Hills came back into the Steel City yesterday.

PIN TOURNEY OPENS

The Philadelphia Company's second annual bowling tournament gets under way tonight on the Crookston alleys. The second night of bowling will be staged April 21 and the third April 23. All competition will be on the Crookston alleys.

Primo Carnera.

WHETHER or not the California Boxing Commission's probe shows that the action of one of Leon Chevalier's seconds in tossing a towel into the ring in Oakland Monday night was a frame-up to maintain Primo Carnera's string of knockouts and credit him with a technical kayo against an opponent whom he might not have stopped otherwise, the situation shows the wisdom of the regulation in force in some states prohibiting seconds from ending a fight in that manner. Jobbery is so easily possible when a second is given the privilege of acknowledging defeat, perhaps even when his fighter is actually winning, that it is inadvisable to permit it. California's boxing powers left a dangerous loophole in failing to adopt a prohibitory regulation, not for Carnera's fight in particular but for all bouts staged in that state. The business of investigating Primo's bouts when they are over is becoming tiresome. It could all be avoided if the investigations were made beforehand and he were forced to meet real fighters who could be depended upon to make him earn his victories.

Primo's Foe Says He Was Threatened

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—A further hearing is scheduled today in the investigation by the California Boxing Commission of the peculiar ending of Primo Carnera's bout with Leon Chevalier, Negro, here Monday night. A second of Chevalier threw in a towel when Chevalier was winning in the sixth round and was not in distress.

Chevalier yesterday testified that this second, Bob Perry, threatened him with death if he didn't "lay down" in the bout and also rubbed his eyes with a sponge containing a substance that burned him about the face. He added that another second told him to "lay down" in the first round.

MACK PLEASED WITH VICTORY IN OPENER

By CONNIE MACK
Manager of World Champion Athletics.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—It was an inspiring thing for the Athletics to start the new season with the same regular lineup that they finished with in the 1929 world series and the boys began playing the kind of irresistable baseball that they showed when they ended last October.

Connie Mack

The Athletics defeated the Yanks, 6 to 2, before 33,000 persons yesterday afternoon and the victory was all the more pleasing because it was at the expense of the team which will be our real opponent this season.

Al Simmons started us off to our opening-day triumph under most dramatic circumstances. The Athletics had started batting practice and I had made all arrangements for Spencer Harris to play in left field when Al visited my office and signed a 1930 contract, thus ending a holdout in the nick of time.

When the game started Simmons lost no time performing one of his typical batting coups. In his first time at bat with Haas on base Al drove the ball over the right field wall for a home run and I don't think either Pipgras or the Yanks ever survived that robust wallop. Just as they acted last season, the Athletics players again waited for the race to start before they showed their real skill. That is exactly what happened yesterday. The whole team worked like a machine. Shortstop Boley and Second Baseman Bishop never looked better on the defense and they figured in two rattling double plays. Bishop also proved what a wonderful lead-off man he is by hitting a single, drawing two passes and scoring three big runs.

The Athletics convinced me that they are going to set a pace this season that will be very difficult for their rivals to follow.

BENEFIT BOUTS ARRANGED

Seven of the 10 or more four-round bouts that will make up the boxing show to be held in the Palisades Roller Arena, McKeesport, tomorrow night, for the benefit of the widow of Billy Hatch, Negro boxer who died recently following a bout with Georgie Tomosky there, have been arranged by Promoter Jim McGirr. Other mittmen who have offered their services gratis will be paired today.

In the bouts so far listed, Georgie Tomosky will take on Jackie Wilson, Negro flyweight. Andy Tomosky will meet Howard Mayberry, Teddy Welch will box Jackie Murray, Eddie Carver will engage Eddie Hebner, the amateur star, who will be making his professional debut; Casey Hayes will oppose Young Johnson, Johnny Smackey will trade blows with Frankie Portland and Roy Ryan will tangle with Jackie Griffiths.

Between Rounds

Hans Roberts, German welterweight of Brooklyn, will box Johnny Smackey of Canonsburg, in the six-round semi-final to the Jackie Rogers-Marty Gould fight at the Moose Temple Friday night. Promoter Francis Filben announced today.

Ed Fitz, matchmaker of the Jolly Bowl in New Castle, has booked his main bouts for the next two weeks. He has Tony Herrera in with Steve Chirpel of Boston, next Monday night, and Pete Tobias, New York flyweight, in with Francis Belanger, of Toronto, the following Monday.

The card has been completed for the Pittsburgh-Baltimore inter-city amateur boxing show to be held at the Keystone A. C., Saturday night by bringing with the visiting boxers headed first in each class: Flyweight, Buddy Carson vs. Bob Lyons; featherweight, Charles White vs. Mose Dutch; lightweight, John Mark vs. Bob McCormick; welterweight, Ed Jenkins vs. Dick Graham, and middleweight, George Bures vs. Chuck Mason.

Gar Wood Speeds 96.2 Miles an Hour

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 16.—(AP.)—Miss America VIII, 2,200-horsepower hydroplane with which Gar Wood seeks to establish a world speedboat record of 100 miles an hour, skimmed across the placid waters of Indian Creek here today at a speed measured by Wood at 96.2 miles an hour.

The run was made merely as a test, due to illness of Odis Porter, official A. A. A. timer.

This morning's mark of 96.2 miles an hour would have been a new world record had it been taken by official timers. Wood holds the present mark of 93.123 miles an hour.

Wood announced that he had postponed further attempts to set an official record until this summer, when he plans to race the boat against time in Detroit.

Tiger Joe Randall Signs With Buntack

Tiger Joe Randall, Negro welterweight star of Elizabeth, Pa., formerly handled by Jim Buchanan, of Charleroi, has signed a contract to do his fighting under the guidance of Bunny Buntack for the next three years.

Randall will be a welcome addition to the Buntack stable, which incudes Buck McTiernan, middleweight; George Panka, heavyweight, and Peaches Gallagher, featherweight.

DOUDS TURNS PRO

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 16.—Forrest R. (Jap) Douds, tackle and captain of last year's W. and J. grid team, has signed a one-year contract with the Providence (R. I.) RUTH LAUDS LEFTY GROVE

By BABE RUTH,
Baseball's Highest Salaried Player.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—It's always good to get that first game of the season over with. Somehow, when that first one is out of the way a fellow sort of feels as though he can settle down to the grind of playing baseball. The first game is always more of a show than it is a ball game.

Babe Ruth

The first games run just about true to form. Washington figured to win from Boston. Detroit on sheer hitting power alone seemed to have something on St. Louis. As for the Philadelphia - Yankee game, well first blood goes to them. They played nice heads-up baseball back of some very nice pitching by Lefty Grove and they deserved to win, but don't forget there are still 153 games to be played before the pennant is awarded.

The Athletics looked great yesterday. I'll hand them that. They played with assurance and pepper just they did in the world series against the Cubs. But they showed the very thing I've talked about all spring and that is a weakness on the infield particularly around short and second. What put them over yesterday was the pitching and if they win the pennant again this year it will be pitching that wins for them. A fellow like Lefty Grove is the most valuable asset any ball club can have and as long as Lefty and his fellow pitchers work as Lefty did yesterday, the Athletics will be a tough team to handle.

I'm sorry I didn't start off the season with any homers yesterday. I thought sure I had one in the third when I hit a long drive that hit the loud-speaker horns which stick up about 20 feet above the right-field wall. But the umpires said no and umpires are the final judges. Anyhow, there's one record goes to my credit. I guess I'm the first fellow in baseball history ever to have a home run radioed into a two-base hit.

Shows Business Romance Still Can Flourish

By B. C. FORBES

ROMANCE is not dead in business. New York this week has a western visitor whose achievements in the last four years suggest he possesses Aladdin's lamp and that he has been rubbing it most vigorously.

For less than $20,000 he purchased a small ice cream business in Seattle. He has expanded that into the Western Dairy Products, now a $35,000,000 concern, of which he is president. Quite recently he formed the Creameries of America, which is starting out with 22 plants in 11 states and which has been designed to become a $100,000,000 enterprise to acquire ice cream and milk plants and other food products across the continent. He has formed the Coffee Products of America, has purchased various well-known brands, and intends to make it also of national scope.

Through Bakeries of America he is corralling bakery plants throughout the Middle West. His Continental Chain Stores is operating 250 stores—and rapidly growing. He created the National Poultry and Provisions Company, called the largest distributor in Southern California.

He is president or chairman of the following food companies that he has personally organized and acquired:

Western Dairy Products.
California Dairy Products.
Creameries of America.
Gray's Harbor Dairy Products.
Midwest Dairy Products.
Midwestern Dairy Products.
Dairies, Inc.
National Poultry and Provision Company.
Coffee Products of America.
Bakeries of America.
Continental Chain Stores.

An intimate says of him:

"He has made a practice in all new enterprises to have his money invested first and operate them for a while in order to ascertain whether or not it is safe to invite his associates or his bankers. He is an outstanding figure on the Pacific Coast.

"He always feels that the success of an enterprise greatly depends on how well you treat your competitors. He is a great believer in helping his competitors rather than attempting to squeeze them, as in meeting competition they will resort to reducing and lowering the quality, and that will eventually hurt general consumption of the product.

"He also believes it is very essential to allow dealers a greater margin of profit the minute you can afford to. Letting the other fellow have a little bit the best of the deal, he finds, brings greater results. He says that if the average business men only knew the amazing results it brings, they would certainly appl. that theory.

"He has personally conducted in the last four years about 78 deals in buying out different plants. Meanwhile he has made a tremendous showing for the Western Dairy Products—earnings in 1929 increased 47 per cent over the previous year."

This man is S. H. Berch. Born in Continental Europe only 39 years ago, he speaks five languages. His personality is the polar opposite of the blustering, demonstrative, get-out-of-my-way, go-getting type. He tries to avoid business fights, but is not afraid to hit back when the necessity arises.

And yet many young men think the day of opportunity has passed!

A PREDICTION: Philadelphia will possess airport facilities unexcelled by any city in America.

WE are an honest race. The Department of Commerce finds that, on $1,864,000,000 retail credit business, bad debts amounted to only six-tenths of one per cent on open credit sales and 1.2 per cent on installment accounts. Predictions that a spell of widespread unemployment would bankrupt installment sellers have proved wrong. Installment selling has come through the test most creditably.

AMERICAN telephone users may get many wrong numbers, but American Telephone stockholders get many "rights."

Distribution of Western Electric as a melon to A. T. & T. stockholders would be logical one of these days. The telephone company itself is a big enough enterprise—the biggest in the world—for any one man or one management to run successfully.

YOU haven't noticed any marked reduction in retail prices, have you?

FINE sentiment underlies this brief official announcement:

"James S. Alexander, Jr., second vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company, of New York, has been appointed a vice president."

It was his father's bank, the National Bank of Commerce that the Guaranty recently took over. Although Alexander, Senior, retired as chairman of the Guaranty, the management obviously feels friendly towards his son. A gracious act.

HIGH-UPS in the financial world still look for a mild setback in stocks before a fresh upward movement is launched.

Autocar Company Boosts Activities

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—Autocar Company has increased its number of shopmen since January 1 and there is every indication that the rate of increase will continue for some time to come.

The company also announced that sales of Autocar trucks have been better than average of the industry so far of this year.

HARDWARE LINE STRONGER

NEW YORK, April 16.—The hardware demand throughout the country continues to show gradual improvement, according to reports received from leading market centers. Hardware Age says in its weekly market summary. Favorable weather in most sections, together with some improvement in basic business conditions have been the trade stimulating factors.

Seasonal merchandise, such as gardening equipment, paints, lawn goods and house cleaning supplies, are especially active at present. The demand for staple goods has also shown slight improvement.

Few price changes of consequence were made during the past week. The price tendency, however, inclines toward lower, rather than higher quotations, although recent reductions were mostly of a minor character. No major revisions appear likely in the near future.

Limbert to Speak At Bond Luncheon

"Two Gun" Bom Limbert, entertainer, hunter and explorer, will be the principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Bond Club of Pittsburgh, to be held tomorrow at noon in the William Penn Hotel.

PROTECT YOUR INSURANCE whatever the amount

Trust Protection may be far more essential for a life insurance estate of $20,000 than for one of larger proportions. Even partial dissipation of a small estate will defeat its purpose.

Our Trust Officers will be pleased to suggest a suitable plan for conserving your life insurance proceeds irrespective of the amount.

MARKET RIDES SELLING GALE, TURNS UP

Prices Rebound Briskly After Sharp Declines; Long List Shows Gains

NEW YORK, April 16 — (AP.) — After successfully passing through another storm of selling, in which sharp recessions took place in some of the motors, accessories and rails, the stock market turned sharply upward again today in response to a brisk demand for the public utilities steels farm implements and high priced industrial specialties. Early losses of 1 to nearly 6 points were substantially reduced or converted into gains and a long list of issues were marked up 1 to 10 points above yesterday's final quotations by early afternoon.

Call money was lowered from 5 per cent from the renewal rate of 4 per cent.

OUTPUT INCREASED

Several constructive business and trade developments helped to stimulate bullish enthusiasm. Weekly steel trade reports reported a slight increase in operations, foreign sales of copper were reported to be at the highest level since last September as a result of yesterday's drastic price cut and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company announced its long-expected offering of stock subscription rights.

New York savings banks reported that deposits on April 1 were the largest on record. A. W. Milburn, president of the Borden Co., told stockholders that volume of business and profit for the first quarter were better than for the same period of 1929 with April showing improvement over March. Horace Wilkinson, chairman of Crucible Steel reported that profits of his company in the first quarter would be only about half of those in the first three months of 1929. Iron Age states that the steel industry thuse far this year has met surprisingly good showing in view of the general business recession and producers will be satisfied if output can be maintained at the present rate.

RAILS WEAK

Weakness of the rails reflected the poor traffic and earnings statements so far this year. Southern Railway dropped 5½ points to a new low at 114 and St. Louis Southwestern, Lackawanna and Reading fell 3 points or more, with several others down a point or two. Checker Cab and Goodrich Rubber each dropped 4 points and Hup, Goodyear and Spicer sagged 2 to 3½ points.

Allied Chemical which recently disclosed a strong financial position, ran up nearly 11 points. Diamond Match jumped 12 and Eastman Kodak and Vanadium Steel each mounted more than 8 points, the former crossing 246 to a new high. J. I. Case also sold nearly 8 points higher, touching a new top at 213½. Ingersoll Rand and Auburn Auto each sold more than 6 points and Detroit Edison, International Harvester, Openheim Collins, Brooklyn Union Gas and Public Service of New Jersey sold 3 to 5 points higher.

A. T. & T. RIGHTS OPEN AT 25

NEW YORK, April 16 — American Telephone and Telegraph were admitted to trading on the New York Produce Exchange this afternoon. The initial sale was 200 at 25.

Stockholders of American Telephone and Telegraph Company of record May 23 have offered the right to subscribe for one additional share at $100 a share for each six shares held. Rights expire August 1.

As stock issued before close of business May 23 in the conversion of the 10-year convertible 4½ per cent gold debenture bonds due July 1, 1939, will be entitled to subscription rights under this offering, the exact amount of the offering is not determinable until after May 1.

Hears Final Pleas Against Rail Link

WASHINGTON, April 16 — Before deciding whether the Great Northern and the Western Pacific Railroads are to be permitted to link their Pacific Coast lines to compete for north and south traffic, the Interstate Commerce Commission today allowed final pleas of affected railroads and cities and states of the entire Northwest territory.

Under the proposal, the Great Northern would build southward 88 miles from Klamath Falls, Oregon, and the Western Pacific northward 112 miles from Keddie, Cal., creating another direct rail route between California and Oregon and Washington. The Southern Pacific Railroad, which operates the only line between these two sections, has vigorously opposed the project.

A. P. I. Oil Figures Increase in Week

NEW YORK, April 16 — Crude oil output in the week ended April 12 averaged 2,561,150 barrels daily, an increase of 30,700 barrels over the preceding week, but 53,900 barrels less than the average of the like 1929 week, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

Gasoline stocks total 53,908,000 barrels, an increase of 100,000 barrels over the preceding week.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, April 16. Bond prices dropped irregularly in today's market, which gave signs of increasing dullness. Money remained firm.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR COPPER

NEW YORK, April 16 — Heavy buying of copper for export was reported today as a result of yesterday's drastic slash of 4 cents a pound in the price of the metal. Advices stated that in the early dealings approximately 7,500,000 pounds of copper has been engaged for export today at the new 14.30 cent C. I. F. European port level. It was also reported that some of the sellers abroad are asking for increased allowances to meet the increasing demand.

Electric Products to Expand Markets

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

EXPANSION of the Electric Products Corporation into new territories is expected within a short time. Negotiations are under way with several other Frigidaire and Delco Light dealers which may result in advantageous consolidations.

The Electric Products Corporation was formed recently to take over the Suburban Electric Development Company. Its stock was offered in exchange for that of Suburban on a share-for-share basis. The new organization has 85,000 shares of capital stock outstanding, the same capitalization as that of Suburban Electric.

The company is exclusive distributor for Frigidaire and Delco Light products in 147 counties in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Kentucky. It is the fourth largest distributor of these products. The most recently acquired territory was the major portion of Indiana, in which Indianapolis is the central point. This district was acquired by the purchase of the inventory of the Refrigeration Equipment Company. No payment was made for good will which had a substantial value.

Started in Pittsburgh

STARTING with Western Pennsylvania as its territory, the organization has steadily expanded the area of its operations by first acquiring a portion of West Virginia, then a district in Ohio surrounding Columbus and finally most of Indiana.

Sales have grown even more rapidly than the number of communities served. A gross business of $986,825 in 1925 compares with sales of $3,575,770 in 1928 and with $5,316,481 in 1929. Officials expect a volume of about $9,000,000 from the present territory this year.

Net profit for 1929 of $144,102 or $1.70 a share after all charges except federal taxes was smaller than would normally be shown from the volume of business done. Expenses arising from changes in models were a contributing factor in reducing earnings. Charges such as this are not expected to recur in the future.

Service Costs Reduced

THE cost of servicing newly sold Frigidaires has been a large item of expense in the past, but this has been substantially reduced. Changes in the methods of assembling and in the designs of equipment have reduced this to a negligible factor in operations. A budget system has also been put into effect throughout the organization which will keep expenses in a more satisfactory ratio to sales.

The stock has been on an annual dividend basis of $1.50 since October 1, 1928. Extras of 12½ cents a share were paid on January 1 and July 1, 1929.

The future prospects for the electrical refrigeration industry appear to be bright. The Frigidaire organization, which is a General Motors unit, did about 55 per cent of the total business last year.

Major Development to Come

A SURVEY of the market for electrical appliances in the January issue of Electrical Merchandising showed that 94 per cent of the wired homes in the United States had electric irons, 43.6 per cent had vacuum cleaners, 33.4 per cent had washing machines, 29.4 per cent had fans and 37.1 per cent had toasters, but only 9.4 per cent had electric refrigerators. This indicates that the refrigeration market has hardly been touched.

A total of 19,721,486 homes were wired on January 1, 1930. During 1929 887,516 new homes were wired, but the sales of domestic refrigerators amounted to only 630,000, so that the industry has not yet started to keep pace with the annual growth in its potential market.

MOTORS BUYING MORE STEEL

NEW YORK, April 16.— The Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade tomorrow will say:

Iron and steel business is holding its own and in some lines has made moderate seasonal gains. Cleveland steel work, reflecting larger releases from the automobile industry, have raised production to 85 per cent, compared with 76 per cent of ingot capacity a week ago. The Youngstown district, which has been making steel at a lower rate than centers with more diversified output is now operating at 70 to 75 per cent of capacity and expects second quarter production to exceed that of the first quarter by 10 per cent. Operations in other centers, however, are substantially unchanged, and the average for the country at large is 78 per cent, compared with 76 per cent last week. The Steel Corporation rate remains at 77 to 78 per cent.

The steel industry thus far this year has made a surprisingly good showing, in view of the general business recession, the producers will be satisfied if output can be maintained at the present rate. Crude steel is no longer being piled in anticipation of expanding consumption, and the schedules of both open hearth and finishing mills are in close step with current demand.

Increases in motor car production are mainly by manufacturers in the lower price range, and spring sales of automobile dealers have not yet got under way in volume. Nevertheless the automobile industry's requirements in materials in the first half of this month have been appreciably larger than in the corresponding part of March. Specifications for hot-rolled strip have gained 10 per cent, and shipments of pig iron, 15 to 20 per cent.

Building prospects are more hopeful, although construction work is rather slow in getting under way. Activity in railroad equipment is at a low ebb. Prices of heavier finished products have become more flexible.

CAR LOADINGS INCREASE

WASHINGTON, April 16.— Revenue freight loadings for the week ended April 5 were reported by the American Railway Association to have totaled 907,928 cars. This was an increase of 22,769 cars above the preceding week and a reduction of 50,297 cars below loadings for the corresponding week a year ago.

Miscellaneous freight loadings for the week ended April 5 aggregated 378,212 cars, a decrease of 28,996 cars below the corresponding week of 1929; loadings of merchandise less than carload lot 254,927, decrease 12,215; coal 134,036, increase 1,719; forest products 56,961, decrease 12,143; ore 10,505, decrease 619; coke 10,495, decrease 1,500; grain and grain products 40,333, increase 4,602; livestock 22,459, decrease 1,145.

Copper Production Gains During March

NEW YORK, April 16.—March world copper production totaled 149,905 tons or a daily rate of 4,739 tons against 139,229 tons or 4,972 daily in February and 192,792 or 6,219 tons daily in March 1929, reports American Bureau of Metal Statistics.

Bank Acceptance Rates Are Raised

NEW YORK, April 16.—Leading dealers have advanced bankers acceptance rates one-eighth of 1 per cent.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, April 16.—The curb market was led irregularly higher today by resumption of large-scale speculation from the rise in some of the utilities. Oils displayed a firmer tone, and some of the specialties made marked advances, but profit taking in advance of the three-day closing at the end of the week was in evidence.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

This Sale will continue every day and night until all cars are sold. This is not an auction sale or trick sale of any kind—THESE CARS MUST BE SOLD—All cars priced in plain figures and will sell as marked. Only one car to each customer. This will protect you. When we run a sale, everyone knows it's a real sale and they buy with confidence. In this sale you will find cars worth $100 to $500. Many makes, many models, all wonderful bargains.

'TIS NO SECRET—ANSWER

We have on hand many cars and we are loaded and instead of storing and holding them for the usual price, we are going to slaughter the prices and sell them cash. We are going to take our loss to do this, as we think it's the only sensible thing to do. Included in this sale, also we have for your approval five late model closed cars. Also 6 new Studebaker Demonstrators (used very little). Now is your chance to trade that old car for a late model closed car at a bargain.

Late Model Studebakers, Dodges, Buicks, Chryslers, Hupmobiles, Pontiacs, Hudsons, Chevrolets, Oldsmobiles, Fords, etc.

Cars worth 800, now...400 to 500

DAILY TRUE STORY

Laura Belle's Curls

"MA, will you make Laura Belle fix her curls back?" It was Muriel Stratton shouting to her mother.

Mrs. Stratton came from the front room where she had been watching through the curtains to see what sort of furniture the family had that was moving into the Wilson house.

"How many times—"

That is as far as Mrs. Stratton got.

Laura Bell, blue-eyed, golden-haired, pink-cheeked, shrunk back against the kitchen sink, timidly.

It seemed that Laura Belle was mostly at the kitchen sink.

But it was Joe Stratton, who interrupted Mrs. Stratton. Joe was the son of her second husband and if there was ever any such a thing as a "twenty-seventh" fiddle instead of a second fiddle, that was what Joe played around there. Yet he had the temerity to interrupt.

"Aw, now look here, Mary Stratton," he said to his stepmother. "Laura Belle looks cute with her hair curly that way."

Laura Belle shot him a grateful glance.

Muriel Stratton, twenty-four, colorless, angular, insipid, who had shouted to her mother about Laura Belle's curls, turned on Joe savagely.

"Cute, says you!" she snapped at him.

"Cute, says I!" Joe came back at her.

Muriel's real name was Briggs. Her mother had changed it when she married the late unlamented Mr. Stratton.

"Mind your business, Joe!" snapped Mrs. Stratton.

"My business is minded," Joe said quietly. "I'm through at the factory for the day. I've paid my board and if I want to say that Laura Belle looks cute with her pretty curls all fluffy the way God made it—"

"Will you shut up, pieface?" screamed Muriel.

Joe walked over toward the sink.

Under the Apple Tree

He made a gesture with his hand that meant to Laura Belle to put up her hair. She understood. Ma Stratton and Muriel were both having an ugly spell, and all because Jim Hurlburt went and married the Jones girl when they hoped he would marry Muriel.

"I didn't have time to fix it back," Laura Belle said. "It is hard to fix back and—"

"Wet it—make it stay up neat—we don't want no straw-colored hair flyin' 'round in our food," Muriel said.

Laura Belle went up to her attic room to wet and "spat back" her beautiful golden curls.

"You know darn well," Muriel said to her mother, "that men are fools. If they see a lot of yaller hair all curly they go goofy. We gotter keep Laura Belle on the job here."

"I know, dearie," her mother said. She sighed as she glanced at her homely daughter's colorless scraggly hair. She knew that Muriel was jealous of Laura Belle's beauty.

That night Laura Belle was sitting out under the apple tree in the back yard when Joe came out.

"They've gone to a movie," he said. "Let's you and me go."

"Oh, Joe, I'm too tired. I've had to work all day."

"Darn 'em," Joe muttered, and then, "I'm going to be made foreman of the spool room at the factory. Lang is going to the Ohio plant. That means we can afford to get married, honey."

"She says I can't leave or do nothing until I'm 21, and that's three more years. I'll be worked to a frazzle then," Laura Belle answered.

"We'll get married in spite of her. When you're my wife she can't boss you. She nagged father into his grave and got what property he had, but you just wait a few weeks, Laura Belle. We'll elope."

"Oh, Joe!" Laura Belle said.

The tone of her voice indicated that the proposition sounded heavenly to her.

The next day Mrs. Simms came over. She was the new neighbor who had just moved in across the street. Laura Belle answered the door and Mrs. Stratton came in.

Admires Laura Bell

"What a beautiful daughter you have," gushed Mrs. Simms.

"Ah!" said Mrs. Stratton, smirking.

Muriel came into the room just then.

"Muriel dear," said her mother, "this is our new neighbor, Mrs. Simms. She was just telling me what a beautiful daughter I have."

Muriel simpered.

Mrs. Simms looked startled. Now Mrs. Simms was one of those who are never diplomatic.

"I mean the other daughter—the pretty one who answered the door," said Mrs. Simms.

Muriel got red with anger.

Mrs. Stratton made a gurgling noise with her throat and then said: "Good land, Mrs. Simms, that's my servant—she's just a nobody. I took her out of an orphan home two years ago. Just a nobody and we give her a nice home—we're soft-hearted that way."

"Ah, yes, very Christian-like," Mrs. Simms murmured. It had suddenly come to her that she had certainly "put her foot in it."

After she left Muriel remarked that she seemed to be an awfully "dumb fool."

Her mother agreed. Both of them went into the kitchen and looked Laura Belle over. Laura Belle had been cleaning the linoleum. Her cheeks were redder than usual and the exercise had made some of her curls pop out.

"I guess you best wear a sort of cap and apron when you answer the bell," Mrs. Stratton said. "I certainly don't want guests to think you are one of the family."

"The idea of you going to the front door like you was one of the family," Muriel yelled at her.

"My apron was torn and wet with scrub water," Laura Belle tried to explain.

They nagged her steadily for another five minutes.

And so things went on and on.

One night at the dinner, as Laura Belle was bringing in the food, she heard Mrs. Stratton yelping at Joe. Laura Belle was frightened. Joe had been made foreman of the spool room at $50 a week. She was afraid Mrs. Stratton had heard of it.

Made Foreman

Her fears were well grounded.

"—and so I just pranced down to the factory office to find out for myself, Joe Stratton. It is true you've been promoted and your salary jumped from 35 to 50, and you never said a word about it to me. What's the meaning of it?"

Joe looked up and smiled at her; it was rather a sarcastic smile.

"You've been telling me, off and on, for a number of years, that you didn't have the least interest in me or what I did so long as I paid my board," he said quietly.

"I never said any such thing," she retorted.

"You said that as long as Muriel and me wasn't related at all I ought to marry her, and I said I guessed I ought not, and you said you wasn't interested in me any more. Remember that?"

"You and Muriel ought to get married," Mrs. Stratton declared.

Muriel tried to blush, but she only looked down and choked a little.

"And so now, with fifty a week, you ought to pay me twenty-five a week. I been keepin' you here—"

The potato, fork and knife clattered down on the plate.

"I've paid twice what the board and lodgings were worth because I hated to leave the old place," Joe said, tensely. "You nagged Pa to willin' it all to you, but I've been fed up now."

Joe got up.

"Where are you going, Joe?" Mrs. Stratton asked.

"I've got me a place to live. And I'm going to marry Laura Belle—"

"Wha-a-a-at?" screamed Muriel.

"Get out in the kitchen and stay there, you—you scum!"

Mrs. Stratton shouted this to Laura Belle who was just coming in with pie.

Laura Belle backed into the kitchen, badly frightened.

"You can't marry her 'til she's 21—that's three years away. I won't let her. I'm her guardeen."

Mrs. Stratton was getting red-faced and ugly.

Joe Leaves Home

"The idea of you marrying some trash from a home. Nobody knows who her people were if she had any," Muriel said to him.

Joe started to answer her but seemed to change his mind.

"What will people think, you going to some other place to live?" Mrs. Stratton demanded.

"They'll think," Joe answered, "that I've been fed up on your nagging."

Joe packed up leisurely, left his two trunks locked and left with a suitcase.

"I'll go and see him tomorrow and make him come back. I can wheedle him into it," Mrs. Stratton said.

Then she called Laura Belle in. She and Muriel said things to her that made her cry.

"And just so sure as you see Joe again or speak to him I'll have you put in a reform school!"

Mrs. Stratton looked as though she meant it.

"If you should marry him I could put you in jail, or Ma could," Muriel added.

"Yes ma'am," Laura Belle said, timidly.

When Laura Belle went up to the stuffy little room over the kitchen that night Muriel said to her mother: "She won't dast look at Joe now. You go down tomorrow and see if you can't get him to come back."

"The idea," Mrs. Stratton muttered, "of him wantin' to marry Laura Belle!"

Laura Belle was in her stuffy little back room by the small single window, staring out into the darkness but seeing nothing.

Someone tapped at her door.

"Who is it?" Laura Belle asked.

"Joe," came his unmistakable voice. She opened the door, amazed.

"Ought to put a ladder up at the window to make it a real romantic elopement. Laura Belle, but since they're down at the movies we might as well walk out the front way. Get your things together—"

"I can't for three years, Joe. They'll . . ."

"They're just scaring you. Come on. I got the marriage license this noon and the minister is expecting us."

So they walked out the front door, were married and went to the little cottage Joe had made a first payment on.

"I didn't know," Laura Belle said when she arrived at the cottage as Mrs. Joe Stratton, "that life could be so romantic."

She giggled. "I left a funny note for them," she said. "I wrote:

"'I've gone and married Joe and I won't have to keep my curls spat down any more.'"

THE BUNGLE FAMILY

Today and Yesterday

By Tuthill

MANY PERSONS WHO REMEMBER PEGGY'S DISAPPOINTING ROMANCE CAN UNDERSTAND WHY MRS. BUNGLE DROPPED A BASKETFUL OF PRIZE GLASSWARE WHEN SHE FOUND THAT HARTFORD OAKDALE WAS IN TOWN AGAIN.
HOW ARE YOU, MY DEAR MRS. BUNGLE!
WHAT YOU? OAKDALE! OH! OH!
THE SAME HARTFORD WHO, AFTER INTRODUCING HIMSELF WHEN PEGGY STALLED THE FAMILY CAR IN A TRAFFIC JAM, SPENT SO MANY EVENINGS IN THE BUNGLE HOME DESCRIBING A HEROIC PAST.
AND YOU WEREN'T AFRAID — WITH THE ARABS SURROUNDING YOU!
AFRAID? OH POSSIBLY I WAS BUT I DIDN'T THINK OF IT WHILE HACKING MY WAY THROUGH THOSE CHAPS WITH THE WOUNDED MAN ON MY BACK.
SUCH MUSH!
WHEN CAME THE DAY IN JUNE WHEN, IN SPITE OF HER MOTHER'S WARNINGS, PEGGY WAITED IN CHURCH WHILE FAMILY FRIENDS TRIED TO FIND THE GROOM-TO-BE.
SUCH LUCK! I JUST CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHY OLD HARTFORD DOESN'T APPEAR.
THAT WRETCH! OH PEGGY HONEY, PLEASE STOP SNIFFLING. EVERYTHING HAPPENS FOR THE BEST, DEAR.
MONTHS LATER HARTFORD REAPPEARED WITH A STORY OF A LOST MEMORY SO READILY BELIEVED BY TWO MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY, THAT MRS. BUNGLE NEVER UNDERESTIMATES HARTFORD'S GIFT FOR CAUSING TROUBLE.
UGH! IT JUST MAKES MY BLOOD RUN COLD TO KNOW THAT FAKE IS IN TOWN AGAIN. HA, I KNOW THIS FAMILY IS IN FOR ANOTHER BIG HULLABALOO. THE IDEA.

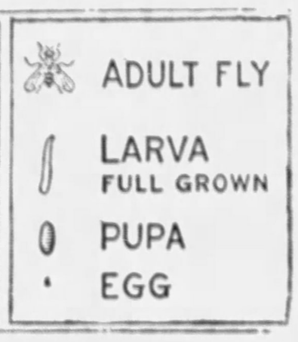
Billions of Destruction

The Tiny Insect Can Do It.



THE MEDITERRANEAN FLY MUCH ENLARGED

THE FLY ACTUAL SIZE

To fight this tiny creature, smaller than an ordinary house fly, the government is spending millions of dollars. And California is on the alert to keep out fruit from other states and from abroad. Various other states are taking precautions, spending large sums.

The money is well spent by states and government, for this creature, laying an egg so small that it can barely be seen with the naked eye, is capable of doing BILLIONS OF DOLLARS WORTH OF DAMAGE.

Once men fought and feared only the savage animals—mammoth, lion, tiger, wolf, etc.

They have been conquered, and represent no danger.

But a greater danger than all other animals put together is represented by insects that destroy crops, and actually menace the civilization and survival of man.

If the locusts, boll weevils, fruit flies, codlin moths, scale, pine tree pests, corn borers, army worms and the other endless thousands of man's insect enemies once got the upper hand vegetation would disappear from the earth, and the human race with it.

The orchard grove shown here tells you what happens to orange trees after the Mediterranean fruit fly attacks them.

The mother fly buries her eggs in the skin of the fruit, the eggs hatch into maggots that feed on the interior of the fruit, until, in a few days, the fruit is badly decomposed, falls to the earth, and the orchard is stripped and the fruit worthless.

The maggots are white, sharply pointed at one end, and soon develop from microscopic creatures to worms three-eighths of an inch long.

Only eternal vigilance can overcome these insect enemies, and every citizen should co-operate earnestly with federal and state governments, loyally obeying all orders and regulations.

Magellan

Was He First to Sail Around the World?

A hot argument is raging among historians about Magellan—was he or was he not the first man to sail around the world?

It is a complicated question, one complication being that Magellan made the trip in two installments.

Magellan first sailed east from Europe to a point in the Pacific Ocean, somewhere this side of the Philippines. Then he returned to Europe and sailed west, around Cape Horn, landing in the Philippines, where he was killed.

Thus he girdled the globe. That is admitted. But now it appears that another man who was with him may be entitled to the first honors.

The other man was a Filipino slave named Enrique, who also made the trips east and west. In fact, he was aboard Magellan's own flagship when Magellan reached the Philippines.

The question thus resolves itself into this: Which was in front, Magellan or Enrique, at the instant the flagship crossed the meridian of longitude that marked the circumnavigation?

It is a difficult point to settle. Enrique, as a slave, probably was quartered in the forecastle, and Magellan, the admiral, undoubtedly lived in the stern cabin. Thus Enrique might have beat Magellan across the line by the length of the ship.

But, on the other hand, maybe Magellan was standing in the bows at that instant looking for land, while Enrique was making up his boss's bunk or setting the cabin table.

It reminds you of the old debate over which came first, the chicken or the egg. But it is something to argue about, anyway, if you have nothing more important to do and want to exercise your speculative powers.

Gandhi's Auto

A Curse—but Convenient.

Mahatma Gandhi, who makes trouble periodically for John Bull in India, is the undying foe of Western civilization, the world's greatest spokesman for the simple life. He shaves his head, sleeps on a grass mat, spins cloth on a rough hand loom, bathes in a river instead of a bathtub, frowns on radios, airplanes, steamships, railroads.

Mankind can only be happy without machinery, the sage honestly believes, and he preaches his doctrine throughout India.

So it is interesting to note that Gandhi, finding India a big country, has decided to speed up his propaganda by using an AUTOMOBILE. The next thing you may expect is to see the eminent apostle of the primitive seeking converts through the talkies, or even television.

Nowadays it is easy to tell the world what a curse machinery is. Thanks, as it happens solely to machinery.

SPRING CLEANING

Drawn by Nelson Harding

This is Spring house-cleaning time
When Winter dinginess and grime
Are treated to a thorough wash
And all accumulated trash,

And rubbish which can now be spurned
Is cast into the flames and burned,
And when no odds and ends remain
The house will be spruced up again.

"Bugs" Baer Says:

Henry the First

HENRY FORD reports a prosperous year and no vice president.

"Bugs" Baer

Wall street will never forgive Henry for owning his business all by himself. The Duke of Detroit mopped up over eighty million dollars during the last pedestrian season. Boys, that ain't hay.

If it is hay we never saw it in stacks. We admire Henry as a selfish made man.

He did it all alone with his little bow and arrow. He gets some little assistance from Edsel. When Henry is snatching a nap behind the barrel of dried prunes, Edsel waits on the store.

Probably the biggest fight in history was over the changing of Henry's Model T. That was the old flivver with fenders flapping like wooden heels and the gasoline tank in your lap.

Henry objected to sending Lizzie to a beauty parlor. He didn't want 'em beautiful because he didn't want 'em dumb.

Edsel thought it time to send Elizabeth to college to have her voice modulated, her lips reduced and her capillary tremors straightened out.

The result was a car that is so pretty it will run 30 miles on a piece of Melba toast.

Of course, the new model is no Rolls Roisterer. But the Detroit shock troops nailed eighty million to the mast in a year and there is no song like the melodious chirping of a sleepy cash register at twilight.

There are only 172,645 shares of stock in the Ford incubator. Who do you think owns 'em? Henry and Edsel. And when Henry reads this we know he isn't going to make it a trio.

We would like to show Henry how to make some sure gravy. Yes, we're another one of those unfortunate birds who would get rich if it weren't for our bridge partner.

We don't quite understand how Henry accumulated all that golden cabbage. They tell us that he can't dance a step.

Well, more power to him, both alternating and direct. He deserves all his success for the suffering he went through.

He was the first guy to ride in one.

STORM-CLOUDS IN THE EAST

By Herbert Kaufman

THE prohibition question is essentially an urban and not a RURAL problem. The Volstead Act discovers no difficulties of enforcement in the SMALLER towns and villages, where all folk live in GLASS HOUSES and community behavior is under UNESCAPABLE scrutiny.

Gay white ways don't wend through farming DISTRICTS or wind among towns of negligible population. The bootlegger may have his customers on Main street, too, but they are not CABARETS and NIGHT CLUBS.

Those webs for "fly parties" and training schools for sophistication only flourish where truants may escape observation and whoopee-makers hide their trails in unfrequented streets.

EVERYBODY knows where everybody goes in sparsely settled hamlets. But gossip cannot control the morals or intimidate the experimental appetites of big-city youth.

Consequently, the cities alone are threatened by the sordid, illicit habits which incompetent management of the Eighteenth Amendment has fostered.

And so it was to be EXPECTED that the first public feminine protest against the Eighteenth Amendment should be called by the women of New York.

The group of club leaders, social workers and church society heads assembled at Carnegie Hall on Sunday night, met there to fight for the preservation of Manhattan home life against the small town bigots who assumed entire right to regulate metropolitan conduct.

THESE women are not opposed to prohibition, but DISGUSTED with its BREAKDOWN, and heart-sick at the piper's bill which an unworkable statute increasingly calls upon their families to pay.

Sanctimonious hypocrisy spits in the wind when it brands such demand for repeal as rebellion against registered MAJORITY WILL.

Majority will was never consulted by the blue-nose influence which thrust the Eighteenth Amendment into the Constitution.

Majority will never had a CHANCE to cast its ballot for prohibition.

PROHIBITION never has been a declared issue of national politics. It was imposed upon the people of the United States by Legislatures which did not consult their constituents before they voted confirmation.

And the PROCESSES by which confirmation was procured are plainly indicated in a suspiciously opportune statement from the Board of Temperance and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which palpably intends to remind Congress that the powerful minority which removed TWENTY-TWO of the TWENTY-THREE originally dissenting Senators from the Capitol, will do its utmost to thwart the re-election of any OTHER members of Congress who refuses to march his views under the WHITE RIBBON.

∴ LISTEN, WORLD ∴

By Elsie Robinson

FASCINATING stuff, this new "occasional furniture" they're using in homes now days.

Gay little chairs and tables in black and vermillion, lacquer-book cases and what-have-you's in enameled woods, emerald and silver, lavender, coral and cobalt blue. Trivial, fragile things, sparkling as jewelry—and serving much the same purpose.

Last night, at twilight, I stood looking at a window full of it. Something—perhaps it was the dusk with its plucking tide of memories—made me thin', back to the time when life wasn't enameled and we didn't have "occasional furniture." When things had to pay their way.....when chairs WERE chairs—

Dad's chair. No connoisseur would have coveted it. An old oak rocker, battered and worn, with no "lines"—no "period." Just a deep, wide old rocker with a worn, cushioned seat—

I don't know how many years we had had it. Ever since I was a little tad, Dad and that old rocker belonged together in my life. We were poor. Dad beat out his life in a treadmill for us youngsters. Long days.....bitter rough work.....dragging his way home at night, pumping hard on spent lungs. Tired out. I can hear, yet, the little grunt of gratitude he'd give as he sank into his chair, and see the kind, worn paleness of his face, resting for a moment against its back.

Dad in his chair—I didn't know, then, the line about "God's in his Heaven, all's well with the world," but all was well—very well—with my little world when Dad was at rest in his chair.

Dad and his chair, growing old together, much as he and mother grew old together, sharing shabbiness. Sharing weariness. Sharing each other, until their very souls took shape from each other. Comforting each other, at the end of the day, until the long night shut down——

"Occasional furniture"—how trifling those bright bits of wood look, when I think back to Dad's old chair . . . and how trifling much of our modern life seems! "Occasional furniture"—sometimes I think that is what we men and women have come to mean to each other. So much shoddy in our lives—so much brilliant, shallow effect—so little lasting substance. No time to think. No chance to be real. No opportunity to rest in each other—to belong to each other. Once in a year, perhaps, we meet an old friend. A slap on the back—a chat over a counter—then we're on our way to the next thing.

"Occasional furniture"—that's what many husbands and wives have become, too. Just something to have around, because humans are supposed to have things like that around. Something that caught the eye once but which became tiresome, almost before it was installed. Pretty, perhaps clever, occasionally charming and companionable.

But what do they really mean to each other? How much do they really give to each other? How long can their marriage last? Until the newness has gone, until the fad had passed. And why not? What can they know of shabbiness shared? Of weariness comforted and grief consoled—and the long night

Text for Today Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies.—Psalms, CIII: 1-4.

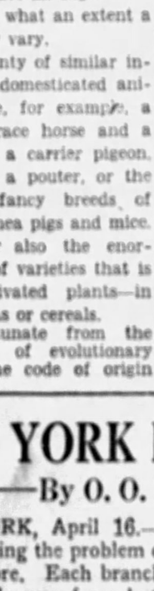
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

IF EVOLUTION is the form of life's process, it must still rule life. Life must still be evolving today. Is that so? We do not see striking metamorphoses happening; evolution is an extremely slow process, its changes in the case of the slower-breeding organisms take hundreds of thousands of years to accomplish, and it would be strange indeed if any profound alteration in the form of a living thing had occurred in the couple of hundred years during which animals and plants have been carefully and systematically observed.

To expect rapid changes of this kind is like expecting visible movement in the hour-hand of a clock. Nevertheless we can detect slight changes in progress, sufficient to convince us that evolution still continues.



H. G. Wells

One of the clearest and most striking proofs of the plasticity of living things is the extraordinary variability they display under domestication.

Consider, for example, the dog.

Here we have an enormous assemblage of forms, the extremes differing from each other far more strikingly than many natural species, ranging in size from the St. Bernard and the Great Dane to the toy lapdogs, in proportion of parts from the slender-limbed greyhound to the low-hung dachshund, from the long-nosed Collie to the snuffling Pekingese, and showing an enormous variety of colors and coat patterns.

Yet they seem to be all of one kind; they recognize each other as like creatures and if the physical disparity between them is not too great they breed freely together. In a word they are all dogs.

They show to what an extent a living form may vary.

There are plenty of similar instances among domesticated animals. Compare, for example, a cart horse, a race horse and a Shetland pony, a carrier pigeon, a tumbler and a pouter, or the multitudinous fancy breeds of rabbits and guinea pigs and mice.

And consider also the enormous richness of varieties that is found in cultivated plants—in roses or primulas or cereals.

It is unfortunate from the point of view of evolutionary science that the code of origin of most of these special domesticated breeds has not been recorded.

They are in many cases very ancient. There were domesticated dogs in the bronze age, cave and lake dwellings of Central Europe; in Egypt there were several distinct breeds, including a greyhound as early as 300 B. C.; a dog very like the St. Bernard appears on Assyrian bas-reliefs.

Nevertheless, it is clear that man has been the primary cause of this extraordinary divergence. He has kept and bred from those animals which best suited his fancy, and he has drowned or starved or given away the others.

So he has gradually molded the breeds.

There are plenty of cases in which the gradual changes have been recorded. The greyhound of today is more slender-legged than the greyhound that appears in Egyptian paintings; a specialist in hunting hares, he is smaller and lighter even than his Elizabethan ancestor, which was sent after deer and all sorts of game.

Again the bulldog has been modeled about almost like a lump of plasticine.

He was bred first for the special purpose of bull-baiting—hence his short, stocky build which enabled him to dodge the swing of the bull's horns, his underhung jaw and strong gape and his method of attack, which is to come boldly from the front, to seize the muzzle and to hold on instead of dancing in from the rear and slashing after the manner of deer-hounds and other elegant dogs.

When bull-baiting was made illegal in England the breed was kept on as a curiosity and was changed from a fighter into a caricature; its face became so short that it could hardly breathe through the nose, its legs were absuredly bowed and twisted, while its general physique and stamina deteroriated.

To a large extent this change was due to selective breeding, although that process was assisted by such tricks as keeping the pups in cages so low that they could barely stand up, to exaggerate the curve of the legs, and keeping them in harnesses to hollow their backs.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 16.—Old timers of the stage and screen are finding the problem of making a living more difficult than ever before. Each branch of the entertainment field demands not only new faces but above all else the glamour of Youth. So The Rialto is humming with swan songs.

In the legitimate theater this winter the majority of successes exploited stars in early twenties. More than 100 players of stellar capacities suddenly found themselves eddied to backwaters almost solely because they were past the age of 40. Such fine actors as Wilton Lackaye and others portrayed comparatively minor roles.

Many who expected to find parts in the talkies discovered their voices did not meet the demands of synchronization. Any number of headliners have given up the struggle for jobs in their profession and are turning to anything that will provide a livelihood.

Still others are going "on tours to Australia"—an acknowledgement in the stage world that their professional careers so far as America is concerned are over. The "original New York company" art lost its lure in the outland. There is no hope there.

Innumerable men and women whose names were box office attractions 10 years and less ago are marking time on Hollywood boulevard and Broadway waiting for a shift in economic clouds. And because of their usual improvidence, there are many in actual distress.

Now and then something happens to give old timers renewed hope, such as the hit made by Miss Grace George this winter or the success of the revival of William Gillette in "Sherlock Holmes," but these instances are sporadic and do not presage a permanent return to affluence.

Talkie producers have found they can now "make" a star almost over night and reap hefty rewards without paying the extravagant salaries demanded by those who made the grade several years ago. On the legitimate stage 15 recognized stars the passing season had excellent vehicles but did not attract.

My nomination for the busiest man in New York is Tony Sarg, the artist, if his listings in the telephone book are a criterion. Here they are: Tony Sarg, artist; Tony Sarg studios; Tony Sarg warehouses; Tony Sarg Co., Inc., and Tony Sarg's marionettes.

The piano, it seems, is threatened with temporary extinction. Sales have been slumping for several years and an observer reports that not one newly married couple out of 50 installs this instrument. Instead, a radio is installed. While it may be true the beloved piano is fighting for its life, there is one next door that is fighting with its back against the wall. And to the wall of my bedroom, too.

A ten-twent-thirt production of "Nugget Nell or The Pride of the Prairie" is playing to capacity on Fourteenth street, and the heroine after a dozen escapes from death at the hands of the dirty-mustached villain is approached by him as she lies strapped to a railroad track. He inquires: "Nell, dear, why do you fear me?"

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

OLD MAN, if you would allow your wife as much for clothing as other men do their wives, your little woman would be just as attractive.

You are often remarking to her of the beauty, the fragrance and the soft look of the hair as well as the style of women you know.

Don't you know that it costs money for delicate perfumes and perfect grooming and time to rest besides?

You are willing to pay for the gowns she wants, but growl over accessories.

After all the accessories are the biggest part of the expense of women's clothes and add the subtle something you sense with other women, but can't account for.

But your wife knows she wants to look and appear well, but she hesitates, for you don't seem to realize that it necessitates frequent visits to beauty parlors and attention from experts to prescribe and furnish the needful.

She wants to help you save money so that the children may go to college.

Often she refuses to go places with you because she knows she will meet some of these women whose sleek and finished exteriors you admire.

And it hurts her feelings to know that you appreciate good looks and up-to-date appearance and yet do not give her the money and insist that she spend it for beauty treatments and new gowns ensemble.

You don't stint your own personal bills and she knows that too.
